Britons Prepare to Reopen Banks, Shipping and Stores Today

Agitators at Canton Aided by Girls While Soldiers Parade Streets

TOKYO, Jan. 24 —Japan made its first military move in the Chinese situation today. The navy department announced that at 10 a.m. today four destroyers left the Sasebo naval station, thirty miles North of Nagasaki, for China "merely as a precautionary measure."

LONDON, Jan. 23. (AP)—Nothing has developed in the past twenty-four hours in respect to China apparently to cause worry to the British government or accentuate the anxiety of the people. The word from the British Foreign Office tonight was that conversations at Hankow are proceeding normally, but that it would not be wise to speculate on the future.

The government is being well informed by the British Minister, Miles Lampson, but accordingly no definite stage in the Hankow negotiations has yet been reached. In fact the Cabinet ministers appeared to be in doubt whether anything except verbal conversations has been exchanged yet. Hankow evidently is regarded as a test case in the belief that it is necessary to discover how far the Cantonese leader is in a position to redeem his promises.

The ministers consider the military preparations as only precautionary in case things go wrong. Press advices from Hankow confirm the previous announcement that the British banks, merchants and shippers had agreed to reopen for business tomorrow and that they would continue to function so long as they felt secure. It was hoped that this would facilitate the negotiations between Charge O'Malley and the Cantonese Foreign Minister, Eugene Chen.

Aside from military preparations already announced, four battalions of infantry, to be in readiness for embarkation to China and 1000 marines who will sail tomorrow from Portsmouth, Malta reports that two regiments there are being held for service in China, if needed.

WAR-TIME SCENES ENACTED IN LONDON

LONDON, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—War-time scenes were being enacted in London tonight. Military preparations on a large scale were under way at the Catterick Camp in Yorkshire, at the big military center at Aldershot and at Portsmouth.

Reservists called out by yesterday's order of the War Department are hurrying to camp to join the colors. Five battalions now under orders to leave immediately for China were inspected today and farewell services were conducted for them in the churches.

With the 1000 marines who will sail tomorrow from Portsmouth, Great Britain will have a force of nearly 6500 men en route to China or soon as transport facilities are arranged.

GIRL KILLS MOTHER IN ACCIDENT

Didn't Know Revolver Was Loaded When She Pointed It in Play

KENOSHA (Wis.) Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—Playfully pointing a revolver at her mother, Edna Wade, 17 years of age, pulled the trigger and was stunned to hear the report that sent her mother toppling over the chair, dead. She didn't know it was loaded.

Mrs. Rollie Wade, the mother, was seated in the kitchen of their home just before noon today peeling carrots in preparation for the family dinner which was to celebrate her forty-fourth birthday. Her husband had just shown a new .38-caliber revolver which he had purchased and loaded for the first time, to a neighbor. During the conversation the father laid the gun on a table. Edna picked it up and went into the kitchen, where a moment before she was helping her mother prepare the dinner.

Startled by the shot, the rest of the family rushed into the room to find the mother dead on the floor and the daughter standing over her with the smoking gun in her hand, stunned. The girl collapsed and is under the care of a physician, who reports her condition as serious.

Coroner Friend announced that there would be no investigation. "Accidental death" was his verdict.

Heavy Frosts Predicted for All California

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23. (AP)—Almost a State-wide frost is predicted for California tomorrow morning by the United States Weather Bureau, even the interior portions of Southern California being included in the threatening forecast.

Heavy frosts are predicted for the interior portion of Northern California, as well as for the Sacramento, Santa Clara and San Joaquin Valleys. For the San Francisco Bay region a fair day, with light, variable winds is forecast.

Twenty Escape in Break From Oklahoma Jail

TECUMSEH (Okla.) Jan. 23. (AP)—Twenty prisoners escaped from the Pottawatomie County Jail here early today after two men sawed their way to freedom, overpowered the jailer and unlocked the other cells.

Seventeen prisoners refused to leave the jail after freedom had been offered them.

Three of the prisoners were captured late today.

MISS EMMA M. GILLET DIES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP) — The capital's senior woman lawyer, Miss Emma Millinda Gillet, former dean of the Washington College of Law, died here today in her seventy-fifth year. She was admitted to the bar of the District of Columbia Supreme Court in 1883.

TWO OHIO CITIES FLOODED

Families Move to Second Floor as River Covers Lowlands and Invades Business Districts

COLUMBUS (O.) Jan. 23. (AP)—Rising above the flood stage the waters of the Ohio River at Pomeroy and Marietta invaded the business districts of these two cities today.

A fourth of the residential district of Marietta and half the business section was under several feet of water. The inhabitants of Pomeroy were kept on the hilly ground where their homes are located as the water climbed to the stores along the river front. All business in Pomeroy was suspended and movable property carried to higher ground.

Pomeroy homes probably will not be affected even though the fifty-foot flood stage has been passed and the prediction is for a crest of sixty feet. In Marietta, however, 700 families in the lowlands moved up to the second floor of their houses. Belief was expressed that the water would recede without forcing abandonment of any homes in the lowlands. While no estimate was available the damage along the Ohio was expected to be heavy.

Swollen waters of the river at East Liverpool, which have reached thirty-eight feet may hold the fate of an unidentified boy who was believed to have drowned while canoeing. The youth cried for help, but disappeared before anyone could reach him.

Interurban service had been seriously hampered and some roads are impassable. Landslides at East Liverpool have been threatened by the collapse of clay mines. Some families have been driven from their homes in the surrounding sections.

High water caused the government steamer Golden Rod to break loose at Middleport. The boat, valued at $20,000, struck a bridge and sank.

Cincinnati was making preparations tonight to meet serious flood conditions as the Ohio River rose above the flood stage.

ILLINOIS TOWN INCRUSTED WITH SLEET

MARION (Ill.) Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—Following three days of the worst sleet and rain storms in recent years, which reached its climax today, Marion is without electric light or power and is given only limited telephone service.

When wires broke down all over the district under the heavy weight of ice, the streets were littered with broken trees and many valuable apple and peach orchards in Egypt have suffered great losses. The county roads are impassable and rural mail delivery has been practically abandoned.

For three days the output of coal in Williamson county has been curtailed on account of the impossibility of the miners reaching their work.

LOUISVILLE WATER FRONT TIED UP BY FLOOD

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Jan. 23. (AP)—Residents of Louisville's water front were preparing to move tonight after a day spent watching the Ohio River creep to their doorsteps.

Rising steadily, the river reached flood stage of twenty-eight feet in the canal tonight, submerging city wharves and causing considerable damage at the plant of the Louisville Hydroelectric Company, which is building a dam across the river.

Residents of New Albany and Jeffersonville (Ind.) lowlands moved their household effects to higher ground. A tributary creek rose high enough to flood a church at Pewee Valley, Ky.

Shepherdsville had suffered more than any other Kentucky community, said reports reaching here tonight. Salt River there had flooded the main street, practically all business houses were surrounded by water and fifteen families had taken shelter in the Courthouse.

Catlettsburg, Ky., at the junction tonight faced the worst flood in fourteen years. A rise of six feet within the next twelve hours was predicted.

SACASA MAY STEP ASIDE

Offers to Quit in Nicaragua

Says Will Relinquish Rights to Anyone Not Connected With Either Party

Demands Candidate Have Approval of Own People and United States

PUERTO CABEZAS (Nicaragua) Jan. 23. (AP)—Dr. Juan B. Sacasa, head of the Liberal government, who is at war to oust the Diaz Conservative regime, is ready to step aside if a new President is chosen under conditions he outlines.

In a statement to the Associated Press last night he said he would gladly relinquish claims to the Presidency to "anyone affiliated neither with the Conservatives nor the Liberals, and suitable to the Nicaraguan people, chosen at an honest and supervised election, or to anyone chosen through the mediation of the United States and the signatory powers of the Washington pact, with the final approval of the neutral members of the present Congress, or by a new, honestly chosen Congress."

"From the top of the ladder to which I have been called by the voice of the people," Dr. Sacasa concluded, "I shall gladly step down in favor of an honest, capable man selected under these conditions.

WANTS GOOD WILL

"You may tell the world this, for the world knows my interest is unselfish and for Nicaraguan peace and prosperity and the good will of Latin-America and the United States."

Dr. Sacasa received yesterday the text of President Coolidge's recent message to Congress on the Nicaraguan situation. Commenting on it, he again denied that American lives and property had been threatened in Nicaragua.

He also denied that the stability of Central America had been endangered or that the right of the United States to construct a trans-Nicaraguan canal had been jeopardized. He reiterated that the Liberals had not formed an alliance with any other government or, in fact, had any understanding with any power on the globe.

Sacasa said he had not returned to Nicaragua to head a revolution, but rather had returned in answer to the call of the Liberals, banded together to uphold his legal and constitutional claims to the Presidency.

Commenting upon that part of the message pointing out that he had been in Mexico, Sacasa said he was there a few days and passed through the formality of paying his respects in his capacity of Constitutional President of Nicaragua to President Calles. He negotiated nothing and attempted nothing not even an understanding, he contended.

WASHINGTON VISIT

The message failed to mention, he said, that he had remained in Washington communicating with the States Department in the interest of Nicaraguan peace, stabilization and recognition until he was told by Secretary Kellogg that in view of the fact that the Nicaraguan Legation in Washington was unrecognized territory at that time, Sacasa's claim was recognizable only on Nicaraguan soil. Therefore he had returned here to claim the Presidency on the ground that he was the Constitutional Vice-President, and the President was absent from the country, having been overthrown by force.

He had informed the State Department both previously and during his stay in Washington that he had left Nicaragua only because he was persecuted, threatened and pursued by the Conservatives, who were trying to force his resignation from office.

REFUSAL EXPLAINED

Referring to the charge in the message that he had refused to attend the Corinto peace conference, Sacasa explained that he had refused because he was invited as a revolutionist and not as the recognized Vice-President of Nicaragua.

The Liberal President said he did not object to the establishment of neutral zones in Nicaragua by the American naval forces whenever it was done for the protection of American and foreign lives and interests, but he protested against the establishment of such zones whenever the Liberals are winning or about to win in their warfare against the Conservatives as they impeded communication and the provisioning and arming of Liberal troops.

Sacasa emphatically asserted that the Liberals were not responsible for the outbreak of fighting in Nicaragua. They submitted just proposals, all of which Diaz had refused.

MANY WARNINGS GIVEN GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—With the Congressional resolution still over the week-end, contributions to the Nicaraguan-Mexican controversy came today from the American Federation of Labor, the Federal Council of Churches and a group of 100 professors of international law in American colleges.

Writing in the American Federationist, William Green, president of the labor organization, said American labor hoped the United States would "not play the part of an imperialist autocrat in its relations with Latin American countries, but will prove itself to be, by practice and precept, an advocate and proponent of the ideals of self-government and democratic freedom."

A statement to church people, issued by the administrative committee of the Federal Council of Churches said the present difficulties in Nicaragua and Mexico "should lead our government to formulate a clear policy for our future relations with the peoples and governments of Latin America."

FERDINAND WINS BATTLE TO GIVE CAROL THRONE

Abdication Expected in Few Weeks; Routing of Dictator Bratiano to Strip Marie of Power

PARIS, Jan. 23. (AP)—King Ferdinand of Rumania, it is stated in reports reaching Rumanian circles here, has won his fight for the political and dynastic domination of his own kingdom, and it is virtually certain that his son, Prince Carol, will succeed him on the throne in a few weeks.

Ferdinand, it is stated, will abdicate in order to proceed to France to wage a battle for his life against the disease which has been undermining his health for years.

WILL RETURN TO WIFE

Meanwhile, it is regarded as assured that Carol and his wife, Princess Helen, from whom he has been estranged for more than a year, will be reconciled somewhere in Italy.

All this means, it is said, the removal of former Premier J. J. C. Bratiano as invisible dictator of Rumania and elimination of Queen Marie as a power in royal and political councils of the country.

The reports reaching Rumanian circles in Paris say these results were attained at conferences held in Bucharest Saturday and Sunday between Premiers Averescu and Bratiano.

YOUNG MEN TO RULE

Ferdinand—it is widely known in Bucharest—signed the decree announcing Prince Carol's renunciation of the throne against his will. He has been insisting that his son return home and succeed him ever since he came back to his capital from his last trip to France in October.

The formation of a government of national concentration, a pet scheme of Bratiano's, is reported to have been abandoned and a strong political group, the nucleus of which would be the National Peasants' party—seventy-eight Deputies, mostly young men, headed by Prof. Nicolas Jorga—is slated to take charge of Rumanian affairs when Carol assumes the royal duties. This group is not hostile to the Liberals. On the contrary, they are seeking Liberal cooperation, but it is understood Prince Carol's ultimatum is that "if Carol returns, Bratiano must go."

PRINCE CAROL'S WIFE ARRIVES IN ITALY

ROME, Jan. 23. (AP)—Princess Helen of Rumania, wife of former Crown Prince Carol, arrived in Rome today from Rapallo with her 5-year-old son, Prince Michael. She will remain for a few days as the guest of Queen Helena at the Quirinal Palace, while former King George of Greece and Princess Elizabeth of Greece (sister of Carol) are guests of Prince Philip of Hesse and his wife, Princess Mafalda at the Villa Savoia, the private residence of the Italian sovereigns.

Wednesday Princess Helen will return to Rapallo, where she will leave her son for the winter months. She will then return direct to Rumania, it is announced. Nothing is known here regarding the reported intention of Prince Carol to meet her, or make any arrangement for his own return to Rumania.

MYSTERY OF STYX LURES SCHOOL BOY

Student Succeeds in Plan "To Get on Life's Other Side," to Solve Puzzle

MADISON (Wis.) Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—W. Cassels Noe, 20 years of age, prominent University of Wisconsin student, started a delayed voyage into the great beyond here today by shooting himself through the head with a 38 caliber revolver.

The youth declared in a note left for Robert Horton, a junior at the university, that he wanted to get on the other side of life to see what it was like, and promised to communicate with his friends if possible.

With his decision made to see what lies beyond the grave, Noe apparently went leisurely about planning his debut into the next world. He would have departed last Thursday, but his father's gun refused to work, and so he postponed his destruction until today, when he borrowed a revolver and shot himself through the head while his parents were at church.

Coroner Campbell declared that he had been informed by student friends of Noe that two other suicides on the campus would be likely if the story of Noe's actions appeared in the newspapers. The students did not amplify these remarks.

Brothers Die in Fire at Bay City Latin Quarter

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23. (AP)—Two men were burned to death tonight in a fire which swept through the upper stories of a large wood tenement in the Latin quarter. They were trapped in their flat on the top story. The bodies were recovered.

Police identified the men as Guiseppe Orteiza, 66 years of age, and Vincente Orteiza, 64 brothers. The Vincente Orteiza, 64, brothers.

Fire officials said the flames apparently started in one of the flats on the top story of the structure, which they described as one of the largest flat buildings in San Francisco. It is situated at 1200 Leavenworth street.

Couple Wed in Speeding Plane at Bakersfield

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 23. (AP)—Ward (Happy) Davis, vice-president of the Kern County Air Line, and Miss Betty Noel of San Francisco, secretary of the same company, were married in a speeding airplane high above the Kern Airport today. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace T. A. Baker.

Five planes filled with friends of the bridal couple formed a wedding procession behind the plane in which the ceremony was performed. R. H. Martin piloted the marriage plane. A crowd estimated at 1000 watched the ceremony.

Raging Storms With Wind and Snows in Italy

ROME, Jan. 23. (AP)—Italy has been swept by furious storms. Heavy snow, accompanied by high winds, is falling in central and northern parts of the country, particularly west and south of Venice, where telegraphic and telephonic communications have been interrupted.

A tempest of cyclonic proportions is hampering shipping of Sicily and in the Adriatic. The storm wrecked the steeple of a church at Lecce.

Buenos Aires Suffers With 95-Degree Heat

BAY DISTRICT POLICE RAID BURGLAR GANG

OAKLAND, Jan. 23. (AP)—Contra Costa county officers today announced the breaking up of an East Bay burglary ring, arrest of a former Oakland policeman as leader of the gang, capture of two asserted accomplices and recovery of $3000 worth of stolen goods. Police believed the men responsible for a series of burglaries in the Walnut Creek district in the last six months.

Love Plea Fails to Open Doors at San Quentin

SAN QUENTIN, Jan. 23. (AP)—Despite the impassioned plea of his fiancee, Damascus Gallur, picturesque music composer and convict, must continue his duties as band leader inside the walls at San Quentin prison.

Gallur appeared before the State Board of Prison Directors yesterday after Frank J. Smith, prison warden, had received a letter from Miss Louise Courtenay Westcott of Santa Rosa urging the warden to assist the band leader in getting a parole so he and Miss Westcott might be married.

But the prison directors decided that she must live without him while Gallur served more time on a life sentence for killing L. B. Hotchkiss, Oakland money lender, thirteen years ago.

American Girl Scores Again in Opera at Paris

PARIS, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—Mary MacCormick, first American girl to receive a contract at the Paris Grand Opera in thirty years, scored another success before a critical Parisian audience which packed the famous theater this afternoon to hear Massenets Herodiade.

She chose the difficult role of Salome on the eve of her departure for the United States for a two months' concert tour, and judging from the amount of applause the American singer is very acceptable to French operagoers.

ing touches on their preparations for departure. The soldiers went about their work as calmly as though they were preparing for a big parade.

Earl Fortescue, Lord Lieutenant of Devon county, and Gen. Sir Louis Bols inspected the First Devonshire Regiment at Aldershot this morning. They also presided at a special farewell service at the garrison church, which was attended by hundreds of old comrades and former members of the regiment.

After the service the Earl addressed the men, wishing them godspeed and saying that they were leaving for China on short notice to protect their countrymen—possibly with garrison duty. Gen. Walter, on behalf of the ol. membe~ of the regiment, wished the battalion good luck and urged them to maintain the regiment's traditions.

CANTONESE CENSORS EFFECT TIE-UP OF NEWS

SHANGHAI, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—The intolerable censorship at Hankow, which is held by the Cantonese Nationalists, has made necessary a special journey to Shanghai to explain the difficulties of transmitting accurate news of the military and political situations.

Although the platform of the Nationalist party includes the freedom of speech and freedom of the press, the censorship being applied assumes three forms.

The first is the deliberate withholding of messages one or two days until telegrams from the Nationalist news agency, which are chiefly propaganda, obtain circulation.

The second is the elision of anything unfavorable to the nationals or their Bolshevik advisers, and the third is the actual substitution of words or sentences, completely changing the meaning of the dispatches. This was proved in Reuter News Service and other telegrams dispatched to Shanghai, but it is impossible to compare cablegrams sent to foreign countries.

SOVIET DOMINATION

These facts seem to be established: The military and political departments are completely dominated by Soviet Russia; the Nationalist government is split between moderates and radicals, with the latter in the majority; the army is becoming in arrears in the pay, hence the slowing of the operations, and Nationalist Foreign Minister Eugene Chen's pledges are valueless because the radicals are in control.

During the total suspension of British business, which ends Monday, 180 British males were concentrated under strict military discipline, under the order of Admiral Cameron, for the sole purpose of averting possible clashes with the Chinese, and also because Admiral Cameron and Counsellor O'Malley were unable to accept Foreign Minister Chen's pledge, as the moderates are unable to restrain the radical element, directly controlled by the Bolsheviks, who wish an encounter between the races, possibly with a view to intervention through Mongolia and Manchuria on behalf of the Nationalists.

The British realize that with the imminent Chinese New Year settlement business will be completely at a standstill without the reopening of the banks, and while agreeing to reopen Monday at the request of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce in order to permit the normal flow of business, the British and other foreigners are not convinced that the moderates will be able to insure protection.

Unquestionably the Nationalist plans contemplate the taking over of all the concessions under single Chinese control. The British, French and Japanese realize the impossibility of defending the concessions with the present forces, since such action completely cuts off all the foreigners above Shanghai. The foreign policies seek to save lives, hence they are willing to make the utmost sacrifices, short of total surrender.

YOUNG GIRLS JOIN BANKS OF AGITATORS

HONGKONG, Jan. 23. (AP)—Young Chinese girls joined the ranks of antiforeign agitators at Canton on Saturday, when they addressed street crowds, while small bands of soldiers, displaying banners in opposition to foreigners, paraded through the city.

The speeches and parading were outward manifestations of a marked change in demeanor on the part of the Chinese. Soldiers of the Nationalist army visited the customs house and harangued the employees in the examination shed. Gates at the entrance to the customs house were locked and soldiers then left the shed.

A regiment of Indian soldiers was held in readiness here today for departure for the disturbed Northern China area during the afternoon.

ADVANCE OF SUN FORCE MEETS CHECK

PEKING, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—The Cantonese have checked the advance of Sun Chuan Fang, one of the northern allies in the Province of Chekiang, at Lanchi, 100 miles south of Hangchow. While the reverse is not serious, it is causing uneasiness at Shanghai, where tranquility depends chiefly on knowledge that Sun Chuan-Fang's military position is unimpaired.

No official conversations have been conducted here on the subject of the concessions, but whatever British Counselor of Legation O'Malley offers at Hankow will certainly be offered here. It is recognized that important points may be conceded to the Chinese without materially impairing British interests in China, but it is feared by the British here that unless firmness is shown the Cantonese may force more sweeping concessions than now considered practicable.

ready indorsed in principle by both the United States and Mexico, was urged in a statement issued by the professors of international law, headed by Joseph P. Chamberlain of Columbia University.

"The questions at issue are appropriate for settlement by the judicial method," said the professor's appeal. "Protracted delay is dangerous. The property questions which are at the base of the differences may become obscured. The issue may become one of national pride and sentiment; feeling may be aroused which will make impossible the judicial settlement now practicable."

Signers of the petition included professors in colleges and universities, among them Harvard, Columbia, Yale, Princeton California, Michigan, Cornell, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

MEXICO MASS MEETING SCORES AMERICAN POLICIES

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 26. (AP)—"American Imperialism" was the dominating note at a mass meeting which crowded one of the largest theaters in Mexico City today. The meeting was held under auspices of "the Union of Central and South America and the Antilles," a society of Latin-Americans, other than Mexicans, resident in Mexico City. A considerable percentage of the members are Nicaraguans, supporting Dr. Sacasa.

"The invasion of Nicaragua," was another text serving for a general denunciation of the United States by the speakers. The Nicaraguan and Mexican policies of President Coolidge and Secretary of State Kellogg were sharply criticised, as well as ex-President Woodrow Wilson's attitude toward Mexico.

In fact, the orators took occasion to speak severely of the Latin-American policies of every United States government up to the present.

Pamphlets of "the Anti-Imperialistic League of the Americas," were distributed. They set forth that leagues were being organized in every Latin-American country, which were actively working for "the political and economic emancipation of Latin-America against Yankee Imperialism."

The principal speakers were Herman Robleto, Undersecretary of Education in the Sacasa Cabinet; Luis Sanches Ponton, Mexico City attorney, and Isidro Fabela, former Mexican diplomat. Each speaker dwelt on "the invasion by the United States of Nicaragua," and "the menaces to Mexico and the peril to all the countries of Latin-America by such policies."

The United States government was pictured as merely a big business concern, with the President and Secretary of State only the managers of the business, accepting orders from Wall street and wealthy interests. It was declared the Monroe Doctrine was twisted by the United States government to suit its purposes; that it meant one thing today, and another tomorrow.

Senor Fabela declared that the future of Mexico did not depend on United States money; what Mexico most needed was to cultivate British and European investors.

SACASA REI RESENTATIVE GETS NEWS OF VICTORY

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 23. (AP)—Pedro Zepeda, who represents Dr. Juan Sacasa, head of the Nicaraguan Liberals in Mexico City, announced today that he had received advices that the Liberals had captured the town of Matagalpa, an important point in the northern section of Nicaragua. The Liberals took a large number of prisoners, as well as war equipment and supplies.

The town of Leon, on the Pacific Coast, and connected with the Port of Corinto, Senor Zepeda announces, has risen in revolt against the Conservative President Adolfo Diaz, thereby strengthening Sacasa's forces.

The Liberals are reported by Zepeda as having defeated Diaz forces at Santa Clara, killing C.l. Cruz, in command of the Conservatives and capturing a number of prisoners.

LATIMER DEPARTS FOR WEST COAST INSPECTION

PANAMA, Jan. 23. (AP)—Rear-Admiral Julian Latimer, who commands American naval operations around Nicaragua, declared today that since everything was quiet on the east coast of Nicaragua he was taking advantage of the situation to see what was going on on the west coast.

On his way to Corinto by way of the Panama Canal, the admiral insisted there was no special significance in his plans.

"I have not seen any fighting along Nicaragua's east coast since my return there on Christmas," he said. "I was ashore twice for brief periods. My only concerns are the protection of Americans and foreigners in Nicaragua."

The submarine tender Argonne cleared from Balboa for Corinto yesterday afternoon with 325 American marines, who will replace the detachment landed by the cruiser Galveston for duty as guard of the American Legation in Managua. The marines now in Managua will return to the Galveston.

SWEDEN GOOD BUYER

Country Takes Large Quantities of California Products

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—"Sweden has the largest buying power of any country in Europe today and is furnishing an ever-increasing market for California food products," says Thormod O. Klath, American commercial attache at Stockholm. "Canned, dried and preserved fruits and vegetables and canned salmon find a ready market in Sweden. It also buys fresh apples from the northwest and may take a quantity of California pears.

"The Swedish working man is the best paid in Europe.

"Imports of that country are greater than Italy and Spain combined, with only one-seventh the population."

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH

DINUBA, Jan. 23. (AP)—Mrs. Anna Packer, about 70 years of age, was burned to death today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred M. Powell, when her clothing caught fire from a small oil heater. She was alone in the home at the time.

DON "FIFI" PREENS IN PUBLIC

America Has Her "Cake Eaters" and France Her "Gigolo" but They Shine Not So Splendidly as This Mexican Beau Brummel de Luxe

BY JACK STARR-HUNT

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 23. (Exclusive) The United States has its "cake-eater" and "lounge lizard," France has her "Gigolo" and Mexico has her "Fifi."

The "Fifi" is the offspring of his American and French brothers and he has contrived to best both of them. His clothing is outrageous and his manner worse. Best known in the national capital, his favorite haunt is in front of Sanborn's Drug Store and Restaurant—"La Casa de Azulejos" (The House of Tiles,) or anywhere along the Avenida Francisco I. Madero, which is the most fashionable thoroughfare in Mexico City.

Here he stands with tight-fitting suit, immaculate white spats, wing collar, bow tie, hat with flaming band, gloves held in one hand together with an immense cane. From his upper coat pocket flows a dazzling handkerchief, and on his wrist is a magnificent gold wristwatch. On his upper lip is the semblance of a mustache.

HE'S IRRESISTIBLE

His favorite occupation is doing nothing, and at this he is a consummate master. He knows he's simply a devil with the ladies—absolutely irresistible.

Now the "Fifi" has burst into print. A newspaper of Mexico City has carried an article all about him on its editorial page. Here's the article:

"The 'Fifi,' that is to say, the carnavel with human form, is not new. He is as old as the world. If his traditional form has been lost it is owing to the fact that in him the curiosity of the eternal lacks significance, and science and history concern him not at all. But because of all this his philosophy of life does not fail to hold a deep significance. On the contrary! In this roguish world, where there are many tears and much darkness and sadness, a living and speaking caramel is necessary, a doll who makes us believe that we, those who live and think, have no soul, and that the universe is in its entirety a stage full of puppets, a Sanchez Panza waiting for a fanatic Don Quixote.

"When I meet one of these lads with his painted finger-nails, his Charleston sweater and socks done in the same manner, a dazzling creature in his quiet splendor—such as you see on the Avenida Francisco I. Madero—I suffer the unutterable. It is a silent envy of his happiness that fills me.

"He passes, quite indifferent to the hours, like a deity of a jar of preserves that has gained liberation, and that offers itself, perhaps without wanting it, to the rose-colored appetite of feminine lips. When the 'elegant hour' comes around the ceremony of clothes and of vanity (the reference is to the custom in Mexico City of promenading—or preferably riding in one's automobile—along the Avenida Madero between 1 and 2 p.m. daily,) he seeks his pedestal; an ancient door of a colonial palace, which serves him as a sanctuary and as a stamping ground a place made sacred with high usages, where the individual gains, through simple contact, something of the mysterious and of the divine.

LITTLE CONVERSATION

"Conversation is not an important thing; on the contrary; for the Fifi does not live in order to express himself. He lives only in order to teach himself. In saying that he is a model that is enough.

"Do you think that I am ridiculing? Not at all. I am applauding.

"In love, the Fifi is the insuperable type: he does not feel it—he uses it, and he always will use it unoccupied person who cleans his fingernails while leaning against a balcony.

"Very well done. The poor little girl, who flees from dislike with a feline instinct, may cry a little only a little for fear of the rouge on her face, and forgets also. Because to him the tranquil placidity of the cry is a little elegant.

"When night comes, the Fifi goes to the cabaret, dances his share, drinks two glasses—three would damage him—and retires in his satisfaction. That fat gentleman who always occupies the same table has asked him in a moment of confidence:

"'Who is your tailor?'

"A triumph! And he goes home, undresses slowly, winds his worked-gold watch carefully lays out his trousers, smokes a cigarette and turns out the light. Now he crosses himself, and with a simple faith that has almost disappeared, says into the darkness after a yawn:

"'Our Father, who art in Heaven, I ask you for that precious automobile that I saw today at the dealer's in Avenida Juarez. It's so very pretty!'"

MONTANAN'S NERVE FOILS DEATH TRAP

Youth's Cool Head Saves Him When Plunged in 80 Feet of Icy Water

WHITEFISH (Mont.) Jan. 23. (AP) Locked in a sedan eighty feet under water Oscar Haines, 21 years of age, of this city, today fought a brief skirmish with death and emerged with a broken hand and badly lacerated head to show for his victory. Haines, with bursting lungs, hammered his way through a window and struggled to the surface of icy Whitefish Lake and swam to safety.

In the car with Haines were Harold Dillon, 17, and Jess Whitney. The automobile crashed through the ice. Whitney, in the front seat, got free first as the machine was going down. Dillon, in the rear seat, also managed to escape, but the force of the chilly waters slammed the doors shut before Haines could follow.

When the car went through it had in tow Bud McClench and Jack Robertson on sleds, who cut the rope when they saw what had happened and escaped with only a wetting. All three of those in the automobile were expert swimmers.

Hope Expressed for Revision of Postal Rates

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—Hope that the Senate will take action on the postal rate revision bill recently reported by the Postoffice Committee was expressed today by J. D. Barnum of Syracuse, N. Y., chairman of the Postal Committee of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

Barnum asserted that the restoration of the 1920 second-class rates proposed in the bill would result in a far greater use of postal facilities by newspaper publishers "with resulting benefits both to the public and the department."

TOO MANY LAWS, STATES BORAH

change's sake, this haphazard floundering in legislative affairs, is nowhere and in no way more pronounced than in the gradual, but certain destruction of the States and centering of all governmental power in Washington.

"In this irresponsible vandalism, the principles of Hamilton and the apostles of Jefferson join hands. No political party in Washington seems willing to stand against this subtle revolution, against this un-American, undemocratic program."

BERKELEY GAINS

BERKELEY, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—Berkeley has increased 7 per cent in population in the past year, according to figures issued by the East Bay Water Company based on the installation of new water meters for the period. Officials of the company place the population at 88,292, compared with the 82,304 population estimated a year ago.

Government employees of Austria are to receive salary increases.

Highest Hand in Rail Fight Held by Rockefeller

NEW YORK, Jan. 23. (AP)—John D. Rockefeller, Sr., is the central figure in a battle among eastern railroad systems for acquisition of the Wheeling Lake Erie and Western Maryland Railroads, two short lines of vast importance in the rou~ing out of consolidation schemes, says the New York Times. Mr. Rockefeller controls both lines, the Times says, through possession of the stock of the Wheeling Lake Erie and of the majority of the common shares, acquired from the late George Jay Gould, in the Western Maryland.

Sensational advances in the shares of the two roads on the stock market last week gave Mr. Rockefeller a paper profit of $8,000,000 above the par value of the stock of the Wheeling Lake Erie alone, over which control is so complete that nothing could be done toward acquiring it without purchase of its holdings. Railroad interests reported to be considering acquisition of the two roads are the Van Sweringens, the New York Central and L. F. Loree.

The Times says Mr. Rockefeller thus far has asked too high a figure to clinch the deal.

Family Quarrel Ends in Death of Navy Officer

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 23. (AP)—Michael Blymire, chief petty officer on the U.S.S. Altair, died this evening from a pistol wound which he declared was self-inflicted after a quarrel with his wife in their apartment following her return from Tia Juana with neighbors, man and wife.

In her statement to the police Mrs. Blymire said her husband had forbidden her to go to Tia Juana but that she accompanied the neighbor couple there this morning while he was on duty. He returned to the apartment before she did and smelled liquor on her breath when he kissed her.

She said this angered him so that he went out declaring that he would find the neighbors who took her to the border town, but soon came back, went to a dresser where her pistol was, got it and shot himself in the stomach.

Garibaldi May Go to Live in South America

PARIS, Jan. 23. (AP) — Capt. Ricciotti Garibaldi, convicted with seventeen others yesterday of possessing arms illegally, is likely to choose a South American country as his future residence, close friends of the grandson of the Italian patriot informed the Associated Press today.

Garibaldi's sentence of two months in jail, which already had been more than served by his long incarceration, carried a provision that he must leave France within three days. The decree of expulsion against Col. Maccia and the other Catalonian conspirators, granted them thirty days' delay, but it specifically stated Garibaldi must be outside the French frontiers, before Tuesday, the 25th inst.

All the prisoners were released last night, their preventive detention in every case having been longer than their jail sentences.

NATIONS' LEAGUE ON PACIFIC SEEN

Founder of Present Union Has Faith in Future

Many Successful Conferences Conducted

Question of Food Supply One Parley Topic

TOKIO, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—That the scope of usefulness and value of the Pan-Pacific Union has now reached the stage of a Pan-Pacific League of Nations, a stage prophesied for it by such eminent personages as Henry Cabot Lodge and Franklin K. Lane, is an article of faith today with Alexander Hume Ford, originator of the Pan-Pacific Union.

Mr. Ford, who is in Japan, talks with pride of the great oak that has grown from the little acorn he put into the ground. His features light up as he muses in retrospection and then, coming to the present, sees the Pan-Pacific Union broaden and grow until today—to use his own words—it assumes some of the aspects of a friendly unofficial Pan-Pacific League of Nations.

The Pan-Pacific Union, Mr. Ford points out, did not content itself with the exchange of pretty sentiment alone. On the contrary, whenever it was deemed proper to do so, it has conducted a number of successful conferences, scientific, educational, journalistic, commercial and most important of all, a conference on the conservation of food and food products in the Pacific area.

IMPORTANT CONFERENCE

This last conference Mr. Ford regards as the most important of all "because," declares Mr. Ford, "the Pacific regions, from now on, must insure the world against the horrors of food shortage and its inevitable conclusion." Thus, while the League of Nations makes treaties to avoid war, Alexander Hume Ford and his associates have gone further and better, for the conservation of food supplies is better far than treaties with the noble endeavor to prevent man from raising his hand to shed the blood of his fellow-man.

Then, there is the study of race problems, in a broad, sympathetic manner that is the great feature of the Pan-Pacific Union. Mr. Ford believes that this will result in bringing the nations bordering the broad Pacific so close that nothing but an unforeseen calamity or sheer insanity, could cause discord.

Special stress is laid by Mr. Ford on the fact that the Pan-Pacific Union—the precursor of a "Pan-Pacific League of Nations" is in no way the agency of any government and, ipso facto, can steer clear of political crochets.

AIMS ANNOUNCED

Mr. Ford summed up for the correspondent the principal aims of the Pan-Pacific Union, aims that, if followed will make this new year of grace and subsequent ones happy and beneficial for all mankind. The aims are:

"To bring together in round-table discussion, in every Pacific land, those of all races resident therein who desire to bring about a better understanding and co-operative effort among the peoples and races of the Pacific for their common advancement materia. and spiritual.

"To bring all nations and peoples about the Pacific Ocean into closer friendly commercial contact and relationship. To aid and assist those in all Pacific communities to understand each other better, and, through them, spread abroad throughout the Pacific the friendly spirit of interracial co-operation."

Lad Kills Child Who Wanted to Play With Gang

OAKLAND, Jan. 23. (Exclusive) Determination of responsibility for the pathetic shooting of Lucas Jimenes, 10-year-old Hayward lad who met death Saturday while playing with "the gang," was passed by police to the Coroner today and an inquest ordered for tomorrow.

Jimenes was shot and killed by Manuel Pavao, 18-year-old leader of the boys. Lucas, only 10, was considered a bother by the other boys and Manuel told him to go home. Lucas refused. Manuel pointed a small calibre rifle at him, intending to scare him. A shot was fired and the bullet struck Lucas in the temple. He died as physicians were operating.

Manuel freely admits he fired the shot but maintains the shooting was unintentional.

CONFERENCE ON GRAZING DUE TODAY

Secretary Jardine Meets Cattle and Sheep Raisers on Public Domain Fees

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 23. (AP) That a compromise will be reached between the live-stock interests and the government in the matter of grazing fees and regulation of use of the nations' forests and other public domain at the conference to be held here tomorrow, was forecast by both sides this afternoon. W. M. Jardine, Secretary of Agriculture, will attend the meeting and will outline the position of the government in an informal talk, when the conference opens. He is expected to arrive tomorrow morning. The Secretary spent today visiting a sister ad Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Meanwhile more than 250 live-stock men, some of whom attended the convention of the National Wool Growers' Association at Butte, Mont., were outlining their plan of procedure at tomorrow's meeting at a hotel, which will be headquarters for the conference and also the National Livestock Men's Association convention, which opens Tuesday.

At this conference a committee was named to set forth the position of the cattle and sheep men and many of the leading men of both industries expressed themselves as to the position the two industries should take.

Smith Confers With Aides on Senate Defeat

CHICAGO, Jan. 23. (AP)—Frank L. Smith, Senator-designate from Illinois, whose credentials were rejected last week by the United States Senate, arrived here from Washington today and immediately went into conference with his advisers to discuss another appearance in the capital.

He conferred with Oscar Carlstrom, Attorney-General for Illinois, and several others, none of whom offered any comment at the close of the meeting. During the day he also visited an ear specialist who gave him relief from ear trouble with which he had suffered while in Washington. It was said an operation might be necessary.

Col. Smith expected to go to his home at Dwight, Ill., for a few days and return to Washington about the middle of the week with Carlstrom and other supporters.

Famed Builder of Bridges Dies at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 23. (AP)—John Francis Anderson, internationally known as a civil engineer and bridge builder, died at his home here today at the age of 79.

He was born in Sweden and began work in this country as a laborer on Union Pacific bridge work. He superintended tunneling under the Hudson River and built bridges in Venezuela, Australia and England, in addition to Mississippi and Ohio River bridges in this country. Two brothers in Sweden are his immediate survivors. The burial will be here.

RECLUSE OF ARIZONA BELIEVED MURDERED

TUCSON (Ariz.) Jan. 23. (Exclusive) A bloodstained wrench found in the stables of a small ranch home in the desert near Tucson is the major clew on which authorities are basing their search for the body of A. J. Mathis, 60 years of age, recluse rancher reputed to be wealthy, who has been missing since early last week. In the meantime the peace officers of Arizona and California have been asked to aid in the search for Mrs. Eva Dugan, 47, erstwhile housekeeper of Mathis, who disappeared with an unidentified young man shortly after the rancher was last seen.

...NGRESS WILL PASS UP MANY MAJOR PROBLEMS

...orado River Action, Prohibition and Many Other Issues Will be Left for Next December

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—Most of the major problems which faced the Sixty-ninth Congress two years ago will be carried along to the Seventieth Congress which begins its regular session next December. These include farm relief, disposition of Muscle Shoals, development of the Colorado River, strengthening of the prohibition law, return of alien property, coal control legislation, railroad consolidation and settlement of the French debt.

...DITION DOOMED

...olution proposals, advanced ...Coolidge and House ...ers, but in widely different ...ds are deemed, although the ...se of the House will make a ...ort tomorrow to start in mo- ...ments to lop off $335,000,000 ...annual tax burden. ...passage of the annual ap- ...tion bills and the $71,000,000 ...rivers and harbors bill, this Congress will have accomplished very little at this, its final and short session. That is in accord with an unannounced program of the Republican leaders.

The Senate has rejected the Lausanne Treaty to re-establish diplomatic and commercial relations with Turkey, and has buried in the Foreign Relations Committee the chemical-warfare gas treaty, negotiated at Geneva. Besides considering these matters and the regular supply bills, the Senate has devoted much time to discussion of the Mexican-Nicaraguan situations, the seating of Frank L. Smith of Illinois, and rowing over residential nominations.

During its two sessions, this Congress has passed a $265,000,000 tax-reduction bill, ratified the Italian, Belgian and some lesser war-debt settlements, enacted a measure designed to maintain industrial peace in the railroad world, and provided methods designed to promote aviation, both commercially and for war purposes.

During the coming week the House, after disposing of the move for tax reduction, will consider further instructores to its conferees on the branch-banking bill and then consider more of the appropriation measures.

After disposing tomorrow of the nomination of Cyrus E. Woods to be an inter-State commerce commissioner, the Senate will resume consideration of the $320,000,000 naval appropriation bill with its provision for beginning work on three additional scout cruisers, rejected by the House and disapproved by President Coolidge.

The Mexican-Nicaraguan situation also will absorb some time of the Senate, which has before it the Robinson resolution for arbitration of the oil and land disputes with Mexico.

LEADERS LINE UP FOR FARM RELIEF FIGHT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—Preliminary barriers successfully overcome, leaders seeking relief for the farmer along ideas set forth in the McNary-Haugen bill were prepared tonight for the final stages in this session of a three-year-old battle, aware that further obstacles beset their path.

In the House the Rules Committee was prepared to hear Chairman Haugen of the Agriculture Committee and other farm leaders make a plea for speedy consideration on the floor, while further discussion on the Senate floor was looked for soon afterward.

Although a dozen or more measures have been advanced to improve farm conditions, the two chief contenders for remedial legislation are the McNary-Haugen and the Curtis-Crisp bills. The former has the equalization fee to control crop surpluses and because the other bill omits this feature, it has rallied to its support virtually all of that group which considers the fee a tax and unconstitutional.

Cheered by success in committee, the McNary-Haugen advocates began laying plans for its fight to retain the equalization fee with full appreciation that the attacks made upon it in committee would be resumed on the floors.

There was a disposition among some leaders, however, to believe that additional support for the McNary-Haugen bill would develop next week from the willingness of a number of Middle Western members to support the West's plan for a power dam in Boulder Canyon in return for assistance in enacting the McNary-Haugen measure.

While proponents of the relief bill which already has approval of the Senate Agriculture Committee and a majority of the same committee in the House will fight for the equalization fee, there was no indication that this year they would not accept the bill should the fee be eliminated. Some of them who hold the fee to be a vital part of successful relief legislation, appear willing that the plan be at least set in motion without the fee with the possibility that it may be included later.

DEMOCRATS TO PLAY LAST TRUMP ON TAX BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—House Democrats will play their last trump card tomorrow in an effort to obtain action on the $335,000,000 Garner tax reduction bill.

Representative Garrett of Tennessee, the minority leader, plans to take the floor as soon as the House convenes to initiate a move to take the measure from the Ways and Means Committee, where it has been tabled by Republican members.

The parliamentary procedure he proposes to invoke is rusty from lack of use and can be made operative only by the signatures of a majority of the House—218 members. This means the Democrats must obtain the support of nearly three-dozen Republicans.

After setting forth Democratic reasons for advocating tax reduction this session, it will be in order for Garrett to place upon the Speaker's table the petition to take the bill from committee. Should the required number of signatures be obtained, the committee must act on the bill within fifteen days or it would be in order to call it upon the floor.

PRESIDENT APPROVES MATERNITY ACT EXTENSION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—The bill to extend for another two years the Sheppard-Towner Maternity Act was signed by President Coolidge.

The bill would authorize a continuation of the co-operation with States of the Federal government in carrying out provisions of the Maternity Act until July 1, 1929.

The measure approved by the President was passed finally by the Senate after an eight-day deadlock, and then only after its sponsors had accepted an amendment which practically calls for repeal of the maternity law in 1929.

BRANCH BANKING BEFORE HOUSE TODAY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—The House will be called upon tomorrow to decide its future position on the branch banking amendments of the McFadden bank bill.

The measure passed both House and Senate last session and has been in conference ever since, the conferees having been unable to agree on the Hull amendments in the House bill.

While the measure would extend branch banking to national banks in States granting this privilege to State banks, the Hull amendments would limit the provisions to national banks in only those States now permitting the practice.

Should present nonbranch banking States in the future grant the privilege to State banks, national banks would be barred from participating.

The Senate has refused to accept the Hull provisos and House conferees will ask for further instructions.

WATER PROJECT TO BE REVIEWED

State Engineer to Describe $334,000,000 Plan

Would Use Sacramento River Surplus in San Joaquin

Congress Action Awaited on Colorado Agreement

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23. (AP)—Although the legislative recess has begun and the California Senate and Assembly will not meet again until February 28, Sacramento will share with Washington this week the close attention of those who hope for an early solution of the commonwealth's great problem of water conservation.

In the national capital the House of Representative Rules Committee is expected to meet on Wednesday to decide whether the House shall vote on the Swing-Johnson Boulder dam bill this session. In Sacramento on the same day a joint legislative committee headed by State Senator Garrison of Modesto, will question the State engineer, Paul Bailey, on his co-ordinated State-wide plan for utilization of California's water resources.

The Sacramento hearing will be open to the public and representatives of irrigation, drainage and other interests will have opportunity to hear Bailey's detailed description of the $334,000,000 project, which contemplates transfer of surplus waters from the Sacramento Valley to bolster up the dwindling supply in the lower San Joaquin Valley.

Among the approximately 2000 measures introduced during the first half of the legislative session and now in the hands of the State printer for early distribution to those who plan to study them during the recess, are a bill by State Senator Swing of San Bernardino providing for unconditional ratification of the Colorado River compact, and two constitutional amendments calling for a restatement and clarification of the basic law of California with respect to riparian water rights.

Swing's unconditional ratification bill will lie dormant during the recess, awaiting the action of Congress on the Boulder dam bill. If the latter passes and is signed by the President, the ratification bill will be called up for immediate action when the Legislature reconvenes, in conformity with Gov. Young's promise that the pact will be ratified by California without condition just as soon as a high dam on the Colorado is assured.

The legislative committee hearing beginning here Wednesday is scheduled to continue through Thursday and is but the beginning of a season of intensive study of water conservation problems by members of the committee during the recess.

Besides Senator Garrison there are on this committee Senators Inman, Sacramento; Jones, San Jose, and Boggs, Stockton, and Assemblyman Crittenden, Tracy; Bernard, Butte City; Mixter, Exeter, and Adams, Livingston.

Assemblyman Crittenden and Senator Jones are authors of the two proposed constitutional amendments calling for clarification of the laws affecting riparian rights.

Narcotic Act's Convicts Lead Dry Violators

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—Federal prisons house more violators of the Narcotic Act than of the Federal Prohibition Act, figures made public today by the Department of Justice disclosed.

However, there was a sharp decrease in the number of persons serving time last year for Narcotic Act violations as compared to the year before, the figures being 1961 and 2656.

On the other hand, the number of offenders against the national dry law in prison last year was more than double the number the year before, the total for 1926 being 773 and for 1926 it was 1837.

Besides the grand total of 8750 prisoners in Federal penitentiaries there were 6514 Federal prisoners serving terms in county jails on of the River Plate yesterday to witnesses that approximately 1300 of these violated the Prohibition Act and 1400 the Narcotic Act.

Sequoia Park Road Program Plans Drawn

ASH MOUNTAIN (Headquarters Sequoia National Park) Jan. 23. (AP)—Resident Engineer Austin of the Sequoia National Park Service has prepared plans for a new $140,000 road building program in the park and announced today that work would be started immediately after Division Engineer Sweetser of the Bureau of Public Roads had approved the plans. Sweetser is expected here from San Francisco soon.

The money was appropriated for Sequoia in the last allotment of the budget for the national parks' three-year program. Austin's plans distribute it as follows: $80,000 for a five-mile stretch of new road from Giant Forest to Lodge Pole; $30,000 for one and one-half miles of new road from Giant Forest village site to the top of the hill at Moro Rock, and $30,000 for further improvements from the park line to Giant Forest.

Action Thought Necessary Over Border Supplies

Wisconsin Suit Brings Up International Question

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—Treaties with Great Britain, Mexico, Central American States, and ultimately soviet Russia, governing the flow and diversion of boundary waters in their relation to new methods for generating hydroelectric power, are now viewed as an inevitable outcome of the litigation brought by the State of Wisconsin and other Great Lake States against the Illinois sanitary district to prevent further undue diversion of water from Lake Michigan, into the Chicago drainage canal.

The present withdrawals were authorized by a permit of the Secretary of War, dated March 3, 1925, which lapses in 1929.

The hearings, conducted before Charles E. Hughes as special referee appointed by the Supreme Court, have been concluded so far as the taking of direct evidence is concerned, and will be resumed February 23 when both parties will introduce rebuttal evidence.

While conjectural evidence dealing with the effect of the present diversion on hydroelectric power generation has been ruled out of the record, it is assumed by attorneys for the litigants that regardless of the ultimate ruling of the Supreme Court on the legality of the present diversion and the question of State or Federal rights as locally applied to power development along inland waterways, the present suit is a forerunner to treaties with foreign countries, now joint owners with the United States of boundary water.

They comprise Great Britain because of the Canadian boundary on four of the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence River, Mexico's border rights on the Rio Grande, Panama and Nicaragua, and more remotely, Russia as regards that part of the Bering Sea in which she still claims rights of navigation.

In the present litigation the Canadian government was represented by two "unofficial observers." It is known, however, that Canada claims injury to her water rights in the St. Lawrence because of present diversion from Lake Michigan into the Illinois drainage canal.

Guard Shoots Self in Fight With Phantom

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Jan. 23.—W. H. Latour, 71 years of age, watchman at the Lamanda Park citrus packing-house, saw Tom Clark working on an automobile in the grounds of the place today and ordered him away.

Confused, according to the police report, by the moonshine he is said to have been drinking, the watchman then decided Clark was trying to attack him with the car and fired two bullets at it. Then he fired a third, which passed through a hand he had held outstretched to wave away the supposedly onrushing vehicle.

The injury was treated at Receiving Hospital and the watchman locked up on charges of intoxication and carrying concealed weapons. Witnesses told the police, Latour's story of being attacked by the car was all imagination.

Engineers Will Tell Oakland of Colorado River

OAKLAND, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—The Colorado River project will be discussed in its various phases Thursday evening at the Hotel Oakland by four speakers. In aligning the program, the viewpoints of the States, municipalities, public utilities and the engineering profession were considered by the Oakland Forum, which is sponsoring the meeting.

Robert Bibley, past vice-president, American Institute of Electrical Engineers, William Mulholland, Chief Engineer, Bureau of Water and Power of the city of Los Angeles; Dr. George L. Hoxie, research engineer of the Southern California Edison Company, Los Angeles, and J. G. Scrugham of Nevada, will speak.

Four Members of Family Die in Grade Crash

ROCKFORD (Ill.) Jan. 23. (AP)—Four members of the family were killed and two others probably fatally injured in a grade-crossing accident tonight when an automobile was struck by a passenger train east of here.

The seventh member of the family, Della, 13 years of age, the eldest of five children, miraculously escaped when she was pitched headlong through the windshield of the automobile to the pilot of the locomotive, where she clung. She was only slightly injured.

EVIL IN CAMPAIGN ON WOMEN, SAYS CARDINAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 23. TWO MAPS ESTEEMED BY SARGENT

One of Plymouth Township, Vermont, and other Merely of United States

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—John Garibaldi Sargent has added to the office of the Attorney-General three items which bring that formal chamber in the Department of Justice nearer to his heart's desire.

One is a map of the United States. It hangs on one wall. The second is a map of Plymouth Township in Vermont. That occupies another wall space. The third is a jar of pipe tobacco, which has a place of honor on top of his desk.

When visitors drop in and time is not pressing, nothing pleases the Attorney-General more than to pass his tobacco and, pipes drawing well, to sit and talk. Often, as the conversation proceeds, the map of Plymouth Township is carefully taken from the wall, memories of boyhood brighten the eyes of the host as he spreads it on a desk, and he points out proudly the point where President Coolidge was born and, not far away, where he was born. He finds it just as easy to pick out on the other map the little space that represents Plymouth Township and home.

BROWNING SUIT STARTS TODAY

New Yorker Asks Separation From "Peaches"

Old Colonial Courthouse Scene of Trial

Defendant Unable to Obtain Room With Bath

CARMEL (N. Y.) Jan. 23. (AP)—The thirty-day clock in the Putnam county Courthouse was wound up tonight as the final act in preparation for the opening here tomorrow of the long-awaited trial of the separation suit instituted by Edward West Browning, wealthy New York realty man, against his 16-year-old wife, the former Frances (Peaches) Heenan.

Tomorrow morning the steps leading into the historical old Colonial building in this town of 800 inhabitants will be swept of the day's heavy snowfall and the trial will get under way—for how many minutes, days, or hours, nobody in Carmel can say.

Carmel was speculative, however, today, and active. It was learned that Mrs. Browning, because she could not get a bathroom to herself in the Mahoney cottage, had canceled her room reservation here.

It was generally understood that Mr. Browning will be here in person tomorrow.

It was told that Supreme Court Justice Seeger of Newburgh had rented a room in Carmel "for duration of the trial."

The outstanding event of the day here was an edict from the Brew Seminary for Young Women, whose 125 students range from 8 to 18 years of age, that for "duration of the trial" no young woman will be permitted to leave the campus without a teacher escort. This will keep the girls not only blocks away from the Courthouse, but out of earshot of even the drug-store gossip.

MEXICAN RAIL GAP CLOSED

Espee Unites Los Angeles and Mexico City With Final Link in Stupendous Undertaking

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—California and Mexico City are now united by an all-rail direct Pacific route. Dispatches from Guadalajara announce that today both extremities of the Southern Pacific gap under construction between Quemada, State of Jalisco, and Tepic, State of Naya.it, were joined.

Dispatches from both Guadalajara and Tepic say that Southern Pacific officials of both cities believe the latter part of February or early March will see the first train run over the new road, which, it is expected, will be of inestimable benefit to the West Coast of the United States as well as to Mexico.

The giant bridge at Salsipuedes is now nearing completion. When this is finished the road will be completed except for construction of auxiliary buildings.

Word from Tepic says that yesterday the last flat car bearing rails to the southern extremity of the northern section of the gap passed through there decorated with the flags of the United States and Mexico. These rails were destined to be used to join the lines. Leading business men and officials of Guadalajara planned to witness the event.

During the Obregon administration the Southern Pacific completed an agreement with th President to receive $30,000,000 for revolutionary damages, the company committing itself to reinvest the money in building a line to unite the Guatemala border with the Canadian frontier, via Mexico City, Guadalajara, the Mexican West Coast and Los Angeles.

This contract has been faithfully carried out, the company having invested more than the amount of their claim against the government The building of the gap line, which covers a distance of 103 miles through mountainous country, is regarded as one of the foremost engineering accomplishments of recent years on this continent.

For one stretch of seventeen miles, th cost is estimated at $1,500,000 a mile.

OBREGON LOOMS AS NEXT PRESIDENT

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 23. (AP)—Gen. Alvaro Obregon, who became President of Mexico after the Carranza revolution, again looms as the most potential successor to the Presidency by virtue of a decree signed by President Calles, permitting a former President to resume the Presidency after an intervening term. President Calles's decree puts into effect a constitutional amendment passed through Parliament by Obregon's friends, who are working, they claim, with the utmost confidence and success, to elect him next year.

STOCKTON, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—The annual election of directors of the Stockton Chamber of Commerce will begin tomorrow when primary ballots will be mailed to the membership of 900. The ballots will be counted on February 4 and the final election ballots on February 10.

Nine directors are retiring from office. President Irving Martin, Sr., James Barnes, F. J. Dietrich, Sr., Jesse J. Inman, C. A. Webster, Sam Aaron, Charles B. Pearson, R. W. Randall and W. H. Falconbury.

Directors whose terms hold over another year are: Charles Q. Bird, Frank S. Boggs, John H. Eagal, J. W. Pearce, Otto E. Sandman and A. J. Zitlau.

Record Hook-up Arranged for Coolidge Talk

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—One of the largest radio hook-ups ever attempted will be used to broadcast President Coolidge's address to Congress February 22, next, in exercises which will put in motion the plans for celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of George Washington's birthday in 1932.

William Tyler Page, secretary of the George Washington Bicentennial Commission, said the National Broadcasters' Association had agreed to the arrangement without cost to the government.

Mr. Coolidge, who is president of the commission, will speak at 12:30 p.m.

TO BROADCAST SERMON

PARIS, Jan. 23. (AP)—For the first time in the history of broadcasting in France religious instruction will be available by radio, Cardinal Dubois, Archbishop of Paris, has approved the project, and each Sunday one of the priests of his diocese will preach a short sermon to be broadcast by one of the regular governmental stations.

Italy Locates Huge Deposits of Rich Iron Ore

LEGHORN (Italy) Jan. 23. (AP) Discovery of deposits of the richest iron ore in Europe has been announced here.

The ore is in the Apennine Mountains in the Provinces of Massa and Lucia at altitudes about a mile above the sea level. It is said to analyze 68 per cent pure metal compared with a 40 per cent maximum from other European mines.

Mining experts say the quantity of ore is so enormous Italy may be freed from necessity of importing iron. Possible production of 300 tons of iron daily is predicted.

Premier Mussolini and Minister of National Economy Belluzo are much interested in the progress of exploration.

One Killed, Two Injured, Toll of Train Collision

MEXICO (Mo.) Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—In a head-on collision between Larrabee and Clark, twenty miles west of here, the Chicago and Alton's crack Chicago-to-Kansas City night train, westbound, the Hummer, crashed with an eastbound freight train, whose crew had overlooked train orders. Hundreds of week-end travelers, asleep in their berths, escaped with but minor injuries. Ben W. Carmean, Chicago baggageman on the passenger train, was killed when the impact of the crash telescoped his car almost completely through the giant engine ahead. Two enginemen were injured.

Railroad officials, surveying the wreckage today, with the almost total destruction of the two 125-ton engines, the baggage car and five freight cars, with an estimated loss of $300,000, held members of the freight-train crew responsible for the collision, through failure to follow train orders.

Service of Natural Gas

ON JANUARY 25th, the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation will commence the service of natural gas in place of the "mixed gas" now being distributed. The present gas is a mixture of approximately 50% natural gas and 50% manufactured gas, and has a fuel value of 850 heat units per cubic foot. The natural gas which will hereafter be served, is procured from the oil fields of Los Angeles, Orange, Ventura and Kern Counties, and has an average heating value of about 1,125 units per cubic foot. This change in service is in accord with the demands made by the Cities before the State Railroad Commission, and also in accord with that Commission's Decision No. 17830, dated December 31, 1926, which considered, favorably, only the distribution of natural gas to this district and fixed new rates for that service alone. The new natural gas rates which become effective for meter readings taken on and after February 9, 1927, were determined by the Railroad Commission so as to retain the same charge for any given number of heat units as is now in effect with the service of mixed gas.

When burning natural gas, which has approximately 30% greater heating value than the mixed gas, a corresponding reduction will be experienced in the quantity of gas needed. This higher quality natural gas also requires the admission of a greater amount of air to the mixing tube of the burners. In most cases, particularly on gas ranges, this adjustment can be very readily accomplished by increasing the opening of the air shutter adjacent to the gas valves. This shutter should be opened sufficiently to cause the flame to burn with a clear blue color without any yellow tips at the top, which tend to smoke and blacken the bottoms of cooking utensils.

In no case should the valve of any appliance be opened so wide as to cause the flames to extend up around the sides of a kettle or to emerge from the top of room heating appliance. When the radiant type of heater is used which has the clay radiants in the front, the gas valve should be turned on only enough to heat these radiants about 2/3 of the way up. If more gas is used, it cannot all be burned completely, and flames will tend to come out of the top of the heater. This results not only in wastage of gas, but also produces obnoxious odors. For best results, do not turn on the gas too high.

In using heaters where the flame burns entirely within a metal combustion chamber, particular care should be exercised to avoid opening the gas supply valve to such an extent that the flame touches any of the inner parts. Most of these heaters have an inner iron chamber, and it should be carefully noted that the flame does not strike this. When a flame touches metal, the flame is chilled and incomplete combustion, with accompanying odors, is liable to result. In all cases, the use of a moderate amount of gas during a longer period of time, rather than an excessive amount of gas for a short time, is the best assurance for safety and satisfactory service. If you have difficulty with the operation of your gas appliances, telephone or write the gas company, and prompt attention will be given. Certain appliances, however, must be serviced by the manufacturer, and in such cases, the consumer will be advised.

Los Angeles Bank and Financial Advertising

For Year 1926

Los Angeles Times	140,016
Second Morning Paper	80,046
First Afternoon Paper	60,643
Second Afternoon Paper	41,461
Third Morning Paper	21,155
Third Afternoon Paper	19,006

The above figures show that the Los Angeles Times during 1926 printed 38% more bank and financial advertising than both other morning newspapers combined, and 12% more than all three afternoon newspapers combined. Such a demonstration of sales-power on the part of one newspaper probably has no parellel in the United States. Its significance is enhanced by the fact that the selling of bonds, stocks and bank services measures the purchasing power of a newspaper's circulation as nothing else can.

In connection with these figures it is interesting to know that The Times occupies a similar position in the sale of ordinary small articles like shoes, things that test what advertisers call "mass" sales-power. In shoe advertising for 1926, The Times printed 58% more than the second morning paper and 59% more than the largest afternoon paper.

Home-delivered circulation thus excels, no matter what the object may be, nor what price it sells for. The Los Angeles Times, in furnishing the largest home-delivered circulation in Southern California, automatically furnishes the largest and most responsive market for every sort of commodity.

ARTIST WITH SCISSORS

Snips Vivid Silhouettes of Animals and Wins Praise of Experts

...ria (Ills.) Jan. 22. (AP)—An invalid boy, who though shut off ...ds and the great outdoors he loves, went hunting with em... and won fame as an artist. He is Joe Cranston Jones,

...th of this city. His imagination invades the deepest jungles, ...ings to mix with the wild life there, while deft fingers snip ...tions out of paper. ...his insight into animal anatomy and ...e a design first. He ...natural history. Luis Mora referred ...ed, an art lesson. Artists ...to him as a genius, getting out of life ...ished his work marvel at its full meaning as did Leonardo.

One day when Joe was only 6 years of age, he was lifted from bed so he could see his first circus parade. Back in bed again, he asked for scissors and paper. Later, he called his mother to look, and there, marching across his bed, was a line of paper animals in the same order as those in the procession he had just witnessed.

A few years afterward, Joe was carried to an Atlanta hospital, where an orthopedist, known the world over for his ability, worked on his frail body a year. But while the specialist conducted an unsuccessful battle, Joe's silhouettes began receiving notice.

Mrs. B. Pressley Walker, an Atlanta artist, became interested and sent several of his silhouettes to art lovers who immediately bought them. The first sale was around Christmas time. Joe celebrated with a midnight feast for the other children in the hospital.

Now the lad's work is used extensively in national magazines and museums in New York, Atlanta and other large cities have given it exhibition. One of Joe's first purchases from his income was a small automobile, fitted with a special brace for his body. On fair days, he and his mother drive to the woods, where many happy hours are spent. His great desire now is to motor to Yellowstone Park, there to see the animals in the natural haunts he pictures daily.

LEGACY MAINTAINS CURFEW IN VILLAGE FOR 250 YEARS

LONDON, Jan. 23. (AP)—The chimes of a church bell ringing out over the midlands these winter evenings recall a curfew that has been kept for more than 250 years.

Grimstone, near Melton Mowbray, is a picturesque old world village which lies on the southern declivity of the Wold Hills, and still retains its stocks where public offenders are punished.

Two and a half centuries ago, a Grimestone woman lost her way while walking from Melton Mowbray to her home in a snowstorm. But for the tolling of the church bell, which enabled her to find her way, she would have perished in the cold. Thankful, she bought the field wherein she first heard the sound of the bell and bequeathed its income to future bell ringers, provided the bell should be tolled every evening from October to April.

The bell rings out the day of the week and also the month. Although the deeds have been lost these many years, the curfew is still faithfully kept every evening at 8 o'clock and the woman's field is let at public auction each Easter.

Aero Parachute Brings Officer Collier Trophy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26. (AP)—The Collier Trophy, given annually for the greatest achievement in aviation in America, the value of which has been demonstrated by actual use, has been awarded to Maj. Edward L. Hoffman of the Army Air Corps for his work in developing the parachute now universally used.

The National Aeronautic Association made the award and called attention to the fact that this device had been directly responsible for the saving of twenty-six lives in the army air service alone. Maj. Hoffman is on duty at Lunken Airport, Cincinnati.

ACTION ON HOSPITAL

Stockton Men, Want Farm Unit To Be Improved

STOCKTON, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—Although elated that the State will spend approximately $2,000,000 on State hospital buildings here, members of the Stockton Realtors Association disapproved of any plan to improve permanently the present hospital buildings located within the city limits. Howard Hammond and George A. Turner were appointed to investigate and determine whether the appropriation will be used for buildings within the city or for buildings at the State hospital farm just outside the city.

It was the general opinion that the buildings inside the city should gradually be abandoned over a period of twenty or twenty-five years and all patients removed to the hospital farm.

CRISIS SEEN FOR CUBAN MAIL TRADE

Parcel Post Service for Island Held Important for American Business Men

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—A serious situation confronts American manufacturers, exporters and shippers trading by means of parcel post with Cuba, in the opinion of Second Assistant Postmaster-General W. Irving Glover. Should Congress fail to enact legislation now pending to permit importation by mail of cigars in lots of less 3000 and not weighing over eleven pounds, all parcel post shipments to Cuba would be stopped after July 1.

"The American manufacturer and merchant," said Mr. Glover, "are alarmed over conditions which may endeavor their Cuban business. No doubt these manufacturers and exporters now have representatives in Cuba taking orders for future delivery of articles to be manufactured with instructions that they be sent by parcel post.

"American manufacturers are now engaged in the manufacture of these articles on order and, when the time arrives for the shipping of these orders after July 1 to Cuba. Should it be that the provisions of the convention regarding the importation of packages into Cuba have not been complied with, they will find the door of Cuba closed to American products as far as shipment into Cuba by mail is concerned.

"The Postoffice Department has done everything possible to urge corrective legislation."

if Mrs. S lived in Los Angeles and used Bureau of Power and Light service—the same bill, under exactly the same conditions, would be $13.02, a saving of $4.53. Chicago domestic rates are 35% higher than in Los Angeles.

Large consumers, as well as small ones, share in the benefits of Bureau economy. In many cases large users of domestic light in Los Angeles save hundreds of dollars a year compared with what they would pay in some of the large cities in the East. These savings are effected without sacrifice to service and are in the form of monthly "dividends" to 1,250,000 "share holders".

Los Angeles and electricity have made a remarkable advancement. Ahead of both of them is a great future which will make dim their brilliant past.

Bureau domestic rates are lower than in any city of competitive size in America.

NEW PARIS STYLES OUT THIS WEEK

Throng of Buyers Await Show of Spring Fashions; Skirts to Be Still Shorter

PARIS, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—A throng of buyers from all parts of the globe are waiting for the great dressmaking display of spring fashions. Drecoll, Red Fern, Doucet and Lelong will exhibit their new models this week. The smaller houses, which already are showing their creations, reveal that skirts will be shorter than ever, barely covering the knees.

Silk and alpaca, preferably in changeable effects, are the new materials in many long coats. These are generally cut with a straight back and side pleats starting from the belt, which fastens in front.

Hosiery manufacturers announce that castor color verging to gray or brown will supersede the flesh colors in stockings for day wear.

The Paris dressmaking trade is facing a crisis because of the increased value of the franc. Materials bought when the franc was around 43 to the dollar must be sold at a tremendous loss, now that the franc is up to 25. To buy at the present rate means an equally great loss to the buyers here.

It is advertised that prices have been cut as much as 30 per cent. Inquiry, however, shows this is not altogether true. Instances where a reduction is made are isolated. This is particularly noticeable in accessories and novelties.

Hill Expected to Quit University of New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—Climax to rumors that New Mexico's new board of university regents had been chosen with the understanding that they were opposed to the continuance of Dr. David Spence Hill in the office of president was reached when Dr. Hill was granted a leave of absence until September 1, 1927 at that time his contract with the University of New Mexico, expires. In announcing Dr. Hill's leave of absence, Mrs. Reed Holloman, president of the board, said that Dr. Hill had declared he did not intend to seek an extension of his contract.

Dr. J. F. Zimmerman has been appointed by the board of regents to act as president of the University of New Mexico during Dr. Hill's leave of absence. Dr. Zimmerman, a graduate of Vanderbilt University with M. A. and Ph.D. degrees from Columbia University has been professor of political science and philosophy at the University of New Mexico for the past two years. Dr. Zimmerman is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi, Alpha Tau Omega and the American Political Science Association.

Bay City Lads' Treasure Trove Eyed by Police

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—Pieces of eight; pieces of eight!

No one knows whether it was Capt. Kidd, Black Beard or some less illustrious buccaneer of modern times who buried the treasure, but—

Two San Francisco boys found it this afternoon.

Peter Duarte, who has six full years behind him, and his chum, Edwin Labours, were digging when a big policeman walked by and asked if they were looking for treasure.

"Sure," the adventurers chorused and a few minutes later, hid by a tiny water course, they came upon a chamois bag containing $14.68.

Police are now checking their records to find out if some community grocery was held up for that amount.

INQUIRY ON TODAY IN SEVEN BLAST DEATHS

TOLEDO (O.) Jan. 23. (AP)—Official inquiry will be made tomorrow in an attempt to determine the cause of an explosion which killed seven persons and wrecked a business and apartment building in the village of Point Place, a suburb, yesterday. Of the five persons injured in the explosion, all but one was recovering. Mrs. William Jennings, the most seriously injured, was reported in a critical condition.

The Chancellor—a Big Six Custom Victoria
—no peer at its price for beauty and power!

FOR all its custom beauty, its extra equipment and its famed Big Six power, The Chancellor carries a democratic One-Profit price—$2015.

There is nothing smarter on wheels than this Big Six Victoria for four. Its low-swung, full-vision steel body, lacquered in rich Pyramid Gray and Desert Sand—and its richly appointed interior of fine broadcloth, with broadlace trim and silver finish inlaid hardware, is nothing short of an invitation to get in and relax. An exclusive feature is the patented no-draft ventilating windshield, which admits abundant fresh air, and keeps out rain—even in a downpour.

The Chancellor is powered by the famous Studebaker Big Six motor—first to beat the schedules of the crack Limiteds from coast to coast. Only seven American cars equal it in rated horsepower—and they cost from two to five times more! Every phase of its Big Six performance has been tested on Studebaker's million-dollar Proving Ground—and proved again by many of the Big Sixes included in the 944 Studebakers which have been driven 100,000 miles and more.

Women should see The Chancellor to know what is newest in the custom mode—men should see it to appreciate how Studebaker One-Profit manufacture has raised the standard of fine car value.

Seven of Dead in Texas Crash Leave Taylor

Physicians Express Hope for Five in Hospital

Campus Memorial Today at Baylor University

TAYLOR (Tex.) Jan. 23. (AP)—The torn bodies of seven young men, victims of Saturday's tragedy when an International and Great Northern train demolished a bus at a grade crossing at Round Rock, left here today. Ten were killed in the crash, all Baylor University students including members of the Baylor basketball team en route from Waco to Austin to play the University of Texas.

Five of the bodies were bound for Waco, one for Ennis and one for Fort Worth. The bodies of William Winchester and Bob Hannah, were taken today to Waco from Georgetown. They died in an ambulance Saturday en route to Georgetown from the scene of the tragedy. The other of the ill-fated ten, Trey R. Foster, Jr., of Taylor, was buried here today.

Physicians reported the five injured in a Taylor hospital to be improved, though the life of Fred Acree of Waco is despaired of, as his back was broken.

MEMORIAL TODAY

The fire bodies sent from here to Waco were those of James Clyde Kelley, Bob Hailey, Willis Murray, Murrel Dudley and James S. Walker. Jack Castellaw, accompanied by an escort of Baylor students, was taken in an ambulance to his Ennis home. His mother is reported seriously ill in Ennis. The body of Sam Dillow, also escorted by fellow-students, was taken to his Fort Worth home.

Memorial services for the dead students will be held tomorrow morning on the Baylor University campus, 2500 students mourning the death of their fellows.

In front of the undertaking establishment here in which the dead were placed, and before the hospital where the injured lay, hundreds of persons, most of them relatives or close friends of the victims, paced last night and early today. Many were Baylor students who wept openly for their classmates.

THOUSANDS AT GRAVE

Thousands gathered this afternoon at the grave of Ivey R. Foster, Jr., 19 years of age, a Taylor boy. Ten days ago Foster was named assistant sports editor of the Lariat, his school's daily newspaper, and with his enthusiastic love of sports he was determined to see the basketball game scheduled for last night at Austin between Baylor and Texas University.

In hundreds of churches throughout Texas today, prayers were offered for the young men who early yesterday climbed into the big bus at Waco and went, laughing and joking, toward Austin, intent on avenging an early-season defeat by Texas University.

Baylor is a Baptist institution, and many Baptist congregations sent telegrams of condolence to families of the dead and to President Brooks, the school head.

There was much speculation as to whether Baylor should abandon basketball for the rest of the season. Coach E. J. (Doc) Stewart of Texas University said:

"Baylor should carry on for the sake of the dead who died so bravely. The dead basketball players would have it so."

Last Witnesses in Norris Trial on Stand Today

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 23. (AP)—Two absent witnesses in the Norris murder trial arrived here tonight from Fort Worth preparatory to taking the stand tomorrow for final testimony.

They are B. F. Bouldin, attorney of Fort Worth, and Rev. J. R. Brittain of Ennis, Tex., brother-in-law of Dr. J. Frank Norris, Baptist pastor on trial for the killing of D. E. Chipps.

They will be offered in an attempt to impeach testimony of C. D. Rogers, who testified for the State that H. H. Rains had told him Norris remarked "I've killed me a man."

Court adjourned Saturday morning until 9 a.m. tomorrow to await arrival of these witnesses. It is expected the testimony can be completed in fifteen or twenty minutes tomorrow.

Judge James R. Hamilton will read his charge to the jury after conferring with attorneys.

STAMPED OUT

BY OCTAVUS ROY COHEN

WHEN Red tells me he wants to take me to an auction sale of treasures, I don't tumble that he's playing a joke on me.

And I don't suspect that he's letting me in for the worst two weeks an honest crook ever had.

Of course, I think he wants me to give a bunch of jools the double-O with the idea of maybe making an informal call late some night. I won a nice diamond brooch once by attending an auction where a feller bought it for his sweetie. He took it home to her, and the next morning she didn't have it. These home safes always was easy.

So I go to the auction with Red. The minute we walked in the room I knew it was some of his funny stuff. I never see such queer birds or such a crazy auction. Jools? Nix! Bonds? Nix! Real estate? Double not.

What you reckon they was selling? You couldn't guess in a million May days. Postage stamps!

On the level. No kidding. Postage stamps—and most of them had already been used. That's straight. I get good and sore at Red—always joking and taking a busy man's time—when I hear the auctioneer ask how much he is bid on this Mauritius stamp. He holds it up and talks a lot about paper and printing and margins and rareness and all that sort of thing, and I get ready to hear some bimbo bid a dime when a feller in a frock coat, looking otherwise like he had his good senses, says:

"Ten thousand dollars!"

Honest! I wouldn't kid you for nothing. That was when I started to get interested. Jools? Man, the way them fellers discussed money in connection with that stamp was positively indecent. Finally the gazabo in the frock coat says: "Twenty thousand!" I was sure I had come to the booby hatch then, but the auctioneer tells him he wins it, and he writes out a check real casual and everybody congratulates him on his bargain.

And as though that ain't enough, about that time a feller comes busting in and says he's come from Rochester to bid on that stamp and they tell him the other guy has bought it for twenty thousand, and right away he offers twenty-two. Fact! But the funny guy gives him the laugh and says nothing doing.

That was where I lived. I found out who was the guy who offered the twenty-two grand for that stamp. He was a wizened old feller, and they said he was heartbroke over missing it. Being of a charitable turn of mind, I decided to help the old bird out.

Old Frock Coat goes home with the stamp, and I go with him, only he don't know it. The job was a cinch. At two in the morning I leave his house without saying good-by, and in my pocket is twenty-two thousand dollars cash.

At least that's what I think!

I NEVER was happier in my life. I planned to let the guy in Rochester have it for twenty thousand. I was generous, I was. I didn't care who bought it—for cash.

But a guy who stands high in his profession like I do has got to be careful. So I prospect around a bit and finally discover that there's a friend of mine who plays cards for a living and also sells stock, who used to be a stamp collector, but otherwise is all right in his head. I slip him the low-down on what I got. And he just looks at me like I was low enough to walk under a green worm without removing my hat.

"You poor sap!" he says. "You poor, misguided idiot!"

Then he tells me why he thus compliments me. It seems there ain't but about two copies of that stamp in the world. That is, one other copy in as good condition as the one I had, which didn't look any too healthy for me, at that. And he says that I couldn't get fifty berries for that stamp because any dealer would recognize it in a minute and no collector wouldn't have it because even if he had a liberal conscience, he wouldn't be able to show it in his collection on account of everybody knowing that it was stole. He said my friend in Rochester would be the first one to turn me up if I approached him about buying it—even for ten thousand.

I have been sick a few times in my life. But never have I been as sick as I was for that two weeks.

Twenty thousand smackers—and not worth a cent to me! A stamp—and an old one too. It got so I hated to write a letter to a friend just because I had to buy a stamp and put it on the envelope. I never hated anything in all my life like I got to hate stamps.

I was losing weight, losing sleep and losing my ambition. That stamp was haunting me.

I was on my way to be a living skeleton and the world's long-distance nonsleep champion before I made up my mind to get rid of the thing. Nothing else to do. But I couldn't throw it away. A man can't heave twenty thousand berries into the gutter. It ain't possible. So I figure I'll save something out of the wreckage, and feeling like I was giving away twenty thousand dollars, I carry that stamp back to the feller I had borrowed it from.

He lived in a swell dump, and of course, I didn't tell him about stealing the thing, although maybe he suspected. I said I found it. Then I give it to him.

MAYBE some day I'll return a lost baby to a young mother—but she won't be no gladder to see it than that feller was to get his Mauritius stamp back. He does a regular can-can around the room and beats it to another part of the house and is gone a long time.

When he comes back he's got something that gladdens my heart. It's a long, thin envelope and he gives it to me with a long speech about how grateful he is and will I accept this little token of his undying appreciation? I says "Sure," grabs the reward and beats it.

I hopeo that feller wasn't tight, because I needed cash, and needed it bad. Not less than a thousand, was what I figured. I get me under a corner light and open the envelope. And that was where somebody hit me on the head with an office building. Right there.

I get ready to hear some bimbo bid a dime when a feller in a frock coat says: "Ten thousand dollars!"

What do you think was in that envelope? First come a note which said: "I feel sure that these little treasures will delight you and embark you on a course which will gladden all the years of your life."

And with the note was a little packet of postage stamps!

STEAMER LINES IN RATE PACT

Statement Follows Secret Meeting in Arkansas

Co-ordination of Sailings Also Agreed Upon

Both East and West Coast Companies Represented

HOT SPRINGS (Ark.) Jan. 23. (AP) Representatives of twenty-one steamship companies, who were in secret session here last week, issued a statement declaring the purpose of their conference was "to stabilize the trade and correct disorganized conditions which have proved so unsatisfactory to the shipping public."

W. P. Kellogg and C. A. Torrance, both of New York, acted as chairman and secretary of the conference.

"The plan to stabilize the trade," the statement declared, "will be developed in detail and submitted to the United States Shipping Board for its approval.

"It is expected that the principles adopted will satisfactorily adjust the varied and conflicting interests which have heretofore existed in the trade. It provides for the setting up of a neutral rate-making bureau as a contact between the lines and their shippers, and also for a rearrangement and co-ordination of sailings which is designed to give more adequate and satisfactory service to all the Atlantic and Pacific coast ports now served."

The lines adopting the plan in principle included both Atlantic and Pacific interests, having, it is said, a combined carrying capacity of approximately 5,000,000 cargo tons during the past year.

The statement added that lines operating in the Pacific Coast-Gulf of Mexico trade also were fully represented at the conference and had decided to adopt an agreement among themselves, based on the plan formulated at the conference here. No additional details of the plan were contained in the statement issued.

It was stated that the lines which subscribed to the principle agreed upon included in the Atlantic and Pacific Coast trade, the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company; the Arrow Line, the Dollar Steamship Company, the Panama Pacific lines, Pecan Transport Company, Quaker Line and the Williams Steamship Company, and for the Gulf of Mexico trade the Pinkline-Gulf Transportation Company, the Gulf-Pacific Line and Luckenbach Steamship Company.

DENTIST HELD AS SLAYER OF CHILD

SEATTLE, Jan. 23. (AP)—Steadfastly maintaining his innocence Dr. C. C. Dobbs, Kirkland dentist, is in the King County Jail here awaiting his formal accusation tomorrow as the slayer of Letitia Whitehall, 14-year-old Kirkland High School girl. Dobbs was arrested late last night after officers, acting on information gained from exhumation of the body ten days ago, ransacked his home and subjected him to a nine-hour examination.

ONE DEAD; TWO HURT IN CRASH

OAKDALE, Jan. 23. (AP)—One man is dead, another, his brother, is near death, and a third person, a woman, was seriously injured as a result of a head-on automobile and motorcycle collision near here today. Paul Matthews, 31 years of age, Oakdale automobile mechanic, was killed. Leslie Matthews is not expected to live and Mrs. Pauline Matthews, wife of Paul Matthews, suffered cuts and bruises. The accident occurred on the sharp "S" turn on the State highway two miles east of here.

FRANC SOARS; FRANCE WAILS

Resulting High Prices Hit Workers Hardest

Unemployment Gives Aid to Violent Agitators

Auto Industry Running at About Half-Speed

PARIS, Jan. 23. (AP)—The high franc is flattering to the pride of the Frenchman, but high prices are deflating his pocketbook. Unemployment is beginning to affect business, politics and the home.

Government statistics show that 35,000 persons, chiefly in Paris, are drawing doles, but 35,000 more applicants for work are not satisfied. The government and employers say the situation is far from critical, but working men retort that many thousands are earning just enough "to keep from being hungry."

Red and yellow posters flaunt revolutionary appeals all over the workmen's districts and extremist agitators are capitalizing unemployment and the threat of more of it.

The automobile industry was cited in the Chamber of Deputies as typical of present conditions. It is running about at half-speed, with one-fourth of the 80,000 employees walking the streets or remaining on short working hours.

While every store sports a multitude of "lower prices" signs, the retail prices admittedly are far above the gold replacement figures.

The chief distress is among the modest, undemonstrative workers, who never have much margin. They have no luxuries to eliminate and a smaller income means a tightening of belts. Most families have savings but the women generally would face actual want before touching their old-age reserve.

INCOME TAX LAW CLARIFIED

This is the sixth article of a series explaining the Federal income tax law.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (Exclusive) Of the millions of taxpayers who file returns for the year 1926, the vast majority are entitled, in addition to the personal exemptions of $3500 for married persons and heads of families, $1500 for single persons, and a $400 credit for each dependent, to a further credit of 25 per cent of the tax on their earned net income. Correctly to compute this credit, the taxpayer first must compute the amount of tax which would be payable without the earned income credit. From the amount of the tax, 25 per cent is to be deducted, the balance being the amount of tax due.

In the allowance of the 25 per cent credit, the surtax was taken into consideration for the first time under the Revenue Act of 1926. The maximum amount which may be claimed as earned income is increased from $10,000 to $20,000. Earned income is defined as "wages, salaries, professional fees, and other amounts received as compensation for personal services actually rendered."

However, all net income up to $5000, whether actually earned or not, is considered earned income for the purpose of the 25 per cent credit. A taxpayer may have received in 1926 a salary of $2400 and from a real-estate transaction, or sale of stock, a net profit of $2600. Nevertheless, the entire $5000 is considered as earned income, and the tax payable by a taxpayer, unmarried and with no dependents, in such case is computed as follows:

Net income	$5000
Less personal exemption	1500
Balance taxable at 1½ per cent	1500
1½ per cent of $3500	52.50
Less 1-4 of $52.50, earned income credit	13.13
Balance of tax payable	39.37

RINGLING'S ESTATE BEQUEATHED TO KIN

SARASOTA (Fla.) Jan. 23. (AP)—The will of Charles Ringling, showman and banker, filed for probate here, bequeathed $100,000 to his son, Robert Edward Ringling, $100,000 to his daughter, Mrs. Hester Ringling Lancaster, and the remainder of the estate to his widow, Mrs. Edith Conway Ringling. The amount of the estate was not given. Mr. Ringling died here last month.

DOBBIN REVIVED FOR LAST LAUGH

Sleighs Resurrected as Minnesota Snow Blocks Roads to Autos and Swains do Courting to Jingle of Bells While Old Hitching Posts Make Parking Problem

ST. PAUL, Jan. 23. (AP)—Sleighs and cutters have come back to the highways of the Northwest, to ride the deep snows which motor cars cannot traverse.

But the hitchin' posts are gone, and a lot of towns wish they had not uprooted the gnawed and knotted pillars with such alacrity at the advent of the automobile.

Snow and more snow, three feet deep on many countrysides, and drifted to ten feet in Southern Minnesota, has put a crimp in motor travel. Bobsleds, cutters and open sleighs rule the roads, rescued from cobwebbed nooks in haylofts and carriage sheds to enjoy their greatest vogue in twenty-five years.

The revival of sleigh riding has its parking problem, however. The hitching racks around the public square and behind the country churches have vanished. Feed barns and livery stables have been converted into garages. There's no place for a man's nags.

Some villages where the march of progress has been less devastating have been capitalized on the survival of their hitching posts. Motorists have been forbidden to park in front of the racks, and the horse is having a last laugh that he never anticipated.

Youngsters are doing their courting again like their fathers did. Wrapped in warm buffalo robes, with their girls snuggled beside them, the swains have abandoned the foot-feed for the dashboard, behind which one-arm driving is not against the law.

Dog derbies, winter carnivals, skating and all sorts of winter sports have been given impetus by the phenomenal snowfall. Every town has its skating rink, and the larger cities have scores. Ski meets are enlisting new enthusiasts, and sleighing parties are once more as popular as when Nellie was last seen home.

Baking for all Ralphs stores is virtually done in a huge display case at our new store at Washington Boulevard and Seventh Avenue. The machinery and sixteen white tiled ovens are in sight of customers, as they purchase their food necessities.
We firmly believe no other bakery uses more milk or shortening in the making of bread than we do. Our bakers have instructions to use quality materials and as much as will make the best article they are capable of producing. We think we make a loaf of bread second in quality to none.

Arizona State College Placed in Quarantine

TUCSON (Ariz.) Jan. 23. (AP)—The University of Arizona has been placed under a rigid quarantine against scarlet fever. No grouping of students unnecessary to regular school work will be allowed. There were only three cases under observation on the campus today, Dr. Van Horn stated. No cases are reported exceedingly serious. The quarantine will be lifted Wednesday if there are no more cases of fever, Dr. C. H. Marvin, president of the university, said.

WORKERS' FUND LEADS

California Compensation Insurance Greater Than New York

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—California leads even New York in workmen's compensation insurances carried by the State, it is revealed by C. B. Morris, assistant manager of the State Compensation Fund. Statistics show that the California fund has in twelve years received $44,842,629 in premiums. In the same period New York's fund received $33,458,788 in premiums.

Approximately $1,000,000 a year has been refunded to policy holders over the twelve-year period. The fund is a nonprofit organization, and writes about one-third of all workmen's compensation insurance in the State. It maintains a reserve of $2,000,000 to care for any catastrophe, and has assets of $7,000,000.

LEWIS RE-ELECTED BY UNITED MINE WORKERS

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 23. (AP)—John L. Lewis was re-elected president of the United Mine Workers of America by a majority of 112,663 votes over John Brophy of Clearfield, Pa., according to the tellers' report to headquarters. Philip Murray was re-elected vice-president by a majority of 109,587, and Thomas Kennedy was retained as secretary-treasurer by a majority of 75,079. The election was held December 14. The tellers, Thomas Pasbell, Thomas Holliday and W. M. Young, completed the tabulation yesterday.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION
That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.
Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.
Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil.
No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.
If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling — sick headache — torpid liver — constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant relief from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.
Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them, 15c, 30c, 60c.—[Advertisement.

PAAVO IS FIRST IN HANDICAP

Canyon Stable Star Wins Sprint Event From Crack Field of Racers

TIA JUANA RACE TRACK, Jan. 23.—Taking command at the start and leading all the way, Paavo, running under the colors of the Canyon stable, won the Tiptoe $1000 Handicap, feature on today's card of nine races. With Jockey C. H. Miller up, Paavo, the public favorite, ran five and one-half furlongs over the slow track in 1:07. Sandy Man, with Peternel up, beat Tamarind with Monty Edwards at the throttle, a neck for the place.

Paavo, the 4-year-old colt, trained by George Colburn, won the New Year's Day $1500 handicap with Miller up. The Canyon stable sprinter is not eligible for the Cudroth Handicap, although in winning both stakes he defeated a choice field of gallopers.

Architect and Flatiron, the two hot things in the ring, finished unplaced, the former getting shut off turning out of the back stretch. Flatiron found the pace too fast.

The fifth race, a mile and one-sixteenth tussle, was won by C. B. Irwin's Pathan, the public favorite. Monty Edwards rode the winner and beat Letter Six to the wire by half a length. Income grabbed the show, Araby, another public favorite, finished last after getting off to a poor start.

Outsiders in the betting copped most of the other races.

First race, six furlongs—Jago (Dalton) won,

MULLER'S TEAM DEFEATED

George Wilson's Athletes Score 17-to-0 Victory Over Local Gridders in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—George Wilson and his Wildcats clearly outplayed "Brick" Muller and his California Stars at Ewing Field today before a crowd of about 11,000 and won 17 to 0. A field goal by Jim Lawson in the third quarter and touchdowns by Bross and Lawson in the fourth period accounted for the scoring.

In every case George Wilson, the famous halfback of Washington, has a big hand in the scoring, although he did not carry the ball over the line once himself. It was runs and passes by Wilson that paved the way for the scores. It was Wilson who threw the pass over the line that Bross caught in the fourth quarter and again it was Wilson who heaved the ball that Lawson caught shortly afterward.

Just as Wilson threw that last pass, the pistol popped signifying the end of the game. The ball was in the air, however, so Lawson caught it and being a good football player, he knew the game was not yet over, so he fought his way over the last chalk mark and scored. Lawson made the first three points with his goal from the field; he added two more by kicking goals after touchdown, and he scored one touchdown himself, so with eleven of the seventeen points to his credit the former captain of Stanford had quite a day of it.

Muller's team missed its best chance to score in the second period. The ball had been worked down near the 10-yard line on a pass to Hufford that netted 15 yards and then Maul and Imlay bucked the ball to the 20-yard line. With but one more yard needed to make it first down and put the ball on the 10-yard line, Imlay fumbled on the third down, and lost three yards. That made it fourth down and four to go, and with a defense such as Wilson's team displayed, it was useless to try to make it on a line play, so Newmeyer dropped back for a place kick.

Young Owes His Success to Candy Bar

GEORGE WILSON

TORONTO (Ont.) Jan. 23. For a 5-cent bar of chocolate, George Young, winner of the Catalina swim, took part in his first contest, Johnny Walker, swimming instructor at the Toronto West End Y.M.C.A. recalled today.

Young was 9 years of age. He stood at the deep end of the pool. Walker stood at the other end, twenty yards away, holding out the prize—a whole 5-cent bar of chocolate. The chubby youngster made a tremendous effort and won.

"Are you pleased?" the future champion asked.

"Very much so," his instructor replied awarding the prize.

"So will my mother be," was the boy's earnest comment.

WIESE, BLYTHE TIE IN HOLLYWOOD PLAY

A. Wiese and H. Blythe tied for first honors in a medal play sweepstakes tournament staged over the week-end at the Hollywood Country Club. V. L. Conrad, Jr., V. H. Conrad, Sr., J. P. Anson and R. J. Goiscewitz tied for third. The scores: Wiese, 84-12—72; Blythe, 80-8—72; Conrad, Jr., 78-4—74; Conrad, Sr., 82-8—74; Anson, 88-14—74; Goiscewitz, 94-20—74.

MRS. LIFUR PRAISES PARKRIDGE COURSE

Mrs. Gregg Lifur, noted California golfer, played over the Parkridge Country Club course yesterday scoring a 78. Mrs. Lifur declared that the Parkridge course is the most interesting she has ever played over and said that the greens were the finest in the State.

FOLKES DEFEATS JAMES

Ray Folkes defeated H. James in the final round of the Class A sweepstakes yesterday afternoon on the Brentwood Country Club course, 4 down, to cop the Brentwood championship. The Class B title went to J. W. Bronson, who defeated B. N. Berry and H. R. Coulters, 5 down. Berry and Coulters tied for second place, 6 down.

CULVER CITY SPEEDWAY TO BE REOPENED NEXT MONTH

Promising to hang up the largest prize offered for a local racing event, "Puss" Halbriter, well-known local sportsman, yesterday announced that a group of Los Angeles capitalists had purchased the Culver City Speedway from the Los Angeles Speedway Association, and would stage a race next month. The definite date of the resumption of activities was not announced.

Charles Stewart Anderson, local attorney, is heading the new organization, with Halbriter as manager and superintendent. Halbriter has promoted a number of local athletic events, including the Grange-Wilson game of last year.

Numerous of the leading pilots in the country will gallop in the open event, it is promised. The last race in the Culver bowl was on March 21 of last year, when Benny Hill finished in front of Pete DaPaolo in a 250-mile grind.

Outdoor boxing bouts, and a possible mardi gras during the summer will be included in the program of activities, according to the announcement.

DEL MONTE POLOISTS DOWN MIDWICK RIDERS BY 10-TO-6 SCORE IN EXCITING CONTEST

Some time ago Rudyard Kipling wrote something about East is East and etc. Now it isn't known what prompted the poet on this East business but had he been out to the Midwick Country Club yesterday afternoon he would have plenty of reason for talking about East. The East in this case, however, is Harry East, the pint-sized polo star, who led a Del Monte four to a spectacular victory over the Midwick Country Club team by a 10-to-6 score in an exhibition high-goal game. East, riding like one of the mythical Four Horsemen, gave a fashionable crowd of 4000 or more fans something to write home about with his playing in yesterday's tilt. The game which was originally scheduled as a Pacific Coast championship high-goal event was changed to an exhibition affair when Harry Hunt, one of the Del Monte riders, was called north due to the death of his father-in-law.

The Coast championship will not be decided until Hunt returns later in the week. But to get back to the game and Harry East. The diminutive star started the day riding Firefly, a $10,000 polo pony, which immediately proved to the satisfaction of the fans that she is worth every cent of it by outlasting the entire field with her speed and gracefulness in action. Mounted on Firefly in the first chukker East played rings around the Midwick team, scoring three goals for Del Monte. Little East, who is a scrappy individual, rode in and around the Midwick mallet wielders, who seemed bewildered by his playing.

In the second chukker the tiny star, riding a mare named Pandora, again outclassed the Midwick four and grabbed two more goals for his team. He was ably assisted by Col. P. M. Wise, an international star and a candidate for Great Britain's next Big Four, who made his first appearance on a polo field in these parts yesterday. Col. Wise, splendidly mounted on Winner, full brother to Ally Sloper, one of the most famous thoroughbred horses in the world, gave a very good account of himself during the game. Riding with East, this combination was at times unbeatable.

Although the Midwick four lost the game they gave a real good account of themselves and in the last half of the tilt outplayed the Del Monte riders. Eric Pedley, the young international star, although not playing up to usual standard, at times had the crowd standing up and cheering. He flashed to the front during a Midwick rally in the seventh chukker. Pedley in this session played real good polo in this period, especially Roach, who was riding in his first big game.

Roach incidentally aroused East's ire in the fifth chukker when they bumped while riding for the ball and both men exchanged words that will never be found on Christmas cards. The referee, Arthur Perkins, separated them and warned both players to keep clear. Ted Miller, a Midwick member and five-goal man, played in Hunt's place and this, Midwick followers pointed out, made a real difference in the rating of the two teams. It gave the Del Monte team a three-goal advantage as Hunt rates only two goals. Miller scored two goals for the Del Monte team during the game, but it was East, we think, that made the difference. Carlo Burke, playing at back for Midwick put a good game, as usual. Boeseke did well, but his horses were somewhat slower than the others, especially compared with East's and Wise's mounts. The Del Monte team had all the better of the first part of the game and the Midwick four displayed the best playing in the last half, but were unable to overcome the Del Monte lead or stop East without shooting him.

Del Monte (10)		Midwick (6)
Miller (3)	1	Roach (3)
East (6)	3	Pedley (3)

BOXER ASSESSED DAMAGES

CHICAGO, Jan. 23. (AP)—Jock Malone, middleweight pugilist, was ordered in a jury's verdict to pay $1500 to Mrs. Rachael Secor, 70 years of age, who asked $10,000 for injuries suffered when she was struck by the boxer's automobile, November 3, 1926.

KLOEPFER ASCOT WINNER

Bert Spencer Finishes Second in Fifty-mile Auto Race; Spills Galore Furnish Thrills

Barney Kloepfer, owner and trainer of the "Barney special" drove his mount to victory in the fifty-mile feature dash at the Ascot speedway yesterday afternoon in a race that was featured with plenty of spills and thrills. Bert Spencer in an Evans special, and Don Ostrander driving a Mahoney special were second and third respectively. The winner averaged slighty better than sixty-six miles per hour.

Harry Jacques, in a Redlands special, suffered severe injuries in a crash on the north rail in the 27th lap of the feature event. His car suffered a broken steering knuckle, smashed through the fence, turning end over end. Jacques was thrown clear of the car, but the auto in taking its final leap, fell on him. Jacques was staging a thrilling battle with Francis Quan in a Rajo special, when the accident occurred.

On the sixtieth lap, Al Hopp, driving a Roof special, hit the east fence, and tore three wheels off. He was uninjured. Several other cars threw tires, only five cars out of the fifteen starters finishing the race.

The first event on the program, the Italian Helmet dash of one lap, Mel Kenealy, in the famous "Hooker 99," dashed to victory in :32.4 seconds.

The ten-lap consolation race went to Otto Lind in a Frontenac, with Bill Heisler in another Frontenac and Earnest M. Triplet in a Verne Miller special right behind. Time, 5:40.4. The other ten-lap consolation went to P. R. Barrett, with Gravy DeWitt second. Time was 5:37.

LOOP SCHEDULE TO BE ADOPTED

New Draft Proposal Also to Be Acted Upon

Agreement with Majors Boon to Coast Circuit

Plaza Hotel is Scene of Official Confab

BY BOB RAY

Meeting principally to discuss the proposed minor-major league draft agreement, drawn up at the recent gathering at French Lick Springs, Ind., and the adoption of a schedule for the coming campaign, magnates of the Pacific Coast League gather today at the Hollywood Plaza Hotel for their annual confab.

Aside from the fact that the boys are going to play golf at the Lakeside Country Club this afternoon and sit in on a beefsteak feed at the Hollywood Athletic Club this evening, what's going to be the result of the meeting is a dire if not dark secret.

H. William Lane, president of the Hollywood Stars, who is the host at the confab and who was the Coast League representative at the major-minor leagues' meeting, will tell the gathered moguls what he knows and thinks about the proposed new draft agreement between the big

YANKEES RUIN GENERAL SQUAD

"Bullet" Baker Scores Trio of Touchdowns

Larry Marks Features With Long Gallops

Locals Completely Outclassed by Visiting Club

BY BRAVEN DYER

The 1927 track season burst upon us a bit prematurely at Wrigley Field yesterday when "Red" Orange's New York Yankees ran away from the Hollywood Generals, 48 to 6, being the official tally. Eddie Tryon, Larry Marks and Roy Baker galloped hither and thither and yon and other less prominent visiting athletes added sprints of smaller magnitude during the afternoon's frolic.

CHARLEY DEAN

As might be surmised the Yankees were an entirely different aggregation from that which took a 30-to-6 thumping at the hands of "Brick" Muller's boys last week. Orange's charges functioned as a team at all times, running beautiful interference, especially on those sweeping end runs which featured Marks in lengthy gallops.

Hollywood didn't offer a great deal in the way of opposition. Charley Dean, new General skipper, strengthened his backfield by adding "Potsy" Clarke and "Red" Strader, but he weakened his line when he released such good men as "Steve" Beam, Tiger Ratterman and George Meiser. Except for occasional bursts of speed

Hollywood and Jefferson Game Tops Dull Basketball Program Tomorrow

DEMOCRATS DUE FOR WALLOPING

Foothillers Just About in With Championship

Manual Arts Doped to Trim Polytechnic Squad

Lincoln Cagers Favorites Over Franklinites

With a trio of the strong quintets pitted against the three weak sisters, City League basketball followers are in for a dull round of play tomorrow.

Billy Paige's Hollywood Foothillers who just about have the 1927 championship sewed up, tackle the Jefferson cagers in what can probably be called the feature game of the afternoon, but a lop-sided victory for the Movie City quintet is being freely predicted. Provided they win their remaining two games with Jefferson and Poly echnic the Foothillers will be returned champions no matter what the other contenders do.

After losing their opening tussle to Manual Arts, the Foothillers have bumped off Lincoln, L. A. High and Franklin and figure to easily dispose of the Democrats and Mechanics. Manual has been beaten by both Lincoln and L. A. High, so the Toilers, the only team that could possibly nose out Hollywood for the title, are out of the running.

Another game on tomorrow's prep program brings together Manual and Polytechnic in what should result in the most evenly matched of the three lop-sided pairings. The Mechanics have very little scoring strength, but they are big, strong and tough, so they should give the Toilers a rough afternoon. Coach Motta Blair's quintet should win by at least a ten-point margin.

The third struggle of the afternoon will be between Lincoln and Franklin. The Kiteflyers have only one game in their win column and that one got there because Jefferson forfeited when the Democrats discovered that they had used an ineligible man against Franklin, so Lincoln should triumph easily.

Prep cage fans are now looking forward to Friday's feature struggle, which will bring together the husky and speedy Lincoln and L. A. High fives. The winner of this game will tie with Hollywood in the percentage column, but the title will go to the Foothillers because they hold decisions over both the Hallspitters and Romans.

COAST LEAGUE MOGULS GATHER

and little fellows of baseball from 10 o'clock until noon today and then somebody will make a motion that the meeting be adjourned. Forthwith the moguls will carry their baseball battles to the Lakeside Country Club links, where a tournament will be staged for those of them who can play golf and those who only think that they are proficient at the ancient and honorable Scottish pastime. Baseball scribes will be allowed to participate in the tournament, but umpires are barred. Club owners are like ball players in their opinions of arbiters.

When it is finally decided which of the participants forgot to count the most strokes and is awarded his prize the magnates will journey over to the Hollywood Athletic Club where beefsteaks, well done, or rare, will be waiting for them. The rest of the evening will be spent in the customary jawing around the so-called festive board.

Tomorrow morning the magnates will reconvene at the Hollywood Plaza Hotel and then's when the work to be done will be accomplished.

Of course the draft business will take up most of the time but it is thought that the Coast Leaguers will adopt the proposal rather than break away from the majors.

Bill Lane believes that the new agreement will be a boon to this circuit and that means that the Angels, Seattle and Portland will probably side in with him. The Seals and Missions have come out against the universal draft plan, so J. Cal Ewing, who casts the Oakland vote and always does just the opposite from his transbay friends, will no doubt join the Angel-Hollywood-Portland-Seattle faction to give them the majority vote.

However, J. Cal has a couple of good major league prospects in Lynn Lary and Jimmy Reese and he'd hate to part with them for $7500, the proposed new draft price, so he may switch to the San Francisco delegation.

That would leave it up to Uncle Lew Moreing, who owns the Sacramento club. Uncle Lew hasn't got anything to gain by voting against the draft, so it looks as though it would be adopted.

After the draft business is threshed out the magnates will start in and try to adopt a schedule for the coming race. Herbie McFarlin, the Oakland secretary, and John Derks, who operates on Bill Lane's payroll, have drawn up several tentative schedules and mailed them around to the club owners. It may be that one of them will be adopted.

The main question concerning the schedule is whether or not the race will get under way in March, one week earlier than the usual starting time, and end two weeks before the customary finish. The boys voted for an earlier starting and closing time up at Portland last November, but there are rumors floating around now that some of them would like to change their votes.

DAWSON ON MOUND AS BATTERIES WIN

Joe Dawson, former Louisville hurler, was on the mound for the Hobbs Battery team yesterday, and hurled a three-hit victory over Alhambra. The score was 4 to 1. Dawson and "String" MacDonald performed in a classy hurling duel. The Battery team has won four straight games, including a shut-out victory over Arcadia.

Score:

Hobbs Batteries	4	11	2
Alhambra	1	3	3

Batteries—Dawson and Hall; MacDonald and Sills.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

THE outcome of the Lomski-Flowers fight Saturday turns the spotlight on a very interesting middleweight situation. It is both local and national in scope, with Los Angeles as the vortex. We have in our midst today the four leading middleweights of the country—Mickey Walker, champion; Tiger Flowers, champion until two months ago; Leo Lomski, who has beaten Flowers, and Joe Anderson, who has defeated Lomski.

If this isn't enough material for a series of smashing matches our local matchmakers, who have been crying for talent, ought to try swimming Bill Wrigley's little channel unattended. Walker has been here a month and has started active training, although he has no immediate fight planned. Lomski will fight anybody. Anderson arrived last Friday to train for a bout with Bert Colima, who, if he really intends to make his recent comeback eighteen - carat pure has opportunity staring him square in the eye. A victory over Anderson would put Bert ace high in middleweight ranks, right next to Walker, the man who beat him in his welterweight days.

There hasn't been a natural in sight around Los Angeles[illegible] weeks, but that Anderson-Colima affair at Vernon February 8 is the goods. The victor with Walker, Flowers or Lomski would make another dandy match.

In the meantime we have a scrap at Doyle's tomorrow night that will determine the future standing of Harry (Kid) Brown in this community. Without a great deal of fuss Brown has beaten in turn Baby Joe Gans, Harry Wills and Johnny Adams. In Jackie Fields he is meeting the fastest and cleverest of the local lightweight crop—a boy Olg Rooney has been bringing along slowly to a point where he is just about ready to rule the coast lightweight roost.

"Babe Comes Home" is the title of that picture Babe Ruth is going to make for First National. It is a story written by the late Gerald Beaumont and was formerly named "Lily of the Laundry." Babe has been relieved of his Pantages contract after this week's efforts in Salt Lake, and will return here immediately to commence work in the Illums. It will take about three weeks to shoot the scenes in which Babe is to appear, after which the demon home-run tickler will dash for the East. Christy Walsh, who has been handling Babe's affairs on his "Pan" tour, says the movie contract was signed after Babe was assured that the work therein would not interfere with the conditioning program he has laid out to get himself into the best of shape for the start of the baseball season.

BAN JOHNSON REMOVED FROM JOB AS AMERICAN LOOP HEAD

mously repudiated any and all criticism appearing in the public press as emanating from Mr. Johnson, reflecting in any way upon Judge Landis or his handling the several investigations, concerning the integrity of ball players in the American League, and commended Judge Landis for his part in clearing baseball of any insinuation of dishonesty.

"Mr. Johnson submitted to the meeting a formal written statement in which he anounced that all evidence involved in the matter of the Cobb and Speaker investigations had been submitted to the commissioner and had been by him published.

"Dr. Robert B. Drury, Mr. Johnson's personal attending physician, certified to the meeting that Mr. Johnson's health was such that he should immediately take a muchneeded rest.

"Whereupon the duties of president were thereafter for the time being to Mr. Frank J. Navin of Detroit, vice-president of the league.

"At our request Judge Landis indefinitely postponed the meeting of the baseball club owners called for tomorrow."

HEALTH FAILING

Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees; E. S. Barnhard, president of the Cleveland club Clark Griffith, president of the Washington club, and Thomas Shibe, president of the Philadelphia Athletics, together with Dr. Drury called on Commissioner Landis at his hotel this afternoon after the meeting with Johnson and prevailed upon the commissioner to meet them tonight.

Ruppert, as spokesman for the delegation, explained to the commissioner that President Johnson's health had been failing for months and that the clubowners were ready to relieve him so that he could take a rest.

When the formal statement was given out, calling off tomorrow's session, the commissioner was asked how the sudden turn of events would affect the status of Cobb and Speaker.

"I will have something to say about that later," the commissioner said. "There is nothing more to say now."

Johnson, once the ruling power of organized baseball, possibly had an intimation of his removal from office. Soon after leaving the meeting of clubowners this afternoon, the American League executive, together with Killilea and his secretary, returned to his office to remain until Killilea left to appear before the clubowners and Commissioner Landis at tonight's session.

FIGHTS UNTIL END

Then Johnson left his office in charge of Clarence Rowland and Brick Owens, American League umpires, and went to his home on Chicago's South Side to receive the verdict of Commissioner Landis on the proposals submitted to him. He waited alone with his wife, the return of Killilea and his secretary, Harridge.

Johnson, always a fighter for what he regarded as the best interests of baseball, was fighting until the last today.

To his intimates, he declared he never would resign, and his last utterance before going to his home was, "I'll stick until hell freezes over."

Johnson's arch enemy in the league, Comiskey of the White Sox, who joined in ushering him out of office tonight, was the man who put Johnson in organized baseball.

Together they formed what was then known as the Western League in 1893. In 1900, from their organization, they formed the present American League.

COMISKEY HOBBLES IN

Comiskey, a warrior grown gray in the battles of baseball, hobbled in to attend tonight's session, leaning heavily on a cane. He did not attend the session this afternoon as Johnson had not invited him. In fact, Comiskey has not attended any American League session except the joint session here two years ago when Johnson's club owners publicly rebuked him for his criticism of Landis and pledged Landis that they would remove him if he persisted in further criticism. Tonight they did just that.

Johnson in his control of the American League, ruled with an iron hand. So great was his influence that he was known for years as the czar of organized baseball. He continually worked to uplift the standards of the sport, dealing out suspensions to such stars as Babe Ruth and others for violations of the playing and training rules.

Until a year ago, Johnson served at an annual salary of $30,000. In 1910, at the suggestion of Comiskey, he was re-elected to office for a term of twenty years. Then a year ago last December Johnson's salary was boosted to $40,000 a year and his contract extended to 1935.

BASEBALL SCRIBE

Johnson served the American League since its inception, getting his preliminary training as a baseball writer in Cincinnati, after a brief thrust into the practice of law. It was while engaged in newspaper work in Cincinnati that Johnson met Comiskey, then manager of the Cincinnati Nationals.

Comiskey urged Johnson to quit newspaper work and enter the professional baseball field. It was due to Johnson's ability and diplomacy that the new American League held its own in its warfare with the National League and finally brought about the signing of the famous pact at Cincinnati in 1903, after one of the most bitter struggles in the history of the sport. The new league raided the National League, obtaining many of the leading players by offering them increased salaries and bonuses.

The expansion of the American League and its development was remarkable under Johnson's guidance. Johnson was successful in interesting wealthy friends to back the venture, even up to recent years.

Johnson, together with his baseball associates, was the organizer of the old-time national commission, which governed the sport until the crooked world series of 1919 and the subsequent selection of Landis from the Federal bench to become baseball commissioner.

JUST PASSED SIXTY-O'S

August "Garry" Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati Nationals, served with Johnson, and John A. Heydler, president of the National League, as members of the old national commission, Herrmann acting as chairman.

Johnson was born in Cleveland in 1866 and has just passed his sixty-first birthday. He attended college at Oberlin and Marietta, and later was graduated in law from the Cincinnati Law School. Johnson recently donated $25,000 to Marietta College to go toward a fund for building a gymnasium.

COMMERCIAL CLUB WINS

"Chuck" Leathers pitched the Commercial Club to a brilliant 7 to 0 victory over the strong Long Beach Moose team at Recreation Park yesterday in a Major Industrial League game. Leathers did not allow a hit or run in the full nine innings while his team-mates were fielding brilliantly behind him to cut off what looked like hits in the fourth and ninth innings. Only three balls were hit to the outfield off Leathers's delivery, Cy Young catching them all. The game was played in the remarkable time of fifty-eight minutes, which is probably a record in local baseball annals. The Long Beach team had only twenty-five men legally at bat, two men being walked and thrown out on double plays. Crowley to Bumiller to Carrillo. Al Bumiller, former Brooklyn and Los Angeles player, had a perfect day at bat, getting a single, triple and three walks out of five times up.

GLOBES BATTLE MAROONS

Jerry Mooney, former defense player of the Globe Ice Cream hockey team, gets his first chance to play against his former team-mates tonight at the Winter Garden Ice Palace. Mooney was sold to the Winter Garden Maroons for $1000 and Ross Miller, a forward.

The Maroons have lacked a defense and it is expected that Mooney will give the team the necessary help. The forward line is well balanced and Tommy Dunderdale, Jack Wilson and Bud Horsfall look better with each start. Lack of teamwork has handicapped the team in the past, but they have overcome that.

Globe and the Maroons staged a sensational game last Monday night and the ice-cream boys had to go an extra period to win by a score of 2-1. With the big Irishman in the Maroon line-up, look for the rink boys to take the ice a big favorite.

TOM TURNER AGAINST DRAFT

Tom Turner, president of the Portland club, and vice-president of the Pacific Coast League for the past three years, arrived in town yesterday, and vociferously declared himself to be "unanimously" against the proposed major league draft.

"The Pacific Coast League should be a league entirely by itself," he declared. "The league, in my opinion, will be of major league caliber in three or five years, and we want to be independent, not attached to the eastern major leagues by any draft."

Incidentally Turner spent several minutes in singing the praises of Harry Williams, president of the league. "Williams is to be congratulated on his new staff of umpires," Turner declared.

TWENTY ONE YEARS of BASE BALL

by Eddie Collins

[Copyright, 1927, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

XIV FREAK PLAYS I HAVE SEEN

Having played in more than 2600 games of ball and having seen a great many more, I cannot undertake to describe the "greatest play I ever saw" as I have had numerous requests to do. Some plays are long remembered because the game in which they were made was an important one, while other plays that are the ultimate in brilliancy of execution are thought of only for a day if the game is not a "crucial" one, or if the player happens not to be a local hero, but just a ball player, which most of us are.

Many astounding plays I have seen have been barely alluded to in the newspaper stories, some have had a note and others were never even mentioned. There is no personal complaint in that statement. It is just a fact. I have always had full credit for anything I have done, and then some.

Bill Wambsganss's unassisted triple play in the world series of 1920 got columns of space because of its rarity. It was an extremely simple performance, whereas I have seen the same Bill make dozens of stops and catches of the greatest difficulty. As a contrast to Wamby's simple triple killing, I will cite here just two other plays, either of which would have done credit to Bill himself as far as brilliancy and skin are concerned, a twenty years. Then a year ago last December Johnson's salary was boosted to $40,000 a year and his contract extended to 1935.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER, BILL HENRY

RED GRANGE'S little old football team looked like an entirely different animal yesterday than it did against Brick Muller's outfit the week before. Of course, it was partly due to the fact that the Hollywood Generals aren't any world's champions but it was in no small degree due to the fact that the beating they took taught them a lesson. When Grange and Muller get together again next Sunday to bring the long-strung-out football season to a fitting close it ought to be a game worth going miles to see as the Grangermen will undoubtedly be on their toes and Muller's eleven will want to repeat. The presence of George Wilson and Rabbit Bradshaw on the Grange eleven likewise ought to add considerably to the excitment.

The ability, or lack of it, of Jackie Fields ought to be pretty well demonstrated this week when the ex-Olympic champ does his stuff with this mysterious Brown person who persists in knocking our local heroes for a loop. Nobody ever thought that Jackie wasn't a real champion until all of a sudden one night Jimmy McLarnin knocked him kicking. Since that time the Hebrew youngster has been slowly but surely re-establishing himself in the popular fancy and if he can brush this Brown person out of his way he will again find himself right up at the top of the lightweight heap. That's what is needed right now—a new face among the topnotchers.

Bill Tilden's presence in the city championships ought to add considerable prestige to that event which is being played, for a change, on the public courts of Griffith Park. Tilden seems to be best on staying in this vicinity for a while and, since he is about the most willing person in the world in the matter of public appearances, a lot of people who haven't seen him in action ought to get an opportunity to do so. Tilden has enjoyed a reign at the top of the heap a lot longer than anybody in past history and if you haven't seen him play, you haven't seen everything yet.

Los Angeles for the first time in history enjoys the distinction of having an unusual number of star track-and-field athletes ineligible for college teams but willing to perform for one of the local clubs. There was a foretaste of that when the L.A.A.C. mopped up on Stanford last year and this season the material is far more numerous and classy. Half a dozen good men graduated from U.S.C. and other schools around here and it won't be long until we have club teams here capable of cleaning up the colleges pretty nearly any afternoon.

YANKEES BEAT HOLLYWOOD

Grange's Gridders Roll Up 48 to 6 Win Over Charley Dean's Generals at Wrigley Field

by Clarke and a fair passing attack the Generals had nothing offensively and their defense was certainly nothing to write home about. The locals were considerably outweighed by the Yanks and added to this Coach Ralph Scott shot substitutes right and left, keeping plenty of fresh gridders in the fray.

BAKER IN LIMELIGHT

"Bullet" Baker, the old U.S.C. battering ram, scored three touchdowns and also made himself conspicuous by contributing a pair of fumbled punts, Hollywood's lone score coming soon after Roy had hobbled the two kicks. Eddie Tryon tallied twice and Grange scored one touchdown from the 5-yard line. "Red" didn't get into the fracas until the middle of the second quarter and then retired at the close of the third stanza.

It was Larry Marks, however, who really pestered the Generals. After Baker had scored the opening touchdown on an 18-yard dash around his own right end early in the first quarter Marks got under way. Larry's longest gallop of the day came at this point, he racing 47 yards around his own left end to plant the ball deep in Hollywood territory. Two plays later Tryon reeled off 10 yards to place the pigskin on the 3-yard stripe and then "Bullet" bored through for the second touchdown.

In the second quarter George Pease, passing brilliantly, tossed the Generals dizzy. "Red" Maloney, former Dartmouth end, and Paul Goebel, the ex-Michigan bean-pole, did some spectacular receiving. Tryon scored the touchdowns registered in this period, but it was the Yankee aerial attack which worked the ball to within tallying distance.

TRYON TURNS IN RUN

Tryon began the second half right where he had left off, shooting around his own left end for a spectacular run of 53 yards. This brought the ball to the 5-yard line and Grange went around Hollywood's left wing for the touchdown on the next play.

Baker then contributed his two fumbled punts and Hollywood gained almost the length of the field on the errors. Clarke tore off 20 yards to place the ball on Grange's 2-foot line for a first down. Dean let Tout and Clarke each take a crack at the touchdown, but when both failed Charley tried it himself on third down and crashed over. Tout's conversion attempt was blocked.

Marks came to the front again in the latter part of the third period, reeling off 35 yards down the sidelines. Larry generally got great interference and he certainly galloped along behind it.

After a 20-yard pass from Pease to Maloney in the fourth period, Marks went 5 yards around his own left end for the sixth touchdown. Two minutes before the game ended Baker got his third score, smashing his way around Hollywood's left wing for 10 yards.

As somebody remarked, "Hollywood wasn't as bad as he had expected—they were worse." At that some of the locals played good football, notably Benny Tout, Dean, Clarke and Hobo Kincaid. Adams also did well at end, but the boys hadn't been together very long and they never had a chance against the well-drilled and up-and-coming Yankees.

BOUT ENLIVENS GAME

The game was considerably enlivened in the fourth stanza by a fistic encounter between Goebel of the Yanks and Miller of the Generals. The boys were on the ground, thumping each other lustily, when officials separated them. It must have been a draw inasmuch as both were removed from the game.

It was announced between halves that the Yankees, reinforced by George Wilson and "Rabbit" Bradshaw, will meet "Brick" Muller's gang at Wrigley Field next Sunday. It ought to be a riot, especially as the Muller boys will be rarin' to get revenge on Georgs for yesterday's defeat in the north and Grange and company will be on hand to wipe out last week's defeat.

The harrowing details:

Yankees (48)	Pos.	Generals (6)

KID BROWN GAINS SUPPORT

Jackie Fields's Foe, Quoted as Short-ender Two Weeks Ago, Now Even Money Bet in Vernon Bout

Harry (Kid) Brown has jumped into popular favor in his bout with Jackie Fields at Vernon tomorrow night until he is expected to go in the ring at even money.

Two weeks ago when the match was made Fields was quoted at 10-6 over the flashy easterner. Then came the Fields-Mario bout at Hollywood. It was a tough fight—the toughest Jackie has ever engaged in. He won, but did not display the cleverness which fans expect of the Olympic champion.

HARRY "KID" BROWN

The odds went to 10-8 and now they are riding bets at near even money. One bet of $100 to $600 was made that Brown stops Fields. On the other side of the house another wager was placed of $400 against $900 that Fields knocks Brown out.

Both contestants are figuring on a knockout, but both are primed for speed in case no haymaker openings are offered.

"I look at this match as the toughest I've ever had," says Fields. "If Brown wasn't fighting over his head when he beat Baby Joe Gans, Young Harry Wills and Johnny Adams, he must be a great fighter. If he was fighting over his head I may knock him out."

Brown was never more confident of winning than he is against Fields. He claims that Fields may be flashy, but he hasn't the stamina and the experience to carry him through.

Just four months ago Brown substituted for Eddie (Kid) Wagner against Billy Wallace in Cleveland and got a draw. The ranking of eastern scrappers places Wallace at the top of the pile, since his knockout of Kid Kaplan.

Young Sam Langford meets a hitter in Frankie Tierney in the semifinal. Tierney once held Wills to a draw.

WHITTIER, BRANCH IN FRONT

Poets, Bruins Top Southern Conference in Basket Race; Occidental in Third Place

Southern Branch and Whittier evidently are scheduled to battle it out for Conference basketball honors this year, even as they did last season. This despite the fact that Occidental is panting but a game behind the two undefeated leaders.

Branch's feat in trimming Caltech, 24 to 18, on Friday and coming back in keen fashion to trample Stanford, 23 to 21, in a hard game on Saturday stamps the Bruins as not only a scrappy team, but one well backed with reserves. It was the second-string squad that defeated Caltech.

Whittier had no trouble in winning 32-20 from La Verne Saturday, and displayed a continually improving attack. Occidental showed lots of fight, but not much basket-shooting ability in winning a pair of games from San Diego State. The scores were 24 to 22 and 25 to 24. San Diego apparently hasn't much of a team this year, but Occidental had all kinds of trouble winning from the Aztecs. Redlands proved none too easy for Pomona in the other conference tilt over the week-end, the Sagehens winning a strenuous contest, 22 to 21.

Stanford split even in its local appearances, however, for the Cards defeated the U.S.C. Trojans, 38 to 27, in the opening of the Pacific Coast Conference in the Olympic Auditorium Friday night. It took an extra five minutes of play. The Cards didn't seem to be at their best the following night for the Bruin encounter.

GLENDORA NINE WINS ORANGE LEAGUE TITLE

Harry Nelson's Glendora team won the championship of the Orange Belt League yesterday afternoon, defeating Bres, 12 to 6, at Glendora. Louie Almada, former Los Angeles High School star, was rapped out of the box by the winners. Salazar pitched steady ball for the Glendora club.

POPE WINS SHOOT

Lester A. Pope scored 153 to win a leg on the Murphy and Verbeck trophies at the Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club yesterday. C. O. Fraser finished second with 140.

On Spalding Golf Shoes the spikes are for the TURF

YOUR feet will never know they are there. Thirty-seven years of making athletic shoes has taught us to make a spiked sole shoe that is comfortable as a felt slipper. The spikes have big, flat heads riveted beneath the outer sole. They can't work loose. They never come out—they never can cause—those ugly bumps that hurt your feet.

Spalding Golf Shoes with rubber or leather cushion rubber soles, too. And, spikes or no spikes, remember, they are all true athletic shoes. Those that only Spalding knows how to make. $10 to most models.

ARMOUR TIES COURSE MARK TO WIN EL PASO GOLF EVENT

EL PASO (Tex.) Jan. 23. (AP)—Equaling the unofficial course record with a 67 in the afternoon round, after turning in a 71, two better than par for the morning, Tommy Armour, professional, from the Congressional Country Club, Washington, D. C., walked off with first honors in El Paso's $2300 open golf tournament, today. He grossed 288 holes for the seventy-two holes.

Johnny Golden, North Jersey Country Club, and Joe Kirkwood, Albany (Ga.) club, tied for second place with 292, while Art De Mate of the Sound View (N. Y.) club was fourth with 297, closely followed by Joe Turnesa, Elmswood, N. Y., with 299.

Golf of sensational style featured the final day's shooting. When the play started, Golden had a commanding lead, being four on Leonard Schmutte, Lima, O., five on Kirkwood, and six on Armour.

But Armour greeted the sunshine with a smile. He stepped off the first nine with a 37, followed with a 34 for a 71, two below par, for the morning, and then came back with a 35 and 32 for 67, equalling the record, in the afternoon.

It was Armour's final shot that caused the large gallery to tender him an ovation. Teeing off for the eighteenth hole, he drove a long ball to the bunker on the right of the course. Using a mashie, the Washingtonian lofted the ball high, only to see it drop in a trap on the left of the green. Tommy had a three-stroke lead. But he decided to take a chance, and again using a mashie, he shot for the hole. The ball struck the edge of the green and rolled straight as an arrow for the cup. He made a birdie three for a 67.

TY COBB GETS ORIOLE OFFER

BALTIMORE (Md.) Jan. 23. (AP)—Ty Cobb, former manager of the Detroit American League club, today was offered a contract calling for a salary of $25,000 a year to play with the Baltimore club of the International League. The offer was telegraphed by Jack Dunn, president of the Orioles, to Cobb at the Congress Hotel, Chicago.

BASKETBALL

Three games are on schedule tonight in the A.A.U. basketball tournament. The San Pedro Athletic Club and the Pacific Coast Club tangle at Long Beach in the feature engagement. With nine victories in eleven tilts the latter team is favored. In the two other contests the Van Nuys Athletic Club meets the L.A.A.C. Mercuries, and the local Y.M.C.A. meets the St. Marks Methodist Episcopal Church.

The Hollywood A. C. squad is topping the league with but one defeat in ten games, that one reversal being a surprise upset at the hands of the Pasadena Athletic and Country Club. Standings:

DOG AND GORCHAKOFF WIN IN CITY AMATEUR NET PLAY

Johnny Doeg and Ben Gorchakoff, leading tennis players in the Los Angeles city amateur senior tennis championships, enjoyed a brilliant day at Griffith Park Playground yesterday afternoon.

More than 200 fans crowded about the centralhurst as Doeg, national junior champion, made his initial appearance in the tourney yesterday. George Wanamaker, local junior, proved the first victim of the titleholder, losing 6-0, 6-1, decision. The small cup of spectators, however, as well as Wanamaker, were convinced it Doeg's prowess on the court is not only strong, and especially in the department of volleying and serving.

Ben Gorchakoff, first seeded entry, recent winner of the Southland men's championship, entered the round of sixteen plays by virtue of two victories, that over Frank Pollar, 6-0, 6-3, and the second decision from Leonates, Manual Arts star, 6-0, 6-4.

In the men's doubles, the inexperienced doubles machine of Jack Phillips and Sky Bennett, both Los Angeles Highschool youngsters, found their best tennis tennis yesterday, coming mighty close to trouncing Joe Hunt and Joe Saunders, local stars. A three-set struggle was finally waged to the senior combination, after a brilliant comeback by the jurs in the second set. The final scorewere 6-3, 4-6, 6-2. Gorchakoff and Craig, collegiate doubles champions of the State and second seeded doubles machine trailing Big Bill Tilden and Ben Harwood, drew a huge gary of fans in their first-round match against Hawks and Brotchi, whose handicap at 6-3, 6-0. Play in the tournament will continue next Saturday and Sunday early in the mornings. Big Bill Tilden, ex-national champion, will be playing both days, in the men's doubles and exhibition matches also. The preliminary matches up to and including the quarter finals in all events are slated for Saturday, while the semifinal and final-round contests have been billed for Sunday afternoon.

Following are yesterday's results:

I'M THE GINK

I'm the ginkette who discusses family affairs on the street car. I tell Mayme about how father raved at mama for burning the biscuit, or how little Johnny broke out Mrs. Jones's plate-glass door throwing at the Smiths' cat. I rave about sister's new beau and his soulful eyes, and how I got "bawled out" for taking a joy ride with my boy friend. I save all the neighborhood gossip for the street car. Even the most intimate family affairs are discussed in a rather loud tone. I'm the street-car gossip.

FAR AWAY FROM WEDDING BELLS

Bakersfield Air Port Scene of Aerial Marriage as Cupid Ship Soars to the Clouds With Newlyweds

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 23.—Justice of the Peace T. A. Baker, pioneer of Kern county, became the pioneer aerial justice at 1 o'clock this afternoon when he married Ward "Happy" Davis and Miss Betty Noel, pretty San Francisco girl, in a speeding plane above Kern county airport.

Elaborate plans were made for the ceremony, and immediately after the wedding in the clouds the couple started from the airport on a flying honeymoon trip which will carry them through the northern sections of old Mexico.

Asked if he would perform the marriage, Justice Baker consented, but balked when told that the front cockpit of the plane was big enough only for himself and the bride-to-be. The groom, he was old, would ride outside, in the wind, holding onto struts and standing on the wing of the plane. "But there will have to be a witness," declared the justice.

With which R. H. Martin, pilot of the plane, came forward with the offer to serve. "I will shut down the motor and glide, then I can fulfill the legal requirements of hearing the vows," he said.

The wedding was performed in full sight of spectators at the airport while a group of local flyers accompanied the wedding ship into the air.

"They are asking more and more of a justice these days," declared Justice Baker, who had never been in an airplane before.

MODERN COLLEGE PLANT

Buildings of State Teachers' School at San Diego to Cost Approximately $1,000,000

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 23.—Tentative plans for the new San Diego State College call for a total expenditure of $1,000,000, according to requirements outlined by President Edward L. Hardy. The program of expenditure for the buildings on the new site covers the period 1927-1931.

Plans include the construction of an administration building, a training school, science building, physical education building, shops and a library auditorium. Together with expenses and incidents, the buildings are estimated at $1,000,000. It is expected that the new plant will be occupied in September, 1930.

The construction, according to the present plan of expenditures, is to be divided into three periods, determined by the comparative immediate need for the buildings. The central building with a total of sixty-five rooms, is to house the administration offices, instructors' offices, class-rooms and a library so constructed that it can later conveniently be converted into classrooms at a small expense. The training school is to have thirty-five rooms.

A science building, with a biology laboratory and physical science laboratory wings, connecting lecture rooms and offices, is to be constructed so that quarters for bacteriology and physiology can be added later on one side and geology and physiography quarters on the other.

The physical education structure is to consist of men's dressing-rooms and showers and women's dressing-rooms and showers.

Construction in the 1929-1930 period is to include shop units, which are to be connected in factory style. The library-auditorium building will not be built until the 1930-1931 period.

City Councils Hold Confab on Water Problem

ARCADIA, Jan. 23.—Another effort to settle a water dispute between Arcadia and Sierra Madre will be made tomorrow night when the City Councils of these cities will meet here. Although both sides profess a sincere desire to settle the matter without further court action, Arcadia officials intimated today that they will just "listen in" on Sierra Madre's contentions.

The squabble, which started nearly a year ago, concerns the water supply from Santa Anita Canyon, Sierra Madre claiming that Arcadia is taking water from the Raymond dike basin for general city use, while entitled only to serve a section north of Foothill Boulevard between First avenue and the Double drive, and all land west of the Double drive, south to Huntington Drive.

Arcadia officials were advised by Judge Brown, City Attorney, that they are entitled to use of this water by preceptive right, and it was believed unlikely that Arcadia Trustees would make many concessions in a compromise as they claim legal rights expected to be upheld in court.

Sierra Madre recently filed an injunction to restrict Arcadia's use of the Santa Anita water.

MONROVIA CITIZENS BECOME AMBITIOUS

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO START CAMPAIGN FOR NEW CHARTER

MONROVIA, Jan. 23.—That a campaign to have Monrovia removed from the ranks of sixth-class cities with adoption of a municipal charter for a higher rank will be started immediately, was announced following a Directors' meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night.

It was pointed out that the Federal census will be taken in 1930 and that Monrovia will profit from a publicity standpoint by attaining a higher municipal rating before that time.

It is the chamber plan, Walter Keefe, president, announced, to obtain several experts to discuss the advantages and disadvantages of charter government, from which the chamber will make definite recommendations.

Chamber officials today were endeavoring to arrange a conference with the City Trustees tomorrow night.

STATE OFFICIAL TO VISIT ELKS' LODGE

MONROVIA, Jan. 23. — Mifflin G. Potts, president of the California Elks' State Association, will pay his official visit to Monrovia Elks' Lodge 1427 tomorrow night at which time he will discuss problems of Statewide lodge interest. Initiation of a large class of candidates will precede Mr. Potts's address and a buffet luncheon will ble served following the lodge session.

FARM BUREAU BANQUET

HANFORD, Jan. 23.—B. P. Cocheron, State director of university extension work in agriculture, is to be in Hanford Thursday and speak at the annual banquet of the Kings County Farm Bureau on agricultural economics. At noon he is to be the guest of the Hanford Board of Trade at a luncheon, and will talk on the outlook in the Orient.

SCIOTS IN COLORFUL PARADE

Masons Stage Brilliant Ceremonial

James A. Lynch, Pharaoh Supreme Pyramid of World Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots

E. S. Dixon, Toparch Inglewood Pyramid

New Pyramid at Inglewood

Fifteen hundred participate in ceremonies incident to initiation of more than a hundred new members.

INGLEWOOD, Dec. 23.—More than 1500 Sciots from various Southland cities paraded here last night in the greatest lodge event in the history of the Centinela Valley, the installation here of the Forty-sixth Pyramid of the Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots. This order bears the same relation to Master Masonry that the Shriners do to the higher degrees of the craft.

The installation was graced by the presence of Pharaoh James A. Lynch of Long Beach of the Supreme Pyramid of the World, who acted as installing officer.

The great parade was the most brilliant and colorful ever seen here, owing to the gorgeous uniforms of many of the Sciot organizations, enhanced by red fire and other illumination. The Sciots marched to the music of various uniformed bands of the order, including those of pyramids from Los Angeles, Glendale, Long Beach and Pasadena.

Forming at the Inglewood Woman's Club building, the procession paraded the business district and returned to the starting point for the installation ceremonies.

Those who have the honor of being installed as the charter officers of the new Pyramid by supreme heads of the order are: E. S. Dixon, Toparch; Henry S. Ridings, Mohib; R. M. Overpeck, Armesis; Frank R. Wolter, Pastophori; I. E. Bartlett, Scribe; Roy L. Hill, Chancellor; Attorney Newcomb Condee, Ralph L. Lamb and Hugh B. Lawrence, Trustees. The Supreme Pharaoh was assisted in installing by Supreme Scribe Carl Eber of San Francisco.

The new Pyramid, according to Mr. Dixon, has the distinction of having the largest number of petitioners, or charter members of any of the Southland, there being 106. The "Raw meat" as they were called, paraded under close guard and securely bound to a long rope.

More Delay in Water Case in Tulare County

VISALIA, Jan. 23.—Appeal of the Lindsay-Strathmore Irrigation District from the finding returned last spring by Superior Judge Albert Lee Stephens of Los Angeles county, in favor of the Tulare Irrigation District, plaintiffs in California's most famous water fight, that over waters of the Kaweah River delta, which was expected to be formally started on its way toward a higher court on February 4, has been delayed another month.

Instead of being in California to attend to this matter, according to previous date set, Judge Stephens will be somewhere in the East, it is announced. March 4 has been set as new date for resuming the local case.

The defendants have been granted a number of continuances for extra time in which to prepare their records for the appeal. Almost a year has passed since the judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiffs.

A bill of exceptions on the part of the defendants, the Lindsay-Strathmore district, and H. R. Heubert, has been filed in the Consolidated People's ditch case, this being in connection with the appeal by the defendants against the granting of a temporary injunction restraining surface diversion through the Merryman canal of water from the Kaweah River.

School Survey Results to be Meeting Topic

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 23.—Results of a survey by William John Cooper, superintendent of city schools, and principals of the various schools, will be announced Monday night to representatives of civic organizations at a meeting to be held with the Board of Education.

Cooper said today he would have no recommendations to make at the meeting but would present numerous charts and data concerning the schools from which may be seen the improvements needed in the many buildings.

The survey has been conducted by the superintendent, who was aided for a period by Dr. Hart, University of California, school survey and building specialist. Results of the survey show a low rating for the schools inspected as far as the investigation has gone. Five elementary schools and one junior high school have been surveyed.

LUTHERANS DEDICATE INGLEWOOD CHURCH

SERVICES HELD IN EDIFICE FIRST USED CHRISTMAS DAY

INGLEWOOD, Jan. 23.—The First Lutheran Church of Inglewood held the dedicatory rites today in the new church edifice, which was completed and first used as a house of worship on Christmas Day. Special services were held morning, afternoon and evening and Lutherans from various Los Angeles and Orange county communities were present in large numbers.

Rev. William Lange, under whose pastorate the congregation has had a phenomenal growth during the year, preached at the morning service, and he also addressed the Sabbath school. Following the morning services the officers for the coming year were installed.

The dedication of altar and pulpit at the afternoon service was solemnized by Rev. J. E. A. Doermann of Long Beach. Rev. H. W. Myer addressed the Luther League service and the evening congregation heard a sermon by Rev. R. Leissner of Compton.

PASADENA STUDENT HONORED AT REDLANDS

REDLANDS, Jan. 23.—Gordon Dean of Pasadena was elected to the presidency of the Associated Students of the University of Redlands at the semiannual election for officers of the second semester. Miss Eleanor Hadden of Los Angeles was chosen as vice-president of the student body.

Dean was president of the senior class last semester and of the Press Club. He has been editor-in-chief of the Campus, the semiweekly publication of the student body, and has been out for debate, oratory, track and football. He is planning to attend the U.S.C. law school next year.

The election for the presidency was a race between two ministers' sons, both of Pasadena, the fathers being John Marvin Dean, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Pasadena, and Dr. Robert Jacques, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church of Pasadena. Jacques lost by a 2-to-1 vote.

ORANGE COUNTY BANK DEPOSITS SHOW GAIN

SANTA ANA, Jan. 23.—Bank deposits in Orange county speak in no uncertain terms of the increasing prosperity of the population, according to a survey just completed by the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce.

On December 31, 1926, the total deposits were $45,162,591.20. This represents an estimated increase of more than $5,000,000 over the same date last year. Increases reported in definite figures total $4,283,791.43 with one-third of the banks not reporting. Of particular interest is the showing made by the savings departments in the county, deposits of $10,973,488.27 being reported. The increase in savings over December, 1925, is $1,301,469.94.

The various building and loan and other savings organizations were not included in the survey, but are uniformly prosperous. When all these are taken into consideration it may be seen that regardless of one automobile to every third person, residents of Orange county have been heeding the lessons of thrift.

ROADSIDE PICKERS CARRY AWAY FRUIT

LA HABRA, Jan. 23.—Jessie Lee Toler, who has a citrus grove on Telegraph Road just west of the city, announces that she is maintaining a three-shift guard over her grove in order to prevent depredations by orange thieves. Miss Toler said that inroads on her fruit had become so severe that she was compelled to resort to this plan in self-protection. She attributes the losses largely to motorists who pass along the road and stop "just to pick an orange or two." Miss Toler as a further protection is preparing to make the whole grove lighted by electricity.

THOUSANDS SIGN UP

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 23. (AP)—Between 8000 an d10,000 foreigners had complied with the new alien land law when the term for foreigners to register a declaration of their land ownership with authorities expired.

Underwriters Say City Needs Fire Engines

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 23.—Fire underwriters who have been making a survey of fire hazards and fire-fighting equipment in this city for the past several weeks have recommended that the city purchase new fire-fighting equipment, it was made known today. It is not believed that the underwriters will recommend a reduction in fire-insurance rates until new fire-fighting equipment is purchased.

That another bond issue to provide fire-fighting equipment for all sections of the city may be called within the next few months, was intimated yesterday by Dr. Conrad Richter, president of the Board of Trustees. According to Dr. Richter, the need of fire protection is urgent.

A bond issue of $75,000 with which it was hoped to purchase three new fire engines and build three new fire halls was defeated some time ago. It was planned to place a fire engine in Corona Del Mar, one on Balboa Island, one at Balboa and another at Newport Beach. The city has only one fire engine at present, and it is located in Balboa.

Dr. Richter declares that should a fire break out in Corona Del Mar it would be almost sure to entail a large loss, as there is no equipment available.

CITY CELEBRATES AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

DUARTE, Jan. 23.—The birthdays of Duarte's three oldest settlers, whose combined ages total 294 years, will be honored on February 11 with a party at the Buena Vista avenue school, sponsored by the Duarte Chamber of Commerce.

On that date, the honored guests will be J. A. Smith, who will be 100 years of age that day; Mrs. Agnes Marron, who will be 100 on February 20, and Capt. Fowler, who is 94. A special guest will be Mrs. A. M. Haydock, 94 years of age, who is a guest of her son, Leon Haydock.

Chamber of Commerce committees are now making elaborate plans for this unique event and the entire community is expected to join in the festivities.

READY TO START NEW PARK ROADS

THREE RIVERS, Jan. 23.—Preparations are under way for starting in the immediate future a new $140,000 road-building program in Sequoia National Park, according to Col. John R. White, superintendent of Sequoia and Gen. Grant national parks, who was recently informed this sum had been appropriated to Sequoia in the last allotment of the budget for the national parks' three-year road building program. Funds will be available shortly and Engineer W. A. Austin of the Park Service, and his aides will be ready to start operations on arrival of Division Engineer C. H. Sweetser of the Bureau of Public Roads, who is expected any day from San Francisco to approve the plans.

HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

MONROVIA, Jan. 23.—J. H. Van DeWater, manager of the Retail Credit Association of Los Angeles, will be the principal speaker Thursday evening at the annual banquet and business meeting of the Monrovia Merchants' Association. He will discuss "Co-operation, Credit Control and Merchandising." Sherman J. McQueen, prominent local manufacturer, will discuss the need of developing a friendly spirit in Monrovia.

GIRL CANDIDATE QUITS RACE

Boys of Santa Ana High School Have Clear Field in Coming Contest for President of Student Body

SANTA ANA, Jan. 23.—The "girl-for-president" ballyhoo has been removed from campaign cries in the elections at the Santa Ana Polytechnic High School through the withdrawal of the candidacy of Miss Virginia Brannon for the past semester acting president of the student body. Four boys are now rivals for the office.

Nominations for the student-body board of control members were made Friday at assembly. The petitions for several of the candidates came as last-minute surprises. The student-body election will be held next Thursday. Candidates for president are Judson Riley, Hubert Prior, Raymond Hutchens and Dean Millen. Other nominations were: Vice-president, Stanley Norton; secretary, Gayle Baldwin; Girls' self-government committee, Jean Nicholson, Janet Wilson and Virginia Bailey; boys' self-government, Fred Burlew, John Moffat and Ralph White. The balloting for president is expected to be close, requiring a revote before it is finally decided. All candidates have strong support. A petition for Clarence Sprague for president has been withdrawn.

CONVENTIONS AN ASSET

Pasadena Chamber of Commerce Urges Immediate Building of Auditorium

PASADENA, Jan. 23.—Benefits that would accrue to Pasadena if this city had a municipal auditorium suitable for large gatherings and conventions are pointed out by Chamber of Commerce officials in connection with a survey just completed of conventions held in Pasadena during the last year.

Seventeen conventions were held in the city in 1926, and brought a total of 10,900 visitors here for a period of one to ten days, the survey shows. This is in addition to other thousands of visitors who came to Pasadena as a part of the programs of conventions held in Los Angeles.

These visitors spent approximately $872,000 in the city, chamber officials estimate, basing the figures on answers to questionnaires sent out to convention delegates by chambers of commerce in many cities. The money thus brought into the city would thus be the equivalent of that of a large industry employing 435 wage earners at an annual average salary of $1800, it is pointed out. The publicity gained for Pasadena is considered still more important.

Many more and larger conventions could have been brought to Pasadena last year if the city had only had the proper facilities, according to the Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the renewed effort to build an adequate civic auditorium.

The auditorium, a site for which the city already owns, is the third and final unit of the Civic Center plan, and although a bond-issue proposal to construct it was defeated by a narrow margin a few months ago, City Directors are now seeking means of constructing one without resorting to a bond issue. Architects have been ordered to draft tentative plans which will come before the Directors in the near future.

CONDITIONS IDEAL FOR COFFEE PLANTS

EXPERIMENTS IN IMPERIAL VALLEY PRODUCE GOOD RESULTS

CALEXICO, Jan. 23.—Preliminary planting of coffee bushes in a greenhouse near Holtville bears out claims that plantings in the valley should make rapid and healthy growth even in midwinter, it was announced by C. F. Carew, who some weeks ago told of his intention of making test plantings on the Colorado River Land Company ranch in Lower California and on test tracts in the American Imperial Valley.

The first plants set out in a greenhouse on the Dr. Moesier ranch near Holtville three weeks ago have grown more than one and one-half inches and are in a thrifty and healthy condition, Mr. Carew stated. Within the course of another two or three weeks 15,000 plants will be shipped to Calexico to be set out on the Colorado River Land Company holdings and a large quantity of seed will also be planted in nursery rows, he said.

Carew some time ago announced that Imperial Valley climatic and soil conditions are ideal for the growing of coffee and plans to make extensive plantings as fast as nursery stock can be produced from seed.

BANK MANAGER TO CHANGE POSITIONS

ARCADIA, Jan. 23.—H. L. Bowers, manager of the First National Bank of Arcadia, has accepted the same position in the Bank of Italy branch here, it was learned today, succeeding J. S. Lay. Mr. Lay will continue to hold his directorship in the First National.

Mr. Bowers's position will be filled by G. J. Hamilton, who will bear the title of vice-president and cashier, and C. Barrone of Los Angeles will assume the work formerly handled by Mr. Hamilton. Mr. Lay has not announced his future plans.

MORE STUDENTS EARN UNIVERSITY EDUCATION

BERKELEY, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—Five hundred more University of California students earned all or part of their college expenses during 1926 than in the preceding year, it is shown in the annual report of the Alumni Bureau of Occupations. This gain, according to Mrs. Leslie Ganyard, director of the bureau, includes positions found for both men and women students and amounts to slightly more than 12 per cent.

HOLD COURT OF HONOR

HUNTINGTON PARK, Jan. 23.—A Council Court of Honor which is to be in the form of a big Scout rally for all the Boy Scouts in the San Antonio district is being planned for Friday night, February 11, and will be held in the new high-school auditorium in Compton, which has a seating capacity of 1800. It is also announced that a training school for Scoutmasters will also be held the dates having not yet been decided on. One training center will be at Compton, one in this city, one in Bellflower and one in Whittier.

MILLIONS IN MILK

HANFORD, Jan. 23.—The dairy department of the Kings County Farm Bureau estimates the income from Kings county dairy products last year at $5,500,000. The value of dairy stock is placed at $1,010,000. The county sold $200,000 worth of beef cattle and $150,000 worth of hogs, sheep for mutton brought $480,000 and wool sold for $200,000. The returns for dressed poultry and eggs were $600,000.

Bankers Hear Warning Note From Speaker

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 23.—With all the prosperity and progress of Southern California there rests upon the bankers of this region a corresponding responsibility and obligation with the warning broadcast by Frank C. Mortimer, vice-president of the Citizens' National Bank of Los Angeles, who addressed the members of the Riverside County Bankers' Association in annual session at Mission Inn last night.

Bankers and citizens in general must proceed with caution and vision, he said. Articles which properly can be classed as luxuries are demanded by all classes as necessities.

"The tendency to spend more than is earned is encouraged on every side by tempting offers of credit. The difference shown toward economy is significant. It reminds us that our prosperity, our boundless natural resources and the countless opportunities for making money may have lulled us into a feeling of false security. Many are assuming the gambler's attitude toward life. Education, drawing on the wisdom of experience should furnish the corrective."

William J. Westerfield of Banning was unanimously elected president of the Riverside County Bankers' Association at the annual meeting last night, taking the place occupied during the last year by Henry Adams of the First National Bank of Riverside. Others elected were A. E. Gustafson, Elsinore, vice-president, and P. E Warner, Riverside, secretary-treasurer The executive committee will be G. R. Gough, Elsinore; H. B. Wells, Riverside, and George Clayton, Corona.

SPEED UP WORK OF TRIAL COURT

PRESIDING JUDGE AT FRESNO LIMITS EXAMINATION OF JURYMEN

FRESNO, Jan. 23.—Justice will be speeded in the Superior Courts of Fresno county through limitation of examination of veniremen, Presiding Judge S. L. Strother announced, in a statement concerning delay in criminal trials.

All questions of qualification of jurors covered by instructions or the law will be eliminated in examination of talesmen by attorneys, Judge Strother said. The announcement means the practical adoption in the county courts of the Federal system. The only kind of questions which may be properly put to jurors by the examining attorneys are their knowledge as to the case on trial, their connections with those associated in the case, either as attorney or party, or their prejudices, the court told the assembled attorneys. Judge Strother said:

"An inquiry with this limitation will advise the attorneys of the state of mind of the juror so they may exercise the right for their clients of peremptory challenge."

REDONDO SCHOOLS TO LOSE STATE MONEY

REDONDO BEACH, Jan. 23.—The Redondo city school system will lose the apportionment formerly given them for the territory south of Redondo Beach which was annexed to the city of Torrance in the special election Monday, officials said today. The territory involved is about 4000 acres, some of it lying along the mile of ocean front lying between the southern boundary of Redondo Beach and the Palos Verdes Estates.

PREPARE FOR RAMONA PLAY

Famous Pageant to Have Three Showings

Double Seating Capacity of Amphitheater

Hemet-San Jacinto Chambers Sponsor Event

HEMET, Jan. 23.—The fifth annual Ramona Pageant, produced under auspices of the Hemet-San Jacinto Chamber of Commerce and directed by Garnet Holme, will be given on three successive week-ends this spring, instead of two, as in past years. Directors of the Chamber of Commerce have announced 1927 production dates as the following Saturdays and Sundays: April 23-24; April 30-May 1; May 8-9.

Last year's Ramona Pageant was attended by more than 13,000 persons, and this year's presentation is expected to draw a much larger number of spectators from all over Southern California.

Work will be started at once on the building of 1200 additional cement seats at the Ramona Bowl, scene of the pageant production, making a total of 2400 reserved seats for each performance. Cement is chosen as the material to build the seats in order not to interfere with the splendid natural acoustic properties of the open-air amphitheater. Development work has been completed on a water supply for the Ramona Bowl, with wells and pumping plant and a reservoir on one of the surrounding hillsides, from which water for drinking purposes has been piped all over the grounds. This improvement will be much appreciated by visitors to the pageant.

Edward Poorman, president of the Hemet-San Jacinto Chamber of Commerce, is again general manager of committees in charge of the Ramona pageant. Garnet Holme, director of the pageant and several other famous outdoor spectacles in California, is expected home from Europe early next month and will come to Hemet at once to make plans for the 1927 production.

COTTON HARVEST IS NEAR END IN VALLEY

CALEXICO, Jan. 23.—There was a slight falling off in the amount of cotton ginned in the four ginning plants of Mexicali during the past week, as compared with the week previous, but the report shows a substantial increase for the week over the corresponding period in January of last year.

A total of 2680 bales of cotton were produced for the seven days ending last night, bringing the season's total to 60,783 bales. Prospects are that there will be something over 70,000 bales picked and ginned for the season, inasmuch as much of the poorer grades will be left in the fields on account of the prevailing low prices.

NEW NAME IN RECALL

MAYWOOD, Jan. 23.—Instead of voting on three City Trustees in the proposed recall election to be held here soon, it has been decided to add another to the list, City Trustee Walter Staring now being the fourth, according to announcement which comes from City Clerk Alvin A. Larkey. The other Trustees mentioned in the petition for a recall election are Robert Plaisted, James R. Champion and Mayor William Schepply. All four of these members were elected last April at the regular city election.

They all ran on an "Annex-to-Los Angeles" ticket at the election, it being the intention to work favorable to annex to Los Angeles, after Bell annexed. However, the Bell annexation proceedings were invalidated, and as Maywood is not contiguous territory to Los Angeles, the proposition has since been dropped. Had the 11 territory been declared contiguous territory, then Maywood would have had a special election on the proposition.

EXTEND CAR SERVICE

VERNON, Jan. 23.—Street-car service along Leonis Boulevard, from Pacific Boulevard to the Central Manufacturing District will be started on the 31st inst., it has been announced by officials of the operating department of the Los Angeles Street Railway Company. An extension of the "V" line is to be used, but no definite schedule has yet been arranged. It is stated that all cars on the "V" line run east along Vernon avenue to Santa Fe avenue now and that half of this number stop there, while the remaining cars turn south on Santa Fe, and continue on to Slauson avenue. The half-stopping at this point will be continued on to the Central Manufacturing District, after the date mentioned.

JOINT LODGE MEETING

HUNTINGTON PARK, Jan. 23.—The Golden State Camp Modern Woodmen's team of Los Angeles will be here tomorrow night in attendance at the public installation of the new officers of the camp in this city. The Royal Neighbors will also hold an installation at the same time. Members of the camps in the surrounding cities are expected to be present in large numbers.

BEAUTY ON GOLDEN THRONE

Orange County to Build Elaborate Display for National Orange Show

SANTA ANA, Jan. 23.—A symbolical setting of Miss Orange County as beauty herself reflecting the prosperity and happiness of this section in a great mirror set in regal splendor of golden fruit has been selected as the design for the Orange county exhibit at the National Orange Show this year in San Bernardino, Dr. F. W. Stabaugh, president of the Orange County Commercial Secretaries' Association, said today.

The design, said by the secretaries to be the most beautiful of all orange booths, was submitted by Charles I. Farber of the Artcraft Decorators, Los Angeles. It will occupy a space twenty feet wide by twenty feet long and the central figure will be nineteen feet high. Miss Orange County will be dressed in a resplendent peacock robe. In her left hand will rest a gorgeous fan, which will move back and forth. The head also will move. The dome canopy, drapes, floor and stairs will be formed solidly of golden oranges. The carpet also will be made of oranges, lemons and grapefruit.

The center friezes will be illuminated with a background of artificial flowers, the design indicated. Five classic bronze figures will guard the throne of Miss Orange County. Around the base the name of each Orange county city will be spelled in letters formed of fruit. Pictures of the communities, stressing the splendid highways of the county, will be artistically set in. The money for the display was provided by the County Supervisors from the advertising fund. The display is not the same as will be shown at the Anaheim Valencia Orange Show, Dr. Stabaugh said.

BAKERSFIELD IN MIDST OF BOOM

Many Leases and Options on Town Lots Made

Union Avenue Area Center of Chief Activity

Eastern Capital Gets Control of Large Acreage

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 23.—With actual drilling under way, many leases and options to buy property in the Union-avenue area are being made. During the past few days no less than twenty-five leases have been signed up with acre-lot owners along Union avenue in the Casa Loma tract and several leases on larger units have been made.

The California Petroleum Corporation has entered the field and has recorded several leases, the latest being for forty acres on Sec. 12, 30-27, acquired from T. C. and Maria G. Castro, who will receive $100 a month rental until drilling is commenced.

Hoyt S. Gale, representing Gulf Production Company, has acquired hundreds of acres in the Union-avenue district, leasing residential lots and sections of land throughout the area. Several other major companies also have leased many holdings in this district.

Six oil agreements and grant deeds involving prospective oil lands in Kern county, were filed for record yesterday with the Union-avenue district as the center for four of them. Leases being filed now indicate that practically all land in the immediate vicinity of the wildcat test, have been acquired by Gale and other major oil operators.

Just west of the scene of operations, Tod Mosier, Bakersfield leasing agent for Gale, has acquired the west half of Lot 20, all of Lot 28 and the west half of Lot 29, in Sec. 1, 30-27, from A. K. Baldwin of Bakersfield.

Terms of the lease provide for the drilling of two wells, the first within three years, on a one-eighth royalty basis. A little to the south of the holding acquired by lease by Mosier, A. W. Mason has purchased twenty acres, comprising the east half of the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of Sec. 14, 30-27, from Phelps D. Jewett of Bakersfield, it was shown in a grant deed filed for record.

Fourteen miles due south of Bakersfield and the Hoyt S. Gale test well, the Westland Development Company has leased 240 acres in Sec. 14, 32-28, from C. D. and Grace Harley of Bakersfield. The holding comprises the northwest quarter and the south half of the northeast quarter of the section. Twelve wells are to be drilled. If drilling operations are not commenced within two years, the lessee must pay a yearly rental of $720 for an extension of time. Royalty is set at one-eighth.

An American has introduced the Mas-bob, a new hair style, in Paris, but coiffeurs of that city are frowning upon it because the task of cutting the hair long on one side of the head and short on the other is difficult for them.

ARTESIA WELL GETS WET GAS

Mid-Continent Discovery is Regarded Important

Daily Output of 2,000,000 Cubic Feet Reported

Maljamar Oil Completing Two More Crude Producers

ARTESIA (N. M.) Jan. 23.—Of greatest importance to this area is the development of 2,000,000 cubic feet of wet gas in the Woolley-Jones No. 1 well of the Mid-Continent Oil Company of Los Angeles, in the center of Sec. 21, 17-30, at a depth of 1806 feet. A good show of oil was found just below the gas sand and, should the pressure continue, the gas will be bradenheaded and used for fuel. This well, it is believed, will connect the Artesia and Maljamar fields, as it gives indication of making a producer when drilled to the lower sands, being 200 feet higher structurally than the well on the Beeson permit, two miles to the south.

Two more producers are being completed this week in the Maljamar field by the Maljamar Oil and Gas Corporation, these being the No. 1 State lease well in Sec. 16, 17-32, and the No. 1 on the Grace Mitchell permit in Sec. 5, 17-32. The State lease well made three flows from a sandy lime, topped at 4085 feet and appears to be better than the discovery well, which it offsets to the north. The well in Sec. 5 is standing 1000 feet in oil coming from a sand encountered at 3726 feet.

After picking up the red sand from 2847 to 2865 feet, the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, drilled into a salt water sand at 2875 feet in their No. 1 on the Keel permit. The crew is straight-reaming the hole and the eight-and-one-quarter-inch casing will be set at 3000 feet.

The laying of a pipe line to the Maljamar field and the buying of a large amount of acreage in Southeastern Lea county featured the oil activity in this section of New Mexico for the week. The pipe line will be constructed by the Illinois Pipe Line Company, a subsidiary of the Ohio Oil Company, and will extend from the Artesia to the Maljamar field, being approximately twenty-five miles in length. This will be a four-inch line, capable of 5000 barrels daily, and will follow the new highway to the field.

That the major companies believe in the future of New Mexico as an oil-producing States is evidenced by the purchase this week of approximately seventy-two sections, or 46,000 acres, the majority being bought by the Marland Oil Company. This late buy of the Marland Company makes them one of the largest owners of acreage in this area and, it is reported, they will drill three wells within the next few months.

IMPORTANT MINES BILL SCHEDULED

Draft of Measure Ready to Present in General Assembly of State

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23. (Exclusive) California's fundamental industry, mineral, surpassing all other State industries in value of annual production, is to receive adequate State recognition and aid if a bill expanding the present State Mining Bureau into the State Department of Mineral Resources is passed by the 1927 California Legislature and signed by the Governor.

The draft of the measure has been completed by the State-Wide Mineral Committee of the California Development Association, co-operating with the Department of Mines and Mining of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce, which originated the movement.

Two important new provisions are in this bill which is based on the old Mining Bureau Act. Section eighteen provides that the State Corporation Commissioner shall advise the directors of the mining department whenever an application is made for a stock-selling permit in an oil, mining or mineral concern. The directors shall thereupon furnish the commissioner with all possible information on the mineral property in question, such data to be used in determining the issuance of the permit.

Section nineteen provides that the directors shall examine for mineral classification lands administered by the State Surveyor-General so that they can be leased for mineral development. The bill also clearly defines a "mine" as any mineral-bearing property whether underground, quarry, pit, well, spring or other source.

TEXAS UNIVERSITY OIL FUND GROWING

AUSTIN (Texas) Jan. 23.—Payments of oil royalties to the University of Texas from production in Reagan county during the month of December have been made by the Big Lake Oil Company, the amount being $127,817.44, and by the Texon Oil and Land Company, the amount being $54,249.18, making a total for the month of $182,066.62. This total payment by the two companies is about $10,000 less than that of the preceding month, the falling off being due chiefly to bad weather conditions during part of December, it is stated.

BELMONT CROSSCUT HITS EUREKA VEIN

SUPERIOR (Ariz.) Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—The Belmont crosscut on the 1450-foot level has cut the Eureka vein and is being pushed on to tap several parallel ledges. The find of ore is reported large, but of relatively low grade at the point where crossed.

Structure also serves to facilitate derrick-building on narrow electric rail way right of way.

FEW oil fields present a more spectacular aspect than the field at Huntington Beach, which now extends clear down to the beach, presenting a line of derricks rising almost from the waves. Excepting Summerland, where many wells have been drilled out in the ocean, there are few more striking views than this which combines marine beauty and intensive industrial development.

The action of the Standard Oil Company in constructing a 1500-foot seawall bordering the beach serves both a practical and an esthetic purpose. Its most important function is to prevent the pollution of the beaches by oil which might otherwise escape from sumphole or tank and flow down into the water.

In addition to this, the wall gives the Standard more room for its derricks along the Pacific Electric right of way, and, further than that, it adds much to the appearance of the oil field and ocean front.

The Standard's retaining wall is estimated to have cost about $40,000, and is now practically complete. It is eleven feet high and extends out from the bluffs, which border the beach, about fifty feet. The area back of the wall is filled with earth to make a better foundation for derricks.

Standard has completed only one or two of its Pacific Electric wells, but the record of these indicates that perhaps the best production in the field will be found in this area.

In the field as a whole there is a substantial decrease in output, the pipeline runs for last week showing only about 90,000 barrels a day, against about 110,000 five weeks ago, a decline of about 20,000 barrels. Of this output the town-lot area in the west end of the city is producing about 55,000 barrels, or about 12,000 barrels less than at its peak.

WATER BOGEY REARS HEAD

Shut-off Troubles in Seal Beach Field Making First Appearance in Four Projects

The water bogey which was conspicuously absent in the Marland Oil Company's original operations in the Seal Beach field is beginning to show some signs of life. There is no serious water situation in sight, but the Standard Oil Company has trouble in excluding the water in both its San Gabriel No. 2 and No. 3 wells, the Marland drilled its No. 4 into bottom water, and yesterday it was necessary to kill the Bixby No. 6 because of the presence of water in the oil.

This condition is in sharp contrast to the facility with which the Marland effected a water shut-off in its first two wells, both of which succeeded at the first attempt. The Standard probably would have had as good fortune in its San Gabriel No. 2 had the crew not stuck the casing about forty feet off bottom, and had to cement it that much above the place where it should have been set. The Marland's Bixby No. 4, which has had more trouble with water than any other well in the field, was drilled into bottom water, which so far it has been unable to shut off.

There should be three new wells on production in the Seal Beach field within the next week or ten days. The Standard's San Gabriel No. 3 is standing recemented and is due for a test some time this week, while the Marland Oil Company's Bixby No. 5 is standing cemented at 4432 feet, and the Selover No. 2 is standing cemented at 4741 feet.

In addition to these wells the Standard Oil Company has two other San Gabriel wells which will be setting pipe in a day or two.

TAFT NEWSPAPER MAN BUYS TRACT IN MIDWAY

TAFT, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—A. M. Keene, Taft newspaper man, has purchased twenty-six acres of oil land in the Midway fields just west of Taft from the Five Thirty-Six Oil Company. The holding is in Sec. 36, 32-23. No consideration was named in the grant deed.

PAVING ORDINANCE ORDERED

City Clerk Domingues has been instructed by the City Council to present the final ordinance for the paving of Garden street from Rigali avenue to Los Feliz Boulevard.

New Lead Stack at Douglas Not First in State

TOMBSTONE (Ariz.) Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—Denial is made by W. F. Staunton that the new lead stack of the Phelps-Dodge Corporation in Douglas will be the first lead-silver smelter of Southern Arizona.

He points out that from 1882 to 1887 a lead smelter was in operation at Charleston, on the San Pedro River, handling ores from the mines of the Tombstone Mill and Mining Company. The gross silver output for the period was valued at $984,168, of gold at $107,815 and of lead at $242,963, the lead averaging around 4 cents a pound.

Mr. Staunton, now resident in Los Angeles, for years was connected with the local mines and was general manager in the last consolidation, before Phelps-Dodge took the property. It also is to be noted that many rude adobe smelters, with charcoal for fuel, handled the rich surface silver ores of Northern Sonora and Arizona during Spanish and Mexican times.

DEVILS DEN FORTY LEASE ANNOUNCED

DEVIL'S DEN, Jan. 23. (Exclusive) In the Devil's Den area, H. C. Dunning and James R. Bridge have acquired a forty-acre lease in the northwest quarter of Sec. 25, 25-18, from Albert Robbins. Royalty is set at one-sixth and the lessor is to receive $100 a month rental until drilling is commenced, and thereafter until the royalty amounts to $100 or more monthly.

KERN FIELD OPERATIONS REPORTED

Starting of Eight New Wells Among Principal Activities of Week

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 23.—Eight new oil wells, a like number of tests for water shut-off and seven deepening or redrilling jobs, constituted the new development work in the various fields of Kern county during the past week, according to the report of the State oil and gas supervisor.

The Standard Oil Company is credited with beginning two new wells, the No. 40 on Sec. 17, 32-24 in the Midway and the No. 28 on Section 27, 11-26 on Wheeler Ridge. Another new Midway well is the No. 4 hole of the United Oil Company on Sec. 6, 31-23.

One of the outstanding bits of development work begun is the No. 1 well of Hoyt S. Gale, spudded in just south of the city limits of Bakersfield on Sec. 6, 30-28 for the Gulf Oil Company. This is purely a test well and many leases have been made of land in the vicinity as geologists contend that the location is ideal for oil.

Another test well to be spudded in is the John B. Harding well on Sec. 5, 10-10 in Kern county, which is expected to prove up a wide area.

In the Elk Hills the McAdams Petroleum Corporation has spudded in its No. 1 well on Sec. 2, 30-22.

In the Kern River district, George F. Getty has begun drilling his No. 8 hole on Sec. 14, 28-27, where success has favored his previous efforts, while further north in the Poso field the Barnsdall Oil Company has a crew of drillers at work on the No. 2 well on Sec. 8, 27-28.

Work Begun on New Shaft at Copper Queen

BISBEE (Ariz.) Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—Sinking has been started on the new Copper Queen shaft at Warren, the work done by the E. J. Longyear Development Company of Minneapolis, contractors. Surface machinery is installed and a concrete collar is in place.

The work contemplated includes one of the most extensive development plans ever known in the district, with exploration of a large area of new ground between the Black Cap fault and the line of the Calumet and Arizona holdings.

There is to be a connection with the Calumet and Cochise shaft from the 1800-foot level by a drift 2000 feet in length, this especially to handle the water, though it will penetrate interesting new territory. The new Warren shaft, one of three compartments, probably will be sunk to 2500 feet.

A large amount of exploratory work is being done in the district, activity stirred by the recent rich developments in Calumet and Arizona ground. A new field also is being explored by the shaft started by the United Verde Extension Company.

Getty Adds New Tract of West Front of Kern

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—George F. Getty, leading oil operator in the Kern River west front area, has leased another forty acres in the district from heirs of the late Edward Grady, it was shown in an agreement filed for record here. A portion of the estate is owned by T. F. Lightner of Bakersfield. The holding is in the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of Section 36, 28-27. Royalty is set at one-sixth, and it is said that a large bonus in keeping with those paid throughout the proven field, was paid to the heirs. Drilling must be commenced on or before December 30.

Three miles northeast of Famoso, Westland Development Company has leased an 80-acre tract from S. Frank and Lenora Wyckoff. The oil agreement was placed on record today.

OLD MINE REOPENING

Bisbee Corporation Takes Over Carbide at Duncan

CLIFTON (Ariz.) Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—Renewed activity is known at the old Carlisle property, twelve miles east of Duncan, just across the New Mexico line. The mines and works are reported to have been taken over by the United Metals Corporation, a Bisbee organization, headed by Roland Blanchard, with Alfred S. Lewis of Phoenix as manager.

Plans include unwatering of the 500-foot shaft, its deepening to 1000 feet and erection of a modern milling plant, with Diesel engine power, in two 150-horsepower units. The roads leading to the mines now are being repaired.

POTRERO MOST UNUSUAL FIELD

Activity Seldom Equaled by Wildcat District

Work of Development in All Stages of Progress

Many Operators Waiting for Julian Completion

The petroleum industry seldom sees a strictly wildcat district with more development, actual and impending, than is occurring at present in the area which oil men have come to call the Potrero district, east of Inglewood and near the Potrero Country Club. Not a drop of oil has yet been taken out of any well in this area, and yet there is one well standing cemented, one well drilling, two new derricks being built, one derrick building foundations and stakes driven for three other locations—all of this in an area of a few city blocks.

The Julian Petroleum Corporation's Cypress No. 1 well is the center of attention in the Potrero situation, and has reached the point where something is due to happen at almost any moment. The well is down somewhere around 3800 feet, or within a few feet of the depth at which the Associated Oil Company is supposed to have found an oil sand. So far as known, no showings have been found in the Julian well as yet, but it is supposed stratigraphically to be in about the same relative position as the Associated well, which means that a showing should be cored at any time.

In the meantime the George F. Getty, Inc., interests are building two derricks within a few hundred yards of the Julian well, and have staked a location for a third. The General Petroleum Corporation is building foundations for a derrick, and Paul Getty has staked one well located north of the Julian well, and another location south.

In many respects the Potrero district resembles the situation which existed at Seal Beach for several years. The oil companies were certain there was an oil field there somewhere, and they drilled a dozen wells, several of them at the same time, in the effort to find it. The district east and south of Inglewood has been in the same category and almost every major operator, and several smaller ones, have taken a whirl at the discovery in the past three years.

Now the Associated is given credit for having drilled its Cypress well in the right place, and the other companies are losing no time getting ready for the big rush which is certain to come when either the Associated or Julian wells are completed—if they are completed.

DOLLAR SILVER BILL SU

Big Jim Puts Mill on Three-shift Basis as Congress Will Pass Purchase M

PATAGONIA (Ariz.) Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—Confident that Washington, that Congress will pass the silver bill, operators of the mine in this district have put their mill on a three-shift basis, working twenty-four hours' continuous operation and will crush to eighty tons of concentrates a day. The silver bill now before congress provides for the purchase of 15,000,000 ounces of silver at the market price during the next year and a half to two years. As the price is now at around 56 cents, this will mean an increase to the mine owners of 40 per cent on their silver concentrates.

CALIFORNIA ZINC SHUTS MINES DOWN

Curtailed Foreign and Domestic Demand Given as Reason for Action

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23. (Exclusive) Due to the curtailed demand for zinc in Belgium and New York, all operations have been stopped by the California Zinc Company at its properties northeast of Redding. The Afterthought and Bully Hill mines are idle, and the Winthrop plant will be closed as soon as the final clean-up of the solution tanks has been made. The mines are among the largest zinc-copper properties in the State.

New interests headed by George St. John, including Los Angeles capitalists, have taken the old Allison Ranch gold mine, below Grass Valley, under bond and option and arranged for extensive work. Numerous adjacent claims have also been bonded. Electric power has been brought to the plant and dewatering of the shaft begun. The first mining will be done by lessees, while the company is prospecting new areas. The Allison Ranch was worked in pioneer times by Mackay, Fair and other operators famous in the early mining annals of California and Nevada.

The Moore mine, near Jackson, has failed to develop as satisfactorily as anticipated, and milling has ceased, according to a report by the directors. A new drive for ore has started, with activities to be centered on the 1800-foot level in hopes of encountering extensions of the Argonaut-Kennedy vein-system and the South Jackson ore body. Southern Californians are heavily interested in the enterprise.

An important quicksilver strike is reported from the Yudnich property near Napa, about two miles from the Etna and Oat Hill mines, famous producers in pioneer days. The new strike is said to show thirty inches of fairly rich cinnabar, with wider faces of low-grade ore. The owners are preparing to install retorts. The demand for quicksilver is steadily increasing, according to the Geological Survey, with America furnishing about 40 per cent of the world's output. A few years ago this country was supplying over 60 per cent and dominating the world markets, but Spain is now furnishing the heaviest tonnage.

New Mexico Oil Men Notified of Action on Bill

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) Jan. 23.—New Mexico Oil Men's Association yesterday received notification from United States Senator A. A. Jones of this State that his bill for the relinquishment by the government of its interest in all grants of land by the government to the State, has passed the Senate and is now up to the President for his approval.

The passage of this bill is of greatest importance and will mean that a number of the major companies and large independents will now purchase State acreage knowing a clear title can be obtained. Buying of leases in the past by many of the large producers has been confined strictly to government permits and fee land.

Last-Minute News From Petroleum Fields and Marts of Trade

MINES AREA OFF TO BRISK START

Indications Point to Active Year at Kingman

Part of Tom Reed Property is Again Operating

Oatman Coming Back; Mill of Katherine Busy

KINGMAN (Ariz.) Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—The new year is starting with indications of the greatest degree of activity known since the Oatman boom. Oatman is coming back with the working of a number of mines in which milling ore has been developed in quantity, while the Tom Reed Company has resumed work on a part of its large estate, after leasing miners had demonstrated that the property is far from being worked out. The company now is employing about forty men, on the Ben Harrison ground.

Work is to be resumed in the Astec section, through the United American shaft, and the mill is being rehabilitated for company operation, with welcome to be given ore from leasing and outside miners.

The Katherine mill is turning out about $40,000 a month in gold bullion and is being operated to capacity. In the main shaft sinking has been resumed after cutting a station at 500 feet. This station is wholly in low-grade ore, that lies 200 feet north of the main vein.

Katherine Extension is sinking below 450 feet, in ore that samples about $10. The vein is dipping from the shaft. Lateral exploration will be started on the 450 level, westward, to connect with the 400 Katherine level.

Twenty Bakersfield stockholders of the King Midas Company recently visited the property, where rich free gold ore has been found in drifting on the 200-foot level.

Ore sampling 20 per cent copper across a width of from seven to fifteen feet is reported to have been developed for 120 feet on the 100-foot level of the Emerald Isle.

COPPER QUEEN PUTS PLANT IN OPERATION

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—The new reverberatory smelting plant of the Copper Queen branch has started production, the first unit turning out matter for the converters. The second unit is being warmed up and will be in operation within a fortnight.

IONE LEAD-ZINC MINE ACQUIRED

Alexander Estate Taken Over by Local Group

Plans for Early Resumption Reported on Way

Stamp Mill to be Rebuilt and Diesel Motorized

TONOPAH (Nev.) Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—The Alexander lead-zinc mine, ten miles from Ione, has been acquired by the Houghton-Stabler interests of Beverly Hills, Cal., and arrangements made for resumption of production. Reconstruction of the forty-stamp mill is proceeding, and arrangements made for installation of a Diesel power unit. The Alexander is credited with an output of $3,000,000, and is said to contain extensive deposits of commercial ore. Opening of new ground is to be vigorously pressed as soon as the mill goes into service.

Control of the Shirley interests in the Original Bullfrog mine, near Rhyolite, has been secured by the New Original Bullfrog Mines Company of Los Angeles, giving the corporation complete ownership of the property. Extensive developments below the 200 level are planned. The property produced rich gold ore estimated at $2,000,00 prior to 1907, and started the wild Bullfrog mining excitement.

Ore running $200 to $1000 per ton in gold is said to have been opened on the Coalition mine of the Seven Troughs Reorganized Company near Lovelock. The vein parallels the famous Coalition ledge and was opened near surface by leasers. The main tunnel has advanced 850 feet and is proceeding at the rate of 450 feet per month. It will have a total length of 6000 feet and is designed to open extensions of the Coalition and other rich veins at depth. The company is controlled by Los Angeles capitalists, headed by M. J. Monnette.

Considerable excitement prevails at the old camp of Austin over the reported discovery of the extension of the Whitlatch Bonanza after a search of fifty years. The continuation of the ore body which produced millions is believed to have been uncovered beyond a massive fault by leasers on the Austin Dakota mine. The lease reports a fourteen-inch shoot of solid ore assaying 4000 to 5000 ounces silver per ton is exposed, with the material identical in appearance with the old bonanza.

Lucky Boy Divide Company, largely controlled by Los Angeles people, has acquired promising gold claims in the Chuckawalla Mountains, fringing Death Valley. Foundations for a compressor, hoist and other equipment have been completed, despite snow and cold, and vigorous developments begun. The property is located at an altitude of 5000 feet. The company is actively developing the Mary property and other holdings in the Silver Peak section.

Local operators have been advised of the sale of the noted Jumbo gold mine, in the Buffalo Hump district of Idaho, to J. Thomas Freebury and associates of Los Angeles. According to officials of the company the deal provided for a cash payment of $25,000 and a royalty of 50 per cent of gross earnings. The new owners plan highway improvement, sinking of a deep shaft, and driving of a lower working tunnel. The Jumbo is credited with containing important deposits of free-milling ore.

Utah capitalists have acquired the Spruce Monarch Consolidated property at Spruce Mountain, northeast of Elko, and started extensive developments. Shipments of lead-silver ore are going out, with nine faces of ore exposed. The Nevada Lead and Zinc Company has been formed to operate the holdings. The adjacent Bullhead and O'Neil groups have also passed under control of Utah capitalists. The main 500-foot tunnel is to be driven 500 feet farther to prospect extensions of the ore bodies at greater depth.

CALL MADE FOR MINING ENGINEERS

American Institute Meet Tomorrow Night to Hear Distinguished Member

The Southern California section of the American Institute of Mining Engineers will meet tomorrow evening at 2200 West Seventh street. This meeting will be addressed by the past president of the institute, Edward P. Mathewson. His subject is "The Methuselah of Mines." The talk will be illustrated.

Mr. Mathewson is a distinguished metallurgist, well known to the mining men of this country, Mexico and South America. For many years he was manager of the Guggenheim technical staff and later was manager and superintendent for the Washoe Reduction Works and the Anaconda Copper Mining Company. He is the inventor of many improvements in copper and lead smelting and is known as an author of technical books and articles. He is at present giving a course of lectures at the school of mines of the University of Arizona.

All members of the institute and other engineers are urged to be present. Arrangements are being made by S. L. Gillan.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analysis will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Iron Peroxide

HILLSIDE (Ariz.) Jan. 4.—Question: Herewith find a crystallized sample of mineral which I am unable to identify. I regret that the specimen is the only one I have on hand at present. Would be very grateful to The Times if you will kindly classify the crystal and give its probable mineral contents. K.

Answer: It is crystallized hematite (iron peroxide) sparingly altered in part to limonite (hydrous iron peroxide) and approximately carries 65 per cent iron sesquioxide with 30 per cent oxygen.

New York Specimen

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4.—Q.: The sample of mineral sent to you herewith comes from my estate in Central New York. I should like to know what the yellow particles are, gold, silver, or what? I am a regular subscriber to The Times. W.

A.: The gravel-like specimen is impure quartzitic rock. Traces of garnet found (microscopic.) The golden-yellow microscopical particles in the sample are mixtures of yellow mica (not gold) with vermiculite (an altered mica) and, specifically, that variety of vermiculite known as jeffersesite.

Meerschaum

CORONA, Jan. 4.—Q.: Can you name for me the enclosed small piece of mineral from the Randsburg district? Have not found the ledge yet, but the float seems to indicate a stratified deposit, in layers one to two inches thick. You will notice, it is extremely light and also very tough. Can it be meerschaum and does it represent material of commercial value? Sincerely. T.

A.: The sample is not a high-grade meerschaum, and it is probable that other samples will be found in stringers only.

Two Specimens

BARSTOW, Jan. 5.—Q.: Am sending in two samples of rock which I would like to have classified; also sketch showing relative positions as found in the shaft. B.

A.: From the sketch it appears that you have a gouge from near the surface of ground to thirty-five feet depth, where you ran a cross-cut through the gouge, and the difference in degrees from 75 (No. 2 sample) to that of No. 1 (45 deg.) would probably indicate that you are in broken-up formation and above a horse at the crosscut.

Sample No. 1 is an altered, slaty shale; it carries traces of microscopic pyrite, impossible to distinguish unless with a high-powered microscope. No. 2 is also shale, and probably sedimentary, reacting sparingly for boron. Iron oxides present in both samples, and if gouge matter it is rather a very peculiar gouge. Probably the samples are from the footwall, and hanging wall on both sides of the gouge. The specimens were not tested for gold or silver, and zinc reactions from both rocks a slight.

Fahlers

OSDICK, Jan. 5.—Q.: Will you please give me an analysis on the ores I am sending you. Local. F.

A.: The samples of Fahlers (tetrahedrite,) but not the variety of high-grade tetrahedrite known to the mining boys in the hills as "gray copper ore." The specimens represent ores which (when concentrated) would be of problematical value—unless fire assays show high percentages in gold or silver. The concentrates from the samples consist of pyrite, arsenopyrite, blende, pyrrhotite, chalcopyrite and galenite, all in greater or lesser percentages. Free gold not present.

Epidosyte

YUMA (Ariz.) Jan. 5.—Q.: Enclosed find three samples. Please test No. 1 for copper. What is the black flaky stuff in No. 2? Does No. 3 carry any gold? All found south of Yuma. Y.

A.: The three samples are chiefly epidosyte, rocks. Pale green in color and a mixture of massive epidote with quartz. Sample No. 1 carries traces of microscopic pyrite; free gold absent, and iron oxides found. No. 2 contains microscopical mica resembling gold and is "cat gold" of the mining boys in the hills. The black stuff is micaceous iron. No. 1 gave no reaction for copper, and no sample yielded any native gold.

Free Gold Absent

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—Q.: Samples from Los Angeles county, near Mojave. Please test No. 1 for platinum and gold. On the large specimen No. 2 please analyze for iron and titanium. M.

A.: No. 1 is feldspathic rock, somewhat altered; it carries no flake platinum and free gold is absent. No. 2 is a banded rock containing more or less magnetite, and runs low in titaniferous iron. Iron oxides (hematite and limonite) found; zinc reactions low, and the sample in no way represents the valuable ilmenite ore as found at Twin Buttes, Utah.

Another Crystal

HUMBOLDT (Ariz.) Jan. 7.—Q.: The inclosed crystal is from a mine located west of Humboldt. B.

A.: And, it is spathic iron (chalybite.)

Cinnabar Absent

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—Q.: Am sending you a sample of rock from a big ledge about an hour's drive north from Los Angeles. Please test it for cinnabar and other values. H.

A.: It carries quite a percentage of iron oxides; it is altered feldspathic rock; free gold is not present, and the microscope shows traces of golden-yellow mica known as cat gold.

Mari

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—Q.: Here is a sample from the desert in northern part of Los Angeles county. I would like to know how near it comes to being bentonite. Is there any way to learn the process of treating bentonite for making antiphlogistine, or is it a trade secret? J.

A.: The sample is mari (lime carbonate) mixed with more or less lime-magnesium silicate. It is far away from bentonite (known also as medicinal clay and Denver mud.)

Bentonite is bedded or sedimentary plastic clay which swells immensely on wetting. Mixed with glycerine it forms a proprietary medicament known as antiphlogistine. It is used in madicine and as packing for horses' hoofs, also for paper filling and sizing. (United States Geological Survey.)

Native Gold Absent

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—Q.: The sample was found near Pasadena; gold analysis desired. O.

A.: It is altered granite (gneiss) and it carries two varieties of mica. The black mica is biotite, and the yellow mica is microscopic yellow mica known as cat gold.

Cawk Baryte

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—Q.: The sample comes from Ord mining district, San Bernardino county, California. Anything of commercial value? R.

A.: Unless material represented by the sample will give fire assay returns in gold or silver it is probable that such ore would be of little commercial value. The sample, however, cannot be definitely determined without a quantitative analysis. It carries more or less cawk, which is a very low-grade mixture containing baryte. The rock shows traces of microscopic pyrite and blende (zinc sulphide.)

Seven Samples

ROMOLAND, Jan. 10.—Q.: Samples found in Riverside county, California. Please test for gold and lead. B.

A.: The seven quartz specimens panned together yielded one small color of native gold, with traces of microscopic pyrite, and altered auriferous pyrite sparingly found. We could get no reaction for lead.

MINE RECORD CLAIMED

Arizona Estate Forty Years in Hands of Col. Drave

PHOENIX, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—Possibly a record in length of mine ownership in Arizona is held by Col. E. E. Drave, U. S. A., retired, who is back from France for deep development of a mine he located, with several army associates, more than forty years ago, when he was a lieutenant of cavalry at Fort McDowell, under the then Capt. Adna R. Chaffee.

The mine is the Catherine in the Cave Creek district, about forty miles northeast of Phoenix. In addition to sinking and drifting that has been maintained for four decades, a Los Angeles contractor this week will start diamond drilling across the formation. The principal value is gold.

CONCENTRATOR TO START SOON

Announcement Made by United Verde Copper

Will Put Plant in Operation Within Few Weeks

Daily Output to Approximate 1,000,000 Pounds

CLARKDALE (Ariz.) Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—Announcement has been made that the concentrator of the United Verde Copper Company will be in operation within a few weeks, daily handling about 1400 tons of ore and producing about 500 tons of concentrates, delivered at the reverberatory furnaces of the company here.

Ore will be crushed at the company's big crushing plant and will be taken by belt conveyors from storage bins to two large grinding units, ball mills, eight feet in diameter and twelve feet long. There is to be direct flotation through four machines. Tailings will flow by gravity to a pond backed up by a dam near the golf course.

The flow sheet is the result of experiments that have been prosecuted for years, with practical demonstration in Humboldt and Miami copper mills, and very close extraction is expected. Smelting will be in combination with the regular run of ores from the mine.

Ordinary acceptance of the United Verde as a mine of very high-grade ores has failed of appreciation that many bodies of low-grade ores, usually chalcopyrite, have been found in the workings, usually at the sides of the chimney from which enormous wealth has been produced. In the past, stoping has been discontinued when the work got beyond ores of smelting value. The concentrating ore left now may be handled very economically, much of it shot down to the haulage-tunnel level.

It is not expected that the bullion output will be materially increased by the addition of the concentrates, but it is not doubted that tonnage costs will be materially decreased by the ability to take the ore as it comes.

RICHFIELD BRINGS IN WELL AT BEACH

The Richfield Oil Company's Stott No. 1 well at Huntington Beach was placed on production Saturday. Company officials estimated the flow at 1000 barrels a day. The company's Huntington No. 3, after starting ten days ago at 1200 barrels, is now said to be delivering about 2100 barrels daily.

Hegira of Oil Drillers From Tampico Seen

BEAUMONT (Texas) Jan. 23.—As a result of the refusal of the Mexican government to issue any more drilling permits to American companies operating in the Tampico district, whose titles have not been officially confirmed, there will be a big influx of oil field drillers and other workers into Texas in the next few weeks, according to private information received here from Tampico. It is stated also that some of the American companies will transfer their drilling crews to various oil fields of Texas as soon as the necessary leases can be secured. The government authorities of Mexico have refused to permit oil field and refinery equipment to be shipped out of the country.

The operations in the Spindle Top field, adjacent to Beaumont, will afford employment to many of the experienced men who may come from Mexico. The production of the Spindle Top field again mounted to approximately 93,000 barrels a day the latter part of last week, and this peak will be maintained for some time, it is expected.

Mr. Henry L. Doherty, President of the Company summarizes his letter as follows:

Business Cities Service Company owns directly or through subsidiaries a majority of the common stock of each of more than sixty public utilities comprising a large and successful system of electric light and power, manufactured and natural gas, heat, water, ice and street railway companies, and of more than forty companies representing an important system of oil production, transportation, refining and marketing.

The public utility properties comprise a diversified group operating in seventeen States and the Dominion of Canada, serving a population of more than 3,000,000 in over 600 communities, including such important cities as Denver, Colorado; Kansas City, Joplin and St. Joseph, Missouri; Kansas City and Topeka, Kansas; Toledo and Sandusky, Ohio; Danbury, Connecticut, and numerous others. These companies, having an installed capacity of over 670,000 horsepower, sold in 1925 more than 1,200,000,000 kilowatt hours of electric energy for light and power, and distributed in excess of 70,000,000,000 cubic feet of manufactured and natural gas.

The principal oil properties produce daily in excess of 45,000 barrels of crude oil, and the subsidiaries operate more than 1000 miles of oil pipe lines, and refineries having a total rated capacity of 31,500 barrels daily. The oil properties are located principally in the Mid-Continent fields in Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas, and the natural gas business is conducted principally in Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri.

Earnings The comparative earnings of Cities Service Company for the twelve months ended November 30, 1926, 1925 and 1924, were as follows:

$50,000 — FIVE YEARS — 8%
I am in the market for a loan of unusual character. The nature of it will not allow it to be rediscounted. The security and income are amply sufficient to warrant the lending of twice the amount with no danger of creating a frozen asset. The loan is not based in any sense on inflation or expected development, but will pass the most conservative requirements. Please do not answer unless you have $50,000.00 to loan and are satisfied with a net return of 8%. Principals only. Brokers and agents will receive no attention.

CREDENCE LENT TO OPAL STORY

Nevada Geologist Confirms Reported Discovery

Deposit Near Winnemucca is Declared Largest

Variety and Luster of Gems Said to be Unusual

RENO (Nev.) Jan. 23. (Exclusive) Development of an extensive opal-bearing deposit in the Thousand Creek district, about fifty miles north of Winnemucca, has been confirmed by J. Claude Jones, professor of geology at the University of Nevada.

Small numbers of the gems have been mined from time to time on the property in the past ten years, but recent work has demonstrated the deposit as one of the largest in the world. The opals range from opalescent and iridescent to gems of the fire and tear variety, with colors varying from green and blue to pinks and reds.

Prof. Jones states that the deposits resulted from the burial of a petrified forest under vast flows of volcanic ash. Centuries ago the district was apparently covered with tropical vegetation, and the trees were gradually fossilized by chemically-charged waters ejected from active volcanoes. As the ages passed the petrified trees were covered by successive flows of ashes, and later buried under molten lava. Nature's mysterious forces eventually changed sections of the fossils into opals of remarkable quality.

The gems crack and dissolve to fragments if taken directly to the outer air, and must first be packed in clay and kept underground four or five years. This permits them to gradually dry and harden and become impervious to atmospheric action. Prof. Jones states that the gems when properly "cured" and cut are equal to the finest opals produced by Australia.

Several "high-graders," as gold-ore thieves are known in the western mining region, have occasionally stolen the gems, but rapid dissolution of the stones when exposed to the air has discouraged the practice.

The remarkable character of the Thousand Creek opal deposit has encouraged the belief that diamonds may eventually be found in some of the ancient craters of extinct volcanoes in the Great Plateau region.

The Spanking Was Waived

"No, Olive," said her father, who was ill in bed, "you mustn't climb up and kiss me. I have a sort throat." The child looked disappointed. "You may wave me a kiss; that will do just as well," he added to comfort her.

The little one's natural activity had to have an outlet and a minute or two later she was up on a chair trying to reach something on the mantel.

"Get down off that chair," commanded her father. "You will fall and break something."

Olive was not promptly obedient. "Get down or I'll spank you."

Olive looked at him and remembering, said: "Wave your spank, daddy; that will do just as well."—[Boston Transcript.

COTTON UP IN SPITE OF HUGE SALES

Prices Gain in Face of Movement Passing Mark of Former Periods

NEW YORK, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—The market was strong the greater part of the week from the spread of further trade and speculative buying, mainly in following last week's pronounced strength on the Liverpool markets, where the continuance of a good demand for both spot cotton and futures, principally by continental interests, throughout this week has been the feature. Spot sales there this week have totaled 70,000 bales, against 48,000 last week, 43,000 last year and 28,000 in 1926, this week's sales being the largest of any week the past year.

To this market sentiment has moreover been stimulated by persistent circulation of forecasts by bull interests that the final ginning of the crop will be 1,600,000 bales under the government's annual estimate on the yield, issued December 3, last, which made the crop 12,618,000 bales without linters. Calculations along this line are expected by the bulls to be sustained in Monday's ginning report of the Census Bureau, making the amount of the crop ginned to the 16th inst. less than 10,000,000 bales, or only a little more than 1,000,000 bales from the last ginning date of December 13.

It should be remembered, however, the weather during the greater part of December and the first half of this month in the cotton belt was bad for southward picking and ginning, it being very stormy at times, with the lowest temperatures reached on several occasions in the last twenty or thirty years down the gulf coast from Texas to Florida and the Carolinas. Moreover the size of the crop cannot with any reliability be forecast within 500,000 bales in connection with the government's figures, pending the final ginning report of the Census Bureau for the season, which will not appear until March 26. That will also give the amount of linters, which in a crop of this season's huge character should be about 1,500,000 bales.

From last Saturday's closing prices there was an advance of 30 to 35 points in the general contract list here, bringing January up to 13.47 March, 13.06; May, 12.77; July, 12.58, and October of the next crop to 14.17. These high prices were made Wednesday. A reaction of 30 points followed from profit-taking and fresh southern selling, as these prices marked the highest reached since early in October, and represented an extreme advance of 175 points on the average, or $8.75 a bale, from the low quotations reached December 4, last. The market closed yesterday somewhat irregular with January around 13.30, March, 13.00; May, 13.02@13.03, July, 12.82, and October, 14 cents. Many think the market is now high enough for present conditions with such a large percentage of the crop in the South remaining unmarketed, and also because a further rise of any importance over the next few weeks should be a big factor in baiting the plans of most southern bankers, inducing planters not to cut the acreage to any extent for the next crop.

Pan-American Flyers Face More Than 5000 Miles of Treacherous Air Currents

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—More than 5000 miles of uncharted highways of the air, spotted with "aerial shoals" lie before Maj. Dargue and his comrades of the Army Air Corps as they await at Panama the hop off on the next lap of their goodwill journey in Pan-America.

The flyers reached Panama behind time due to minor mishaps, but they are hopeful that they will cover the second division of the flight in the twenty-nine days scheduled for it.

First in the nagivational difficulties that confront them lies the passage between Honda and Girardot, Colombia, where the "air is rough, looted with cross-currents and dotted with air pockets," according to a War Department review of the route. But the Honda stretch will be mild at its worst, it is added, compared to the trip from Pisco to Lomas, Peru, "the Bay of Biscay of the air."

Another dreaded spot is Chiri-Chiri Bay, "the wettest place in the world."

On the first leg out of Panama the five planes will follow the romantic coastline of the Spanish Main to Bogota, capital of Colombia, then back to the zone en route to Buena Ventura and thence to Tumaco, Guayaquil, Paiti, Trujillo and Lima.

LEGION CHIEFS CONFER

Northern Posts Seeking Way of Increasing Civic Usefulness

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23. (Exclusive)—Commanders and adjutants of American Legion posts throughout Northern California are in session here discussing ways of increasing their civic usefulness.

An organization that will not only preserve memories of the past, but become active in constructive work of the present, was advocated by Dr. John F. Slavich, State commander. Approximately 250 officers of the Legion, representing 150 posts are present. A similar conference for Southern California is to be held in Los Angeles next Sunday.

FILM LEADERS WILL LECTURE AT HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Jan. 23. (AP) Lectures by leaders in the motion-picture industry will form part of the Harvard graduate school of business administration curriculum, officers announced today. Among film leaders who have accepted invitations to give lectures are Will Hays, Adolph Zukor, Jesse Lasky, William Fox, Harry M. Warner, Marcus Loew and Cecil B. De Mille.

MIDDLE WEST READERS PROVE DISCRIMINATING

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 23. (AP)—As proof of the developing discriminatory powers of middle western readers, a consensus of book sellers here reveals that the day of the individual "best seller" is over. Five years ago Kansas City readers concentrated their purchasing power on one title. Today, the book men declare, no one title is more popular than a half dozen or more.

Muy Señora nuestra:

En respuesta a su grata tarjeta postal fecha de ayer, tenemos el gusto de enviar a usted por correo, en sobre separado, nuestra más reciente publicación descriptiva de viajes por Europa y el Oriente. Este folleto contiene itinerarios y precios de las excursiones que estamos organizando ahora, las que comprenden, como verá usted, cruceros tanto septentrionales como meridionales.

No obstante haber profusión de detalles en todo lo descrito, podemos, si fuere necesario, ampliar en cualquier sentido los informes dados allí.

En vista de que el número de miembros de cada excursión es necesariamente limitado, sería conveniente que se decidiera usted cuanto antes, debido principalmente a que algunas de las expediciones tienen ya su dotación completa de viajeros.

Para darle más pormenores acerca de estos viajes, sírvase usted informarnos sin demora del crucero particular que desea y del tiempo de que dispone.

Quedamos, con todo respeto, de Ud. afmos. y attos. S. S.

Muy Señores nuestros:

Tengan ustedes la bondad de comunicarnos si tienen en existencia efectos de cualquier clase, que, por uno o por otro motivo, deseen vender de contado. Nos referimos particularmente a mercancías que hayan tenido usted depositadas como prendas de préstamos, o a mercancías pertenecientes a herencias (bienes) en liquidación, o de cualquiera otra procedencia.

No vacilamos en expresar nuestra creencia de que estamos en mejores condiciones que ustedes para dar salida (outlet) a tales artículos, pues nos hemos venido especializando desde hace muchos años en la venta de ellos, y estamos seguros de poder prestarles a ustedes muy buenos servicios.

Nosotros compramos dichos efectos por nuestra propia cuenta, o los vendemos por cuenta ajena, cobrando 5 por ciento de comisión. Al contestarnos, sírvanse Uds. darnos pormenores completos de los artículos que tengan disponibles.

Esperamos con gran interés su respuesta, y nos subscribimos sus afmos. y muy attos. S. S.
C. W. Mason & Hno.

Sírvase el estudiante consultar en un diccionario, o con su profesor, la diferencia de significado entre las expresiones "de contado" y "al contado". Respecto al verbo "especializarse", que le usado en esta última carta, debo advertir que no consta en el Diccionario de la Academia. Con todo, es ya de uso muy general, y la Enciclopedia de Espasa sí lo consigna.

Observe el lector que en la primera de estas dos cartas traduje la oración inglesa, "we are mailing you our publication describing these tours", por "enviamos a usted por correo nuestra publicación descriptiva de estas excursiones", rehuyendo de ese modo el empleo del gerundio "describiendo" como si fuera adjetivo, porque en español no tiene funciones de tal. Terminantemente reprueba esa práctica el señor Bello, quien dice en su gramática: "Si el gerundio pudiera emplearse como adjetivo, no habría motivo de censurar aquella frase de mostrador tan justamente reprobada por Salvá: 'Envío cuatro fardos conteniendo veinte piezas de paño'. Este modo de hablar es uno de los más repugnantes galicismos que se cometen hoy día."

Análogas observaciones hace a ese respecto don Rufino J. Cuervo en sus luminosas Apuntaciones Críticas sobre el Lenguaje Bogotano. En mi próxima Plática transcribiré algunas de las más importantes.

Next to Last Confederate General Dies

POINT PLEASANT (W. Va.) Jan. 23. (AP)—Brig.-Gen. John McCausland, 90 years of age, one of the last two surviving of Confederate Army general officers, died at his home at McCausland, near here, during his sleep last night.

The veteran of the Gray Legions whose pride was that he had never surrendered, even after Appomattox, surrendered at last to the encroaching weaknesses of old age, which took toll of his naturally rugged physique. He had not been ill.

Although his name was linked with incidents in several of the important conflicts of the Civil War, his share in the defense of Lynchburg and his command of the raid which culminated in the burning of Chambersburg, Pa., probably are the most widely known of the activities of the man who was called from a professorship to command troops of the State to which we gave allegiance.

HOSIERY NOT OF SILK, TRADE NAME BANNED

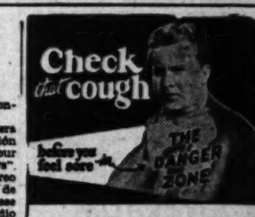
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. (AP)—Reuben Berman of New York City, trading as Silktex Hosiery Mills, has been directed by the Federal Trade Commission to discontinue the practice of representing his hosiery as silk and himself as a manufacturer. In making this announcement today the commission said hose sold by Berman was found to contain 86 per cent of artificial silk.

HEADS CLEARINGHOUSE

PASADENA, Jan. 23.—William H. Mages, president of the Central National Bank, has been elected president of the Pasadena Clearinghouse Association for the ensuing year. He succeeds M. Vilas Hubbard. Other officers are W. R. Scoville, vice-president, and Harry A. Colyer, secretary-manager.

LOUD SPEAKERS BANNED

PARIS, Jan. 23. (AP)—Radio loudspeakers are barred from Paris streets. The advertising stunts caused so much disturbance and criticism that the Chief of Police ruled out every form of such announcement. Those that are placed in show windows or doorways to attract attention to stores are also under the ban.



Don't treat a cough lightly. Don't be foolish and say, "I'll get over it."

No matter what causes it: exposure, colds or irritation from dust and smoking—a cough is a signal that the throat tissues are inflamed and may quickly become breeding places for myriads of germs that lurk in the mucus. If this infection spreads, serious consequences will result.

Get rid of that cough right now before it "settles" in the "danger zone". Take PERTUSSIN at once.

It loosens up congestion promptly, and by stimulating expectoration, helps to rid you of sticky, germ-laden phlegm that clogs the air passages.

PERTUSSIN is a simple herbal remedy—pleasant to take, free from "dope", and has been prescribed by physicians for 20 years.

If your cough has already settled in the "danger zone", you should see your Doctor.

Validity of Sacatella Storm-Drain Unit Menaced by Litigation

ACTION CHARGES DISCREPANCIES

Specifications Asserted to Vary from Ordinance

Application to be Heard by Judge Shaw Today

Bid Accepted Held Contrary to Plans Drawn Up

Litigation that menaces the validity of the Sacatella Storm Drain Section Three project, in so far as it is based on the ordinance of intention passed by the City Council last May and the bid of Charles H. Johnston awarded December 17, will go to trial before Judge Shaw today.

The suit is the action of Gad Morgan and Gaylord Apartments, a corporation, against the city of Los Angeles to enjoin the city from going ahead under the proceedings as they stand. It is charged that the specifications for the job fall in numerous and important particulars to follow the ordinance of intention, and that as a result any resulting liens on affected property would amount to taking values without due process of law.

PLANS HELD VAGUE

The ordinance, it is charged in the complaint, fails to define and locate the proposed improvement clearly. It is pointed out that whereas the ordinance provides for sheet asphalt paving at places, the specifications bid on call for asphaltic cement; that although the ordinance fails to mention concrete gutters, the specifications call for 4600 square feet of this construction; that although no mention is made in the ordinance of concrete sidewalks, the specifications provide for 1400 square feet of this class of work. Numerous other discrepancies are asserted.

A question is also raised as to right of way. The complaint recites that although the ordinance refers to numerous rights of way, these were not in possession of the city at the time the ordinance was passed, and that anyway much of the property to be traversed by right of way is under restrictions that limit the right of the record owners to convey for any purpose except residential building. This, the complainants aver, will require the city to obtain the reversionary right, in addition to fee title, a step that it is charged has never been taken.

Judge Shaw will be called upon to decide whether these charges are true, and if so, if they are of such character as to violate the notice and other provisions of the Improvement Act of 1911. The case came before him last week on application for a temporary injunction, but because of his familiarity with injunction matters, and the necessity for early decision, Deputy City Attorney Mohr, who is defending the action, and Attorneys Otto and Linn, for the plaintiffs, stipulated that the temporary injunction might issue, and that Judge Shaw might grant judgment on the whole matter upon hearing of arguments today, and thus bring the action to a conclusion.

Work for which Johnston's accepted bid is $900,898, is involved.

HUSBAND SEEKS MISSING BRIDE

Years 16-Year-Old Wife Was Kidnaped While She Was Looking For Him

Frank Svab, 27 years of age, a clothing salesman of Lankin, N. D., has concluded that Los Angeles is far too large a city in which to keep track of a 16-year-old bride. Emma Svab, his girl wife of but six months, disappeared from home here Friday afternoon.

"I know Emma wouldn't run away from me," he said, "but you see, she had never been in a big city before. This is probably what happened: I left the apartment Friday morning and said I would be back for her at 3:30; well, she had no clock, was probably lonesome, thought it was later than it was and started out to look for me. She is such a pretty girl—so innocent and unsuspecting — some one may have kidnaped her and taken her far away."

Plan to Produce "Sink or Swim"

PARTNER AND YOUNG BREAK

Bill Hastings, Who Journeyed Here With Winner of Wrigley Swim, Signs Picture Contract Alone

Bill Hastings, pal of George Young, Catalina Channel swimming hero, has reached the parting of the ways with his former buddy. This was learned yesterday when Hastings signed a motion-picture contract for a five-reel picture in which Young will be conspicuous by his absence. As Hastings told his side of the story that led to the break, representatives of William Wrigley, Jr., announced that the gum magnate will promote no more swims from Catalina Island or elsewhere.

The contract calling for the appearance of Hastings in a motion picture was signed in the office of Attorney W. H. Sheldon in Hollywood. By its terms, the youth at once will commence the filming of a picture under the direction of Dallas Fitzgerald. In the contract it is stipulated that Hastings will receive a minimum weekly salary of $300 and a 50 per cent division of net profits.

A scenario for the picture in which Hastings is to be starred is near completion, carrying the title "Sink or Swim." It is woven about the adventures of the boys on their way from Canada to Los Angeles.

FELT IGNORED

A feeling that he was being left out of activities in which George Young was to play a prominent part influenced Hastings in signing a contract independent of Young, Hastings admitted yesterday.

"George and I were friends for three years in Toronto," he said. "I hold the high-diving championship of Canada. When the papers carried the story of Wrigley's offer of $25,000 to swim the Catalina Channel we borrowed all the money our mothers could spare. We left for California on my motorcycle. When we got to Chicago I talked Wrigley into loaning us $60 more and when our motorcycle broke down I persuaded a manufacturer into fixing it.

"We shared our hardships, but after the race was won it was different. After the race George was the guest at a big reception given at the Biltmore Hotel. I was left outside to talk to the taxi driver. They gave George a room at the Christie Hotel and I was left in the lobby."

PLANS FOR PICTURE

While he was there in the lobby of the Christie Hotel, Hastings says, he met Townsend Paull, who, after listening to the boy's story, offered to provide him a room. Paull later decided to assume the duties of his business manager, and employed Attorney Sheldon.

Dallas Fitzgerald, formerly with the Metro Pictures Corporation, says he believes a good picture can be woven about Hastings's story. The picture will probably be produced at the Universal Studios.

WRIGLEY'S VIEWS

Told of the action of Hastings, Young's manager last night issued a brief statement denying that they had given the youth the "cold shoulder."

"We offered him what we considered a fair proposition," declared Ralph Levy. "We told him he could have a weekly salary until George's contracts were lined up and then include him in the same plans. We are sorry that he feels the way he does. Perhaps in the confusion and hurry that followed the swim he might have been unintentionally overlooked on one or two occasions, but he seems to have taken it too much to heart. Both George and ourselves hope that his picture is a success."

Answering queries as to Young's possible earning capacity since winning the Catalina swim, Levy and William O'Byrne declared last night that contracts now could be signed totaling approximately $500,000. The estimate includes, they stated, returns from motion-picture contracts offered, various consecutive personal and theatrical appearances and proceeds from co-operative commercial advertising campaigns. No contracts have yet been signed, however, they asserted, although some are expected to be closed the early part of this week.

Announcement that Wrigley contemplated no more marathon swims was made by David P. Fleming, president of the Fleming & Weber Investment Company, and secretary of several of Wrigley's other western companies.

The statement sets at rest varied rumors of new aquatic events planned by the chewing-gum manufacturer, including a report that he will join with Long Beach in promoting another race across the Catalina Channel.

"If Long Beach wishes to hold any swim, Mr. Wrigley will gladly grant the freedom of the island's shores. He has his good wishes, but he will not participate in any new undertaking," Mr. Fleming declared.

MEETING POSTPONED

The Westward Ho Club yesterday announced that a meeting scheduled for today has been postponed to next Monday. Adoption of by-laws, election of officers and adoption of a new charter are among the items on the program. The meeting at 7:30 p.m. will be preceded by a dinner.

report. Boals was not held at the time.

An unidentified man about 45, poorly dressed and wearing two pairs of overalls, was fatally injured opposite 930 North Harbor Boulevard, San Pedro, last night by an automobile driven by Ed B. Gray, employed by the Standard Oil Company at the harbor, police reported. Gray reported the man stepped into the path of his car.

Police Surgeon Langan said the man apparently had been drinking. His only personal possessions, according to police, were 11 cents, two boxes of matches, some sliced sausage and an American Legion button.

The body was taken to the Goodrich Undertaking Company.

MOTOR COP KILLED

While chasing a speeder on Washington Boulevard last night, Charles M. Partin, a motorcycle officer, crashed into an automobile at Virginia Road and was instantly killed. Partin and his partner, Motorcycle Officer Dickerson, were pursuing a speeding machine west on the boulevard when Jack Smith of 1819 Mansfield Road, driving east on the boulevard, made a left-hand turn at the intersection, according to the report.

Partin suffered a broken neck. His body was taken to the Coroner's office. According to Wilshire police, the accident apparently was unavoidable.

Partin lived at 1817 North Avenue 55. He was 38 years of age and had been in the police department five years.

DRIVER EXONERATED

After being given emergency treatment at the Receiving Hospital Pedrome was taken to his home. He was struck down by an automobile driven by W. R. White of 901 Victoria street at Seventh and Main streets, police reported. White was not held.

Mrs. Cora Henderson, 30 years of age, suffered a broken collar-bone and her husband, A. J. Henderson, 35, 1569 East Fifty-first street, was severely bruised about the head when the automobile in which they were riding struck the curbing at Compton avenue and Twenty-third street and overturned.

Severe lacerations of the scalp were suffered by F. W. Burke, 28, of 408 South Date street, when his automobile turned over at Main street and Eastlake avenue.

A freak accident sent Philip Fischer of 1643 Cortes street to the Receiving Hospital with bruises and lacerations. Fischer, according to a police report, drove his automobile into another car owned by T. A. Gruey parked at the curbing in front of the latter's home at 274 Belmont avenue. Gruey stated that his car was knocked into the house next door and wrecked.

A score of other persons suffered minor injuries in a number of smaller accidents.

PARENTS BURNED IN RESCUING CHILD

Three children were seriously burned, two from gas heaters and one from scalding water, yesterday morning. The parents of one of the victimes were painfully burned also when they beat out the fire in the child's clothes with their bare hands.

The victims were Ralph Gifford, Jr., 6 years of age, son of Ralph and Gertrude Gifford of 2015 Baxter street; Wayne Orr, 3 months of age, of 820 South Flower street, and Roberto Martinez, 4, of 725 La Mar street.

The Gifford boy suffered first, second and third-degree burns when his clothes caught fire from a gas heater in his home. His father and mother, attracted by his screams, sought to tear the burning clothes from his body with their bare hands. Before they had succeeded in extinguishing the flames the father suffered second-degree burns of both hands and the mother's forearms were severely burned. After being given emergency treatment at the Receiving Hospital the boy was sent to the General Hospital, where it was stated his condition was serious.

The Wayne baby was burned when he fell from his bed onto a gas heater.

FAIR WEATHER FOR CANADIAN FORECAST

A special forecast of good weather for the annual picnic and field day of the Canadian Tourists' Association at the Coliseum February 5 was received yesterday from Father Ricard at Santa Clara University, according to John Hooper, president of the association. There may be clouds in the morning, but there will be no rain, the prediction said. The Canadians have established headquarters at 720 West Eighth street, and a registry at 607 South Grand avenue in preparation for the affair.

Parker Duofold is made in all 3 effects

Those who like Green Jade will agree it's easy to decide which Jade to buy. For here, in the Parker Duofold, this popular color is in combination with trim Black Tips. It is doubly smart and effective.

But the color effect is only one of the reasons why the Parker Duofold is most widely favored of all Pens.

In no other are barrels made of Permanite—Parker's new, light-weight, Non-Breakable material—instead of rubber, as formerly.

Nor does any other have the Parker Inktight, Duo-sleeve Cap that keeps hands and clothes immaculate.

And only in the Parker Duofold will you find the jewel-smooth Duofold point that's guaranteed 25 years not only for mechanical perfection but for wear! A point that yields to any hand or to any style of writing, yet ever retains its original shape.

So don't confuse the Parker Duofold with other pens that are similar in color only. Look with care for the imprint of master craftsmanship—"Geo. S. Parker"—on the barrel. Stop and try it at the nearest pen counter.

PRINCE OF PEACE AWAITED TO CALM WARRING WORLD

Speaker Expounds Prophecy in Biblical Names of Christ as Healer of Strife

Believing that the world will never know permanent peace "until the pierced feet of Christ stand again on the Mount of Olive," Rev. Stanley Bailes, pastor of Hollenbeck Presbyterian Church, in a sermon from The Times broadcasting station yesterday told his audience that Jesus was and is the world's great counselor, friend and redeemer that ever visited this sin-sick planet. Preaching on "Naming the Christ," Mr. Bailes spoke in part as follows:

"God named His only-begotten Son truth-seeking world. 'Truth first' is a far better principle."

SECRET OF SUCCESS OFTEN PERSISTENCY

Rev. W. C. Isett, pastor of Amanda Chapel, preached yesterday on "Holding On." He said in part:

"Steadfastness of purpose is the chief element in success, yet it is one of the rarest traits in human character. Religion, as well as business, awards success to this one thing. Literature is full of instances of the power of steadfastness, while history reports both success and failure on the basis of this one trait. The Bible holds it constantly before its readers in both the Old and New Testaments. Prophet, priest and king commend those who are steadfast. It is a twin-sister to faith. It is the unchangeableness of God which gives strength to faith. A man needs no other incentive in his religious life or his commercial dealings than the one admonition to hold on. Since this is the foundation-stone of character, why is it so rare? Why are there so many failures, so many mediocre people? The explanation is that the will is not cultivated. We have so much of ease and so many material things to make life easy that we are neglecting the most important part of our life."

SPIRITUALITY HELD SUPERIOR TO PROOF

"Reincarnation" is the subject of an address given yesterday by Swami Dhirananda at Mt. Washington Educational Center. The speaker said, in part:

"The idea of reincarnation is as old as the thought of man and, while it is a fact and not merely a theory, reincarnation cannot be proved by empirical science. It is a matter of experience with advanced souls. The knowledge of the truth of reincarnation is subjective and it is not susceptible of proof to the man who is not aware of its actuality. If one has never eaten a mango, nothing that he eats can possibly remind him of the taste of a mango and no objective demonstration, aside from personal experience, can prove to him how a mango tastes or that it has any taste at all. The same analogy holds good with reincarnation and many other psychic facts and experiences which are beyond the reach of the laboratory. Although evidence and logic bear witness to the truth of reincarnation and although more than half the people of the world believe in it, belief in this or any other doctrine is not essential to a spiritual life which depends not on intellectual conceptions and convictions, but on right conduct, pure thoughts and reverence for the Most High."

GOD WHISPERS YET TO HEARTS OF MEN

Dr. H. C. Culbertson of Plymouth Congregational Church preached yesterday on "The Word of God." He said, in part:

"What a wonderful thing a word is! Animals express their emotions with inarticulate squawks. Children and primitive men think in pictures, but the beginning of rational growth and progress comes with the evolution of words and language. By observing what words in the English, German and Hindu tongues are practically identical, scholars can make a shrewd guess at the conditions of life that prevailed long ago when those now widely separated peoples were a single tribe. Most wonderful of all is not the fact that man can speak with man, but that God can speak with man. Ancient prophets asserted hearing of the word of God. Jesus declared that He was preaching and sowing 'the word,' or message, of God, and His inspired apostle John declared that Jesus Christ himself was the Word, the supreme word, or message, of God. As God spoke to men of old, so by His spirit He speaks in our hearts."

PESSIMISTS' VIEWS OF MODERNS WRONG

Dr. Mayer Winkler, rabbi of Congregation Sinai, preached yesterday on "Organized Religion." He spoke, in part, as follows:

"Young and old are striving toward the same goal of developing and enriching the spiritual powers within themselves. The methods of approach must be different because environment, circumstances, life's experiences are all different. Though the emphasis is stressed upon the young generation, the needs of the old ones cannot be ignored and neglected. The aged probably need more the solace and comfort that religion offers because of the frailty and weakness that goes with old age. However, it is an imperfect observation of the life of youth which results in a pessimistic and hopeless exaltation in press and pulpit. Youth, in spite of unfavorable environment, is fundamentally fitted for spiritual life. Our young men and women are easily persuaded to come to synagogue and church and to become an integral part of organized religious life, but the essentials of religion must be presented to them in a way appealing to the head and to the heart."

HOLDS FAITH ABOVE EARTHLY TREASURES

"The Glory of Faith" is the theme of a sermon preached yesterday by Dr. Bruce Brown at South Park Christian Church. Dr. Brown said in part:

"One of the heroes of all ages wrote at the close of his eventful and epoch making life, 'I have kept the faith.' We cannot keep youth or beauty or strength or health or home or friends. The years are vandals that wrest from us our dearest treasures, including life itself. There is just one thing that we can keep and that is the faith. There can be nothing really lost when we have kept the faith. The ones we have loved and lost awhile are waiting for us on that shore where the surges cease to roll. By faith we shall dwell in the city that lieth four-square, where time never grows old. By faith death has been conquered, the grave has been opened and the tomb has become the throne of our risen King."

MEN DARE TO THINK FOR SELVES

Dr. Marc Boyer Tupper preached at [illegible] Presbyterian Church yesterday on "The Truth-Seeker Rewarded." He said in part:

"Let every man dare to think for himself. Let no man accept anything because it is old or reject it because it is new. Let all men open their mind and spirit alike to the revelation of God, both in nature and in Scripture, as flowers open their petals to the light and warmth of the sun. Taking thought may be a good thing for pedestrians in crowded streets, but it is an unworthy rule of life. Even a perplexed and [illegible]

The Man Who Sees Without Eyes

SEES WITHOUT USE OF EYES

to their normal position culminated in the restoration of his sight and memory.

His case had created nation-wide comment. Psychologists were interested in finding out if he still retained his asserted ability to "see" without eyes. Careful investigation disclosed the man to have an acute case of paroptic vision. It was found that by abstaining from solid food for a period of from twenty-four to thirty-six hours he could literally "see with his skin."

On July 6, 1922, Thompson gave his first public exhibition in Casper, Wyo. He drove his automobile through the congested district of the city wearing a light-tight blindfold. That started him on his interesting career. To date he has made 331 public exhibitions. On Labor Day, last year, in Philadelphia he is credited with placing 236,000 paid admissions into the Sesquicentennial Exposition to witness the finish of his "blind" driving exhibition.

Thompson will arrive in Los Angeles tonight, driving his Oakland six landau sedan. Reeve Gartzmann, Inc., local distributors for the Oakland, will meet the young man and will groom his car for its appearance on the streets of Los Angeles tomorrow.

Thompson's own story and further details of his appearance here will be in The Times tomorrow.

BAZAAR HELPERS NAMED

Mrs. Albert Levy, Mrs. Albert Rummel, Mrs. B. Cohn, Mrs. L. Pinco, Mrs. P. Blank, Mrs. A. Silverman, Mrs. H. Chatiner, Mrs. E. Elias, Mrs. William Sloseberg, Mrs. Ben Platt and Mrs. B. Rosenberg are among the women who will aid at the "Arabian Nights" bazaar at Sinai Temple next Saturday, Sunday and Monday, it was announced yesterday.

Chinese Seek Firecrackers Dispensation

The annual request of the Chinese residents of Los Angeles for permission to discharge fireworks in Chinatown from 4 p.m. on February 1 to midnight on February 8 has been filed with the City Council. This request always has been granted by City Councils on the ground that a fireworks-less Chinese New Year's is no Chinese New Year's at all.

HOLD-UP MEN IN CARNIVAL OF ROBBERY

Six Victims Report Loss of Valuables, Including Tickets to "Miracle"

Bandits kidnaped and robbed one victim of $2000 in cash, held up and robbed two women of their purses and tickets to "The Miracle," and deprived a Japanese of all his valuables and most of his clothing early yesterday morning, according to reports on file at the Central Police Station.

Fred Peifer of 427 North Hobart Boulevard reported that he was kidnaped and driven to the Newhall tunnel, twenty-eight miles from the city and there abandoned on foot minus $2000 in cash. He said he was forced into a large sedan by two armed bandits at Hobart Boulevard and Oakwood avenue shortly after he had alighted from a street car. He was forced to lie down on the floor of the tonneau, he said, while his captors drove him out to the tunnel.

Mrs. C. Brown of 3800 Third avenue and Mrs. G. Harowitz of 1330 Albany street reported that they were held up by two bandits as they were walking at Second avenue and Jefferson street and robbed of their purses. Mrs. Brown's contained $6, she said, while Mrs. Harowitz reported she lost $2 and a pair of tickets to "The Miracle."

A tale of ingratitude was unfolded to the police by Ted Hoefer, an automobile mechanic of 1656 Long avenue, Hillside. N. J. Hoefer stated that two young men he had given a lift to about ten miles west of Gila Bend, Ariz., turned upon him yesterday, when they were driving near Athens on the Hill and flourishing knives, robbed him of $67 in cash, a suit case containing all of his spare clothing and his automobile. He picked up a ride from a passing motorist and reported the robbery to the police here.

K. C. Smith, a taxicab driver, reported that two fares held him up after he had driven them to the Jefferson High School and robbed him of $22.75.

Two pedestrian bandits brandishing revolvers forced Makie Kawahara of the Okayama Hotel, into a dark alley at First and Alameda streets and robbed him of $14 in cash, his gold watch, a fountain pen, his bill fold, his hat, overcoat and shoes, he reported to the police.

IT LOOKS THAT WAY

Anyhow, a man has to work mighty hard in order to be able to take things easy.

LOOKING BACKWARD

If there was a man in Montana 1,000,000 years ago he must have been mighty lonesome.

THE RUSSIAN FLAG

The new flag of the soviet republic is mostly red and green. The red is for bloodshed and the green for jealousy. They fit the conditions fairly well.

MOODY ADMINISTRATIONS

Dan Moody now is Governor of Texas. But the change has been sort of gradual, not all at once. Ever since the election last fall the Governors of Texas have been moody.

DAWN AND NIGHT

The dawn man may have been a pretty undeveloped character, judged by modern standards, but we wouldn't wonder if, at that, he would have compared pretty well with the night-club man.

ANYTHING BUT SMALL

A "young mountain" means a comparatively small mountain; a "young avalanche" means a comparatively small slide. But in California a Young budget means something of real cataclysmic proportions.

MARINE DIPLOMACY

We have a lot of folks in our diplomatic corps who can beat the Marines hollow when it comes to "conversations," but it's mighty nice to have the corps when we want quick results.

FOOLISH MAN

The New York Health Commissioner is condemning handshaking as an unhealthful and unsanitary practice, but if he purposes to lead a crusade against hand-holding among the young he will not get very far.

GIRLS ARE SCARCE

The discovery has been made that in Turkestan the male population exceeds the females at the ratio of almost three for one. Instead of indulging their ancient habit of polygamy the men now have to fight for their wives. The warrior who gets a dame is thought to be mighty lucky and the girls have a fine field to pick from. Old maids who are inclined to worry about their condition could do a lot of business if they felt careless enough to link up with a Cossack companion.

COLOR SCHEME

One of the foremost professional and club women of the country says that whenever a woman is in doubt she should wear red—or some of its numerous shades. She says that crimson, old rose, henna or wine give her dash and confidence. It may be swashbuckling in scarlet but if it gives zest and resourcefulness it is well worth while. She insists that the woman in business should be no colorless and suppressed soul. She believes that color and line are the first consideration in business apparel. Simplicity of line attracts men and color interests them. If the day's business contacts are with men this simple formula should not be overlooked. The girl who is tastefully and competently dressed has the confidence and savoir faire to make her work vastly more efficient.

THE CRANBERRY CROP

By this time the cranberry men are banking the season's profits. This is one crop in which California has but a trifling interest—save as a consumer. Most folk don't know it, but there are more than 100 varieties of the cranberry and they come in three shapes and several shades. Most of the berries that lend color to the Imperial Valley turkey come from the Cape Cod district, near Boston, where sea marsh lands that were thought to be high-priced at $10 an acre are turning in $300 or $400 worth of cranberries every fall. A good crop will run from forty to fifty barrels to the acre, but it takes a rather hardy race of men to gather the berries. As a rule the cranberry merchant earns his keep. The alliance of turkey and cranberries has been in vogue for nearly 300 years and is still going strong.

AN INDIAN SCARE

Just 100 years ago President John Quincy Adams was seriously thinking of using the United States Army to discipline the State of Georgia for violating the government treaty with the Creek Indians. The Creeks the year before had been placed upon selected lands in the Indian Territory, but certain Georgians who were still land-hungry induced their own State government to send a commission of surveyors into this redskin territory to survey and allot lands to the Georgians. The Indians threatened to scalp the invaders and for the moment there was the making of a border war, but the government took charge of the situation and, after threatening to make use of the Army, the President finally ordered United States marshals and attorneys into Georgia to prosecute those responsible for the invasion.

FORCE BECOMES NECESSARY

It was inevitable that our government would be obliged to employ force to maintain its rights and those of its nationals in China, and news from Washington to this effect will occasion more regret than surprise. The use of force becomes necessary because of the irreconcilable nature of the ideas of the Chinese agitators with any reasonable view of the attitude of foreigners, especially Americans, which these hotheads cannot be made to see in a peaceful and tolerant light. The agitators belong to the radical wing of the Nationalist party—a party shot through and through with Communism of the reddest Russian brand and, in fact, supported by soviet money and armed with soviet guns.

The American Minister to Peking, who was on his way to Washington, has been intercepted en route and ordered back to his post "because of the very great danger" to which Americans are subjected by the advance of the revolutionary army led by Gen. Chang Kai-Shek. City after city is being taken by Chang, and Washington, like London, fears that as his army sweeps on to victory it will attack Shanghai and retake the international concessions there, occupied by 20,000 foreigners, of whom 4000 are Americans. To lose this important commercial base, controlling the foreign trade of all China, would be a great blow to American trade and a still greater one to that of Britain.

But, while the British are reported to be conferring with the rebel rulers of South China and are said to be ready to recognize their government, it is doubtful that America will do anything of the kind. The argument against such a course naturally is that, as we have not recognized the soviets of Europe, there is no good reason why we should recognize those of Asia.

Let other nations give as much recognition as they please to Red regimes, this country does not care to stultify itself in that way, no matter how much there might be in it for us by way of business or prestige.

A UNIQUE THESPIAN

Arnold Daly, the clever actor who was burned to death in a studio fire in New York recently, will be remembered by Californians as the first and most successful exponent of the dramatic art of Bernard Shaw to make the rounds of the leading cities of this State and set our people wondering what to think or say about an entirely new brand of drama that had shocked and distressed staid old London and perplexed the New York critics.

Daly's piquant representation of the bizarre and impossible young hero of Shaw's "Candida" was something that is recalled as a daring attempt to popularize what since has been accepted by many highbrow theatergoers as the kind of leading character that defies all the conventions yet is supposed to be intensely human and to reach the heights or depths of realism.

He had studied Shaw to the letter, and not only did he play him, but he took delight in bringing out and truly personifying all the weirdness of as strange a master as ever was followed by an apt and ardent pupil. He was just the man to play the part of Candida's harassing lover. No lover like Daly ever existed before or probably will exist again upon the dramatic stage. His youth, verve and dash helped him to carry off the idol-smashing, hair-raising part to perfection. And he was as good—or bad—in "You Never Can Tell," "Arms and the Man" and other Shavian nerve-shocking as he was in the grotesque "Candida."

The vogue of Ibsen, Wilde and others of what is accepted as the realistic school of dramatists has rather accustomed us to dramatic iconoclasm, and in a day when almost anything by way of perverted ideas goes on the stage, there do not remain many habitual theatergoers who hold their breath at the sheer audacity of playwright or player. What may be called the latitude of acceptance is far greater in this respect than when Arnold Daly first trod the boards in Shavian roles.

Daly, who was born in Brooklyn and was 51 years old at the time of his death, had been on the stage thirty years. He was a favorite of the devotees of Shaw in this country and England. Shaw himself liked him exceedingly and said of his representation of his characters that nobody could have done them better. From a purely artistic standpoint this may not have been saying very much in the actor's favor. But strange things have occurred in stage history in the last few decades, and success, like charity, covers a multitude of sins. In the eyes of the "terrible realists" and their extensive following transgressions like those of Daly are, of course, reckoned as virtues rather than sins. It is all a matter of viewpoint; and at least these lovers of so-called "realism" know what they prefer, which is something.

If those who are slow to accept the peculiar standards of the realists did not like Daly or his acting they cannot deny that he was remarkably clever and threw himself into his work with impassioned zeal and often with startling effect.

HAIR AND GLORY

According to recent dispatches the harassed Britons are again taking to raising whiskers for the sake of asserting their individuality. The women have been taking their jobs and their offices. They have also been wearing their knickers, their pajamas and their derby hats. Likewise they have been cutting their hair and carrying canes. Even the girls are smoking cigarettes, drinking ale and talking about the races. It is mighty hard to tell the sexes apart either in the shop, the office, the polling place or the public house. The only way in which a man may indicate his prowess or superiority is in cultivating a beard.

Thus far the English maidens have indicated no proficiency in raising whiskers. Perhaps if they adopted the habit of shaving every day they could attain some hirsute distinction, but so far the array of bearded women has been so scant that as individuals they have been grabbed up by the circuses and museums.

But a man who cannot raise the price of a shave can raise whiskers that flare like a broom. He may be a wastrel or a half-wit, but in a few weeks of time he can dower his map with a crop of brush that would be the joy of nesting birds. Therefore, it is that the once-hardy Britons, driven to their last stand, are raising whiskers to prove their manhood. Their last stand will be one of alfalfa.

But, while this is going on in England, over in Italy the mighty Mussolini is telling the world that whiskers are the emblem of decadence. Glance at the busts of all the great Romans and you will note that all are clean-shaven—Caesar, Augustus and the long line of conquerors. When the decline of Roman glory began whiskers came into style. It is Mussolini who says it. So it has been with all periods. The Renaissance was a beardless period. So it is Mussolini shaves himself every morning with religious regularity—using an American safety razor and a fresh blade with every operation. He has the face of the mighty Julius before him as an example. He says that Fascism is a beardless cult. Whiskers were the rule in the old decadent regime which Fascism replaces. It is shining youth against hoary and hairy age. The beard belongs to the sluggish oriental, the smooth face is occidental. It is Mussolini who is speaking.

Possibly the Italian boss will accept the bearded restoration of the British as new evidence of the decline of the empire and say Britons are going down with hair around their necks.

ANOTHER CORNER TURNED

Twenty-five hundred students from many countries, but chiefly from colleges in America, met just before the New Year in solemn conclave in Milwaukee, Wis., to renovate the world.

It was a congress of youth similar to the one that gathered at Evanston, Ill., just one year ago to look after the mechanism of things in general.

That no particular damage was done this year, save a slight jar down in the Imperial Valley, helps the world to feel that it turned that corner propitiously at least.

As a fixer of the world youth is a great swimmer of the Catalina channel. Youth is the hope of the future, but not the best doctor of the present. It takes considerable whiskers on the face to give confidence.

In the first quarter of the Milwaukee meeting an argument sprang up on the eligibility of the colored races on the team. However, when it was discovered that gentlemen of color often make touchdowns the youth were wide-minded enough to admit all races.

As usual, the youngsters found themselves in a tug of war, or rather a tug over war. Possibly nobody more than youth ought to have something to say in this matter, for the young form most of the cannon fodder. However, in times past the young men have been content to let older heads decide the merits of entering a conflict. Hotheads have ever been in danger of resenting the chip on another's shoulder too soon.

Announcements went over the country simultaneously from the meeting that the pacifists had scored. Later on this was found to be a fluke and the matter was referred to the referees of nations.

In the second quarter a rally of those who were opposed to the present economic order occurred. But again order was restored by promising the boys and girls profit-sharing at the box office.

All in all the gathering does not seem to have been as fiery as the one a year ago. Possibly dad, having been quite prosperous the past twelve months, was able to furnish more wind-blown flivvers. Anyhow, we negotiated this corner safely and are now headed for another year of prosperity.

STRONG HIGHWAY ARGUMENT

A strong argument for a real southern highway of smooth, hard pavement and easy grades is seen in the official figures representing the number of automobiles entering California during 1926. These figures show that a record number of 158,566 motor cars entered the State during the year and that of these 99,025 came into Southern California by various routes, chiefly via Yuma, while 59,541 came in through northern points of registry.

The total number of automobiles entering the State in 1926 was more than double that reported for 1925, and Southern California made a much greater gain than was made by the northern part of the State. The tables for both years show that from December to April inclusive the number of cars entering the State via Daggett was very much less than during the remaining seven months of the year. On the other hand, more cars came in via Yuma in the winter months than during the rest of the year, and the total for the year was greater than that of Daggett. This strengthens the argument for a highway far enough south to attract the bulk of the winter traffic as well as a large proportion of that which enters in the summer time.

The opening of a real southern highway would be bound to result in a larger and more constant motor influx into California all the year around. When one considers the enormous number of automobiles driven in upon the present all-too-inadequate roads it requires no stretch of imagination to envision a number so greatly exceeding that of the present influx as to make it seem insignificant.

In pointing out the advantages to Southern California and the whole State that would accrue from the opening of an ideal all-year-'round route The Times has set forth many logical reasons why a modern road far enough to the south to insure freedom from snow and other hazards should be built, put probably no better reason exists than that based upon the official figures representing the extent of travel via Yuma, where, in the month of January, 1926, the incoming traffic was nearly double that in July in the same year, while in November it was far more than double, the figures being 6456 for that month as against 3711 for July. For the year the number passing through Yuma was 4056 greater than that passing through Daggett.

As an economic measure it is safe to say that such a highway would prove its value in a very short time, while it would be such a lure to Southern California as would advertise this delectable section of the country far and wide and the whole State would receive untold benefit. No time should be lost in making this dream of a great new southern highway a reality.

LIVING THE PART

When asked what influence her playing the part of the Madonna in "The Miracle" had had upon her life, Lady Diana Manners replied that she had been greatly uplifted and her whole outlook on life changed as a result of her role. This view was shared by the other players of the same role.

Playing noble or highly spiritual parts seems to accomplish this result, according to the statements encountered so often in the press. The actor or actress is influenced by the lofty nature assumed for the role, and the character is either transformed or highly ennobled.

But how does it happen that the same rule does not hold true in the case of the players of mean, vicious parts? We never hear of a portrayer of villainous characters being driven to drink or abusing his wife because of the malign influence of his stage roles. Quite the contrary, some of the mildest citizens and most benign husbands are found among the cinema villains; and a movie villain is always more irredeemably wicked than a stage one. It must be that his Satanic Majesty is overlooking some opportunities of getting in his deadly work or else the talent that makes one a high-grade villain also develops a rock-ribbed character that enables its owner to shake off the dark influence of the malevolent persons he enacts before the flickering film.

CAUSE OF COLDNESS

"French Glaciers Swelling," says a headline. We had noticed an apparent coldness on the part of that country. The cause is now apparent.

If Col. House has a ouija board he must be receiving some interesting messages these days.

Many actors go into the hash business after their stage careers are ended, according to an exchange. Some of us suspect that a lot of film folk started there—and made a mistake by ever leaving it.

Nobody denies woman the right to change her mind, but it does seem that she could forego the privilege while driving a car.

BOBBY BURNS'S BIRTHDAY

BY E. HARVEY SLAGLE

Bulwer Lytton, master writer of fiction and romance, said in the opening lines of his wonderful story of "Rienzi" that "Every spot of or no importance outside their own immediate vicinity have become birthplaces of men and women whose achievements have changed the world or the influence of whose lives have made others better and happier."

This is true in literature as well as in fields of labor. Environment is no hindrance to true genius, for that shines forth the same in the meanest hovel or the "palace of the king."

This may be said to be true of Robert Burns, the famous Scotch poet, whose birthday, in January of each year, is becoming more and more a world-wide celebration.

"Bobby" Burns, the plowboy poet, was born January 25 in a little cottage near the town of Ayr, 1759.

"Auld Ayr, whom ne'er a town surpasses
For honest men and bonny lasses."

His father was William Burns, a small farmer, a man of thoughtful, intense character, valuing knowledge, possessing some, of keen insight and devout heart, friendly and fearless.

All of these traits and more, the son inherited from him. The family was extremely poor, and Burns was obliged to work early and late to help support the family of his father. He was passionately fond of books and often carried them into the field to read in his spare moments.

While yet following the plow "He gathered round him the memories and traditions of his country 'til they became a mantle and a crown."

They inspired in the young poet a wish:

"That I for poor auld Scotland's sake
Some useful plan or book could make
Or sing a sang, at least."

He was filled with ambition, but the dread specter of poverty was ever at his side to drag him down. His father died. The poet and his brother Gilbert continued to run the farm, but were scarcely able to earn a livelihood.

About this time love, that arbiter of human destinies, entered the poet's life in the person of Jean Armour, who later, through the bitter and unceasing opposition of her father, disowned and deserted him.

He was then bethrothed to "Highland Mary" Campbell, the heroine of his immortal ode, "To Mary in Heaven," who shortly died of malignant fever at Greenock.

Burns's local fame reached a little coterie of literary people at Edingurgh and he was invited to that city, where he was affiliated with the famous Free Masons lodge (which still meets in the same room that they then occupied) and he was subsequently made "poet laureate," the latter event being made the subject of a celebrated painting, and he was made the literary lion of the day.

Burns hated the city with a royal hatred, and it was settled that he was to return to the plow. The nobility of the day never quite forgave him his plebeian longing and loving, but it was the source of his greatest inspiration, and from his farm life came some of the best and noblest poems of his career. He loved to sing of:

"Ye banks and braes o' bonnie Doon,
How can ye bloom sa fresh and fair?
How can ye chant, ye little birds,
And I sae weary fu' o' care?

Oft hae I rov'd by bonnie Doon
To see the rose and woodbine twine;
And like the birds sang o' its luve
And fondly sae did I o' mine."

The little cottage in which the poet was born still stands, and father's and mother's room—the family room of the cotter's Saturday night, where:

"The cheerfu' supper done, wi' serious face
They round the ingle form a circle wide,
The sire turns o'er wi' patriarchal grace
The big ha' Bible, ance his father's pride."

All is as he left it.

The "auld haunted kirk" made famous by Burns in his ride of "Tam O'Shanter" is only a few rods from the Burns cottage.

Only four walls of the kirk remain and the sharp gables, all covered with moss and ivy, and the crazy, broken steeple still holds the bell that was there when Burns wrote.

It all seems strange and wonderful to tread the ground that his feet had trod and to look upon the "auld kirk" in which he worshiped so long ago. And yet they still remain, a mute reminder of the lapse of time.

Beyond the kirk a few rods and on the other side of Garrick road is Burns's monument—the stone that this generation has given to the starved genius, who was compelled to be an excise man for his daily bread. The grounds are beautifully kept. In the monument are many pictures of Burns, the Bible he gave to Highland Mary, a ring he wore and the glasses he gave to Phyllis and a lock of his hair and an autograph letter and the original copy of "Scots Who Hae' Wi' Wallace Bled."

He wrote a strong, clear, beautiful hand, but uneven. The monument overlooks the Doon, and the "auld brig" over which mettlesome Meg carried poor, drunken Tam O'Shanter in his terrible ride, with tribute of her own tail to the Devil and the anger of Cutty Sack Nan is still in use.

Robert Burns was a wonderful genius. He needs no more fitting monument than the product of his own pen.

He is forever enshrined in the hearts of all who read his poems or have read of the man.

He sang of nature in all her changing moods. He touched the heartstrings of melody and love and joy and sympathy. He sang of life's heroisms, its sorrows and its consolations.

Burns saw beauty everywhere: the flowers, the birds, the braes, the streams, the spreading fields,

SO MANY LAWS

We're ignorant of many laws which have a vital bearing on everything that ever was, upon our daily faring. We're kept so busy at our toil, with hammers, saws and axes that we may make the kettle boil and pay the county taxes; we have no time to read the laws by gifted statesmen written; and so, for that unknown cause, by those same laws we're smitten. We're always being pinched for crimes that we had ne'er suspected; the courts relieve us of our dimes and leave us all dejected. I learned the traffic rules in force within Nebraska's borders, and, as I took my stately course, obeyed all legal orders. But when on Arizona's trails we nearly all the jails and paid our fines colossal. Nebraska's statutes wouldn't go near Phoenix, proud and regal; I always went into high or slow or turned where 'twas illegal. The grim-faced minions of the law, they stopped me at each turning and fed me to the lawgow's maw, where smoky fires were burning. The Widow Bligh lives near me, with June and Jack lives near me, with June and Rose, her daughters; I often see them sip their tea and ply their humble swatters. They seemed in friendless and distraught, in lone but abiding, that as I passed I often thought, "I'll take this bunch a-riding." So I invited them to scoot with me by mere and gie, so they could hear my horn toot and let their glad tears mingle. I did not know that when you take your friends a-gallivanting, athwart the spinney and the brake, by vistas most enchanting, you are responsible for all that happens on the journey; but now I lean against the wall and rest with their attorney. My car collided with a tree, the passengers were injured; oh, lack-a-day and woe is me, their lawyer's light gingered. We should read laws by night and day, our sole attention giving, e'en though this practice took away our chance to earn a living.

DAWES'S FIRST FEE

And Young Lawyer's Opponent Was William J. Bryan

Forty years ago a legal battle over $1.27 brought Charles G. Dawes, now Vice-President of the United States, and the late William Jennings Bryan face to face in roles that they reversed in later life. Bryan defended what he later called a "trust monopoly" and Dawes, now an opponent of big business, defended the people. The action was brought in the court of a justice of the peace against the Missouri Pacific Railroad, charged on a shipment of beer on the ground that the freight was 11 cents a hundredweight too high; and it was fought through to the Supreme Court of the United States. Young Dawes, the future into the settlement with an ambition to make his mark, threw in his fortunes with the large element of political discontent that developed against monopoly, had the first jury verdict he got a fee of $1 and tasted for the first time public attention and acclaim.—[Adapted from in Scribner's Magazine.

Boxing is more dangerous than dueling, said Prof. Bier, a Berlin surgeon, when a student was killed recently to five months' imprisonment for killing his opponent in a students' duel.

STAR OF "MIRACLE" DUE HERE TODAY

Lady Diana Manners

Lady Diana Manners, British peeress and actress, will arrive in Los Angeles this morning to take up her role of the Madonna in "The Miracle."

She is accompanied by Miss Iris Tree, daughter of the late Sir Herbert Beerbohm-Tree, who alternates with Hilmore Patterson in the role of the nun. Lady Diana and Miss Tree come here after a week's rest at Del Monte, where they have been resting after the San Francisco engagement.

With the arrival of Lady Diana intensive rehearsals will start at once with all principals in attendance. The rest of the cast reached the city last week and is rehearsing nightly under the direction of Langdon West. The choir, which has been augmented by 150 local singers, is also holding daily music practice under the guidance of Einar Nilson.

Trial Reveals His Interest in Rat's Doorway

When raiding officers found Tom Woods in an attitude of supplication before a rat-hole in the baseboard of his hotel room at 458½ South Main street on the night of December 13, last, they immediately "smelled a rat."

According to their testimony before a jury in Municipal Judge Stafford's liquor court, it wasn't a rat or a mouse that held Woods's interest, Officer Gibson testified, but it was fifty pints of whisky hidden in a secret panel which was opened by means of the rat-hole.

Woods's apparent interest in rodents was revealed during the course of his trial before Judge Stafford on charges of possession of the whisky found by the officers. So was the working of the rat-hole then revealed.

They said that by means of this guileless-appearing opening admittance to the liquor cache was effected.

Woods based his defense wholly upon the argument that he had the liquor for his own use.

Judge Stafford's instructions to the jury declared that lawful possession as defined by the Volstead Act places liquor purchased prior to prohibition alone in that category.

A verdict of guilty was returned by the jury and Judge Stafford imposed a fine of $500 with an alternative fifty days in jail. Woods elected to take the latter.

Sea Tragedy's Stage Set by Nature's Hand

At midnight of a stormy night some three weeks ago, while waves lashed the deck of the Anglo-Saxon Petroleum Company's tanker Corbus and the wind twanged her funnel stays like fingers plucking at a giant harp, Pai Fai Ching fired a shot into the back of Pai Ah Gee, gathered up his body and heaved it overboard, mopped up the blood and then calmly brewed himself a cup of tea.

This was the charge made yesterday by Capt. Henry Barnsfather, master of the Corbus, when his vessel arrived at this port, and he handed Pai Fai Ching, an undersized cabin boy, over to the immigration authorities as a murder suspect. The boy will be held here till some British vessel leaves for Shanghai. He then will be returned to that port for trial.

According to the ship's officers, Pai Ah Gee, also a cabin boy, but older and larger than Pai Fai Ching, bullied the slighter lad unmercifully from the time the ship left port. One night the engine-room force heard a sharp crack above the roar of a gale, but investigation showed no cause for it. The next day Pai Ah Gee was missing, and an officer found that his revolver had been taken from his quarters. A statement from another Chinese member of the crew is said to have implicated Pai Fai Ching, and though he protested his innocence, he was put under arrest.

FRANKLIN BUST TO BE PRESENTED TO LIBRARY

A bust of Benjamin Franklin will be presented to the Los Angeles Public Library by the master printers of Los Angeles at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the lecture room of the Central Library. The occasion will pay tribute to Franklin's influence on the development of fine printing and fine books, a division of which is contemplated for the library.

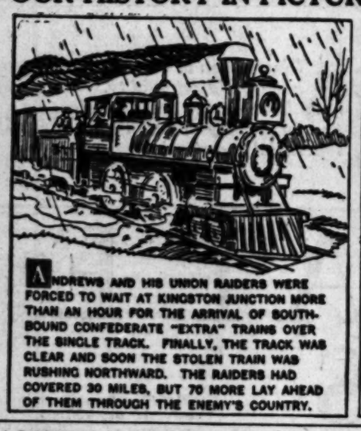
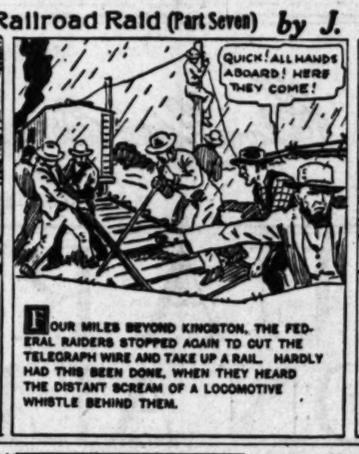
The program has been arranged by L. E. Behymer, president of the club. It will include Frank Yacconali, operatic accordionist, and Manuel Emanuele, tenor. Among the officers who will be installed at the meeting are Mr. Behymer, Bert Langley, treasurer; Paul F. Lupo, honorary president.

OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES 621 The Georgia Railroad Raid (Part Seven) by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



ANDREWS AND HIS UNION RAIDERS WERE FORCED TO WAIT AT KINGSTON JUNCTION MORE THAN AN HOUR FOR THE ARRIVAL OF SOUTHBOUND CONFEDERATE "EXTRA" TRAINS OVER THE SINGLE TRACK. FINALLY, THE TRACK WAS CLEAR AND SOON THE STOLEN TRAIN WAS RUSHING NORTHWARD. THE RAIDERS HAD COVERED 30 MILES, BUT 70 MORE LAY AHEAD OF THEM THROUGH THE ENEMY'S COUNTRY.

ARRIVING AT KINGSTON, FULLER FOUND HIS PREY HAD JUST LEFT. THE JUNCTION WAS STILL BLOCKED WITH TRAINS AND THERE WAS NO TIME TO SHIFT THEM. HURRYING TO THE HEAD OF THE TIE-UP, FULLER SAW A TRAIN STANDING ON THE BRANCH LINE THAT LED TO ROME. UNCOUPLING THE ENGINE AND ONE CAR THE PURSUERS, NOW FORTY STRONG, SWUNG ABOARD. THE STOLEN TRAIN WAS NOT MANY MINUTES AHEAD.



FOUR MILES BEYOND KINGSTON, THE FEDERAL RAIDERS STOPPED AGAIN TO CUT THE TELEGRAPH WIRE AND TAKE UP A RAIL. HARDLY HAD THIS BEEN DONE, WHEN THEY HEARD THE DISTANT SCREAM OF A LOCOMOTIVE WHISTLE BEHIND THEM.

WHEN FULLER REACHED THE BREAK IN THE TRACKS, HE WAS FORCED TO ABANDON HIS ENGINE AND TAKE UP THE CHASE ON FOOT. NEAR ADAIRSVILLE HE MET A SOUTHBOUND TRAIN. THIS HE COMMANDEERED AND, DROPPING THE CARS, DROVE NORTHWARD AT THE GREATEST POSSIBLE SPEED.

CONTINUED TOMORROW.

EASTERN RADIO LINK-UP SHOWN

Musical Treats Outlined for Local Fans

May Robson and Mother Trevor Visitors at KHJ

Sunday Program Opened With Sermon

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

Part of the service of this column during the next few weeks will be to point out to listeners-in the various musical treats of eastern stations many of which can be heard in Los Angeles and Southern California. There are also other long-distance treats in store for radio fans. Many film stars will broadcast from New York soon and, although this has no thrill for Californians, yet distance lends enchantment. Will Rogers will talk from the East this week and we'd like to know what he is going to say about the West.

This is essentially the opera season and many bits of grand and light opera will be broadcast. The complete red and blue network, often known as the WEAF and WJZ chain, contains more than twenty-two stations. But most of its offerings are from about ten on the red and four on the blue network.

This column will pick out choice bits from the musical menu of the East from time to time and will note the stations from which the Pacific Coast can best tune in the program.

HIGH LIGHTS

Some of the high lights from New York for the week include a program featuring Lucrezia Bori, who recently appeared here; excerpts from "Aida" and "Rigoletto," and a light opera, "Love's Vow." President Coolidge will speak from Washington and the famous Marine Band will play patriotic airs and the Boston Symphony will put its program on the air from the New England metropolis.

The next two months will be essentially the best time of the year for long-distance reception. Broadcast studios everywhere are exerting themselves to the utmost to provide the finest of entertainment. And many of the receiving sets now on the market experience little difficulty in cutting through the mass of local air program to reach the Middle West and East.

Because of KHJ's silent Monday many loca. fans tonight will tune in for long distance. At 5 o'clock some of the red network stations will broadcast from the WEAF studio a program of "Hill Billy" country folk songs of North Carolina and West Virginia. These are typical American folk tunes. The third number will be a medley of "Hill Billy" dances. WCCO on 416 meters is the best bet for local radio sets to pick up the broadcast. An hour later part of the red network will send out some old Hungarian gypsy songs and dances, and WDAP at 366 meters is the nearest to Los Angeles. Beginning at 7 o'clock, eighteen red network stations will put on the air the Von Weber "Der Freieschutz" grand opera in tabloid form. Try WTAM on 389 meters for this.

MAY ROBSON VISITOR

Among the visitors of the past week to the studio was May Robson, distinguished actress, and Mother Trevor of KHJ, both of whose photos appear in the radio column of today.

The Sunday broadcast at KHJ open with the studio sermon at 10 o'clock which was delivered by Rev. Stanley H. Bailes, pastor of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church. his was followed by the sermon and musical program from the First Methodist Episcopal Church until 12 o'clock and again from 7 to 8 in the evening.

Beginning at 8 o'clock the reading of world-wide news and the weather report occupied fifteen minutes and was followed by the Sunday evening half-hour of cheerful philosophy by Burr McIntosh. The KHJ instrumental trio provided much of the evening entertainment and Frederick MacMurrray, with his violin and viola, offered three groups of numbers. Albert Lee, baritone, sang vocal solos between the instrumental selections and the Orpheus Four Male Quartet closed the evening broadcast with their half-hour of secred numbers followed by the same period of time devoted to selections in response to written requests.

NEW BOOK OUT

"Multiplex Telegraphy and Telephony," has just come from the press of the government printing office in Washington, D. C., and copies of the thirty-nine-page pamphlet can be obtained through the Department of Commerce—Senate Document 173, Sixty-ninth Congress, second session.

Tomorrow night from KHJ Collector of Internal Revenue Welch will give a talk of interest regarding income-tax returns.

The KH. instrumental trio, so often heard on Sunday night programs, will furnish part of the entertainment features tomorrow noon at the weekly meeting of the Advertising Club of Los Angeles in the Biltmore Ballroom. The trio is composed of Neva Chilberg, violin; Lela Davies, 'cello, and Helen Davis, piano.

The KFI tenor, Paul Roberts, has never answered a telephone call to that station and his speaking voice is unknown to Radioland.

THREE-STATE RALLY

Former residents of Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico will have a rally tomorrow evening at the Veterans' Hall, 246 South Hill street. The program will be in charge of M. C. Spicer, president of the New Mexico society.

WEST HAS INNINGS IN MAYNARD OPUS

Ride 'im cowboy!

And just how that versatile young actor, Ken Maynard, rides may be seen this week at the Broadway Palace, where a real western thriller, "The Unknown Cavalier," is now showing.

"The Unknown Cavalier" is exactly the type of a picture that one thinks of in connection with the word "western" only there are a few extra thrills and surprises thrown in.

Of course, there is a girl, who falls in love with the handsome stranger cowboy from "somewhere in Texas." And what would a western be without its combination "cattle rustler, bad man and seemingly respected citizen," who employs all of his dirty work to "git the gal."

Nevertheless, the film held the interest of the audience.

The younger members of the audience seemed to be especially impressed by the play.

Ken Maynard, in the title role of the "Unknown Cavalier," gave an interesting and convincing performance. The young actor, who was previously the chief stunt rider for Ringling Brothers Circus, exhibited some of his talents in the Palace film.

James Mason, in his role of the villain, known by the diverting name of the "Gila Monster," also gave an excellent performance. The fist battle between Mason and the hero was one of the production's highlights.

T. Roy Barnes, as the man with a very noticeable superiority complex, and Otis Harlan as the only "legal jedge i these 'ere parts," were the occasion of much of the film's humor.

Kathleen Collins, as the heroine, was appealing in the role, while David Torrence as the father gave his usual commendable performance.

Others adding to the effectiveness of the film were Josef Swickard, Pat Harmon, Frank Lackteen, Raymond Wells, Bruce Gordon, Fred Burns and Jimsey Boudwin.

Another member of the cast that contributed much with his almost human understanding was Tarzan, the wonder horse.

INFANTRY THERE TONIGHT

The Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth Infantry of the United States Army will march to the Hollywood Music Box tonight to be the guests of General Manager William Holman, Joseph Montrose and Maj. Lew Stone. The parade will be headed by their own military band, which will serenade the patrons of the Music Box Revue, which begins its final week tonight, ending with a gala performance Sunday night.

GRADUATION WEEK BEGINS

Major Senior High Schools Will Give Diplomas to 1714 Students in Winter Classes

Commencement week for midwinter graduates will begin today, although the major senior high schools will not conduct graduation exercises until the latter part of the week. A total of 1714 students will receive diplomas, which is an increase of 362 over last year.

Six new senior high schools have been added to the list in the past year, but their contribution of graduates is small, owing to the fact that they received but few juniors and seniors from the other schools.

MANUAL ARTS GRADUATES

Manual Arts High School, with a list of 374 graduates, will present its program Thursday night. F. R. Feltshans, member of the Board of Education, will confer diplomas upon:

CLUB BUYS AVIATION SITE

Hollywood Aero Organization to Purchase 100 Acres in San Fernando Valley to Erect Headquarters

Negotiations have been completed for the purchase of approximately 100 acres of land in the San Fernando Valley as an airdrome for the Hollywood Aero Club, according to announcement yesterday by Roger Adams, president of the flyers' organization.

Details of the transaction are being completed by an official of the club in San Francisco and announcement of the exact location of the site and plans for its immediate development into an aviation center will be made at a general meeting of club members at the Hollywood Plaza Hotel next Thursday evening, Mr. Adams said.

He added, however, that the club hopes to control at an early date some 1500 acres of land in the valley, so that it will be available as the club needs it. Plans will be discussed Thursday night for the erection of hangars, purchase of airplanes, establishment of a ground and air-training school, and details for instruction on craft lighter than air.

Officials of the club yesterday were in receipt of a letter from Admiral William A. Moffett in Washington, endorsing the proposal for the International Aviation Peace Jubilee, planned for from July 2 to 9, next. Headquarters for the jubilee have been established at the Hollywood Plaza Hotel, and Mr. Adams says inquiries are being received by the score, from persons and organizations interested in aviation.

The Hollywood club is planning a celebration for February 22—Washington's birthday—details of which will be discussed at Thursday evening's meeting.

MARK SET ON PUBLIC WORKS

City's Total for 1926 Greatest in Cost and Size; Storm Drains Lead Expenditures

Construction of 234 miles of permanent pavement and 455 miles of sanitary sewers and storm drains forms the highlight of a report from the City Inspection Department to City Engineer Shaw. With other public improvements, the total work accepted during 1926 cost $22,814,470, breaking all previous records by several millions of dollars.

Despite this huge total, the volume of public work during 1927 is expected to reach a valuation of $30,000,000. There are now on hand for immediate construction 402 jobs, totaling a cost of $18,527,086. This will be increased as plans are completed for other improvements.

Public Works Inspector Rook's report to the City Engineer showed an increase in 1926 over 1925 of $4,780,534 in the value of public improvements completed and accepted. The 1925 total value was $17,530,279.

During 1926 the total of 234 miles of permanent pavement completed exceeded the 1925 total by seventy-nine miles and exceeded the 1925 valuation by $2,794,719.

SEWERS CHIEF ITEM

Storm and sanitary drains constitute the largest item, the total value accepted during 1926 amounting to $9,131,896. These include sections of the Sacatela, Jefferson and Hollenbeck Heights storm drains.

The bulk of the paving laid during the past year is for local streets, where property owners petitioned for improvements. This street work was behind for some time, but City Engineer Shaw announced that the progress curve is steadily climbing upward.

BOULEVARDS WIDENED

Several large paving jobs, involving streets included in the Major Traffic Street Plan of the Traffic Commission, were also completed. Chief among these were the widening and paving of Pico Boulevard from Crenshaw Boulevard to Exposition Boulevard and the opening and paving of Beverly Boulevard from Beverly Hills to the ocean.

The total value of permanent paving for the year is $8,814,476.

Curbs, sidewalks and gutters accepted during the past year cost $2,135,741, and forty-two miles of grade and oiled streets cost $349,716. In addition to these improvements, the City Engineering Department accepted general engineering jobs costing $1,887,288. These include school tunnels, bridges and miscellaneous structures.

IS STRONG DRAMA

"For Happiness" at Potboilers Builds to Terrific Crisis

The tense, three-act psychological drama "For Happiness" which the Potboilers presented on Friday and Saturday evenings of last week certainly belies its title. Growing from an impossible situation between two people, it builds rapidly to a terrific mental crisis and ends there.

"For Happiness" is a Russian drama by Stanislav Pshibehevsky, and is staged by Paul Spier who also gives the most dramatic performance of the play. It likewise serves to introduce a new regime to the Potboilers as Mr. Sigurd Russell has resigned as director of the organization and it will hereafter be in charge of Ole Ness.

The play itself deals with the situation occasioned by a man who discovers he is in love with another woman and casts aside the girl who loves him and who left her home for him. The thought of her haunts him and destroys his happiness with the other woman. The title comes into the play when the man says that he left her for happiness and has thus destroyed it for all time.

Paul Spier is excellent as the diabolically clever friend who constantly whispers suspicions in the ear of his companions. Like an avenging conscience he prowls about stirring up trouble. Mr. Spier is quite blood curdling at times in the realism of his interpretation.

As the deserted girl Valentina Zimina is very lovely. She is excellently cast and gives a vivid performance.

So much cannot be said for Milton Krims in the unsympathetic role of the faithless lover. During most of the play he seems decidedly uncertain of himself and only in the last act does he rise to any dramatic acting at all. Mary Radlova is only fairly commendable as Olga.

TRIBUTE TO CHARITY AIDES

A testimonial dinner to Marco and Panchan, vaudeville producers who aided in making a success of the recent ball for the benefit of the Hebrew Sheltering Home, will be given at Sinai Temple by the home board of directors tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. The entertainment will consist of vaudeville from various theaters.

New Scale for Wages Filed by City Engineer

City Engineer Shaw has filed with the City Council a new schedule of salaries for the technical employees of the engineering department, and it is the scale for these positions agreed upon by the special committee of heads of city and county departments one year ago. The City Engineer has often pointed out to the Council the difficulty of retaining trained engineers in the city's service under present salary conditions.

One change from present methods proposed by the City Engineer in his report was to fix a minimum and maximum salary for each position based on efficiency and not on length of service with the city.

The City Engineer's proposed salary scale affects 808 technical positions in the engineering department and if adopted will increase the city pay roll $14,132 a month. Most of this money is returned to the city through assessments on public improvements, which are designed by these employees and the charges for which are included in the assessments for the improvements.

HUTCHINSON AGAIN

"ONE INCREASING PURPOSE" AT THE FIGUEROA

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

That the Great War left in its wake a terrific set of social complications, particularly in Merrie Old England, will be more than sufficiently indicated for the satisfaction of everybody, I believe, in "One Increasing Purpose," which is on view this week at the Figueroa Theater.

This picture is an adaptation of an A. S. M. Hutchinson novel, which fact will probably be one of its chief recommendations. Many at least, remember this author very favorably for his romantic character study, "If Winter Comes," which both in book and screen form enjoyed a vogue.

Unfortunately "One Increasing Purpose" isn't an "If Winter Comes." I assume that the picture is a fairly loyal interpretation of the original. And it must be conceded that its story is rather original.

However—and the however is a big one this time—this doesn't necessarily mean entertainment.

"One Increasing Purpose" tells an involved narrative about the return home of a British army officer, and his discovery of generally unhappy conditions among the people whom he had left. He has been through every battle on the western front, and all of his companions have been killed, wounded or captured. He alone has been spared, and he wonders why seemingly destiny has left him unharmed.

The development of the plot centers around the settling of this question. How it comes about that he finds his place in the scheme of things is something too involved, though, to have an explanation here. There are dramatic events surrounding the lives of two of his brothers and their wives, and there is a love story in which he is himself a principal. This romance is rendered arduous by the fact that the girl to whom he is devoted, persists in placing duty above her affection for him. Her father had lost some money in investments, and she felt called upon to pay it back. Further it was the hero's brother who helped to bring about the financial disaster.

It is all too thick to be really interesting, although there may be some people who can find a certain inspiration in the spiritual message of the film—whatever that may be. The fact that it is different as regards its plot may help a little.

Several people who have not been seen in quite a while are in the cast, notably Lila Lee, in a sympathetic impression of the girl, and Jane Novak. Edmund Lowe plays the army officer, and sustains interest in the portrayal. Holmes Herbert is one of the brothers, and Huntly Gordon another. May Allison, appearing quite attractive, is the wife of the rich and selfish brother. Holmes Herbert, Emily Fitzroy, Josef Swickard in an effective paralytic portrayal, Nicolas Soussanin, who has a fine personality, Lawford Davidson, George Irving and Frank Elliott are among the others. None of the characters possesses much humanness or appeal, but there is no fault to find on this account with the majority of the players, or with the direction of Harry Beaumont.

The character names are funny. There are four people having the surname of Parts in the picture. There is one called Sir Torrid Lesson. Imagine it! Miss Andiron, Mr. Glade, Swiss Jule (not a watchmaker, either,) Mrs. Yeoman, Old Gand (why not old gander?), Lardy Quinnet are some of the others. It is hard to take a picture seriously with such a set of names as this.

The English scenery, of which there is much, for exteriors were made there, is refreshing. I think it is the most satisfying thing in the picture.

Salvatore Santella's concert program and an Earle Foxe comedy, with the hero doing stunts on a high building afford pleasure.

AWE-INSPIRING PAGEANTRY

Picturization of International Eucharistic Congress Transcends All Creed as Spectacle

Crowds, seething masses of people that perhaps beggar in size anything the screen has ever shown form a dominant impression that one carries away from the picture of the Twenty-eighth International Eucharistic Congress, which opened yesterday afternoon at the California Theater.

This picture version of the great congress of the Catholic church, which gathered from the four corners of the earth in Chicago last summer, transcends creed in becoming an awe-inspiring spectacle of international religion.

While there is no story to present in the film other than the chronological sequence of events at this gathering, the congress had moments of dramatic vividness.

The pictured events include the leave-taking of the Papal legate from Rome, arrival of the delegates in New York, and the meetings in the great Soldiers' Field in Chicago.

There is one scene of particular beauty, thousands of children dressed in white seated in the middle of the vast field, who sing the mass in honor of the visiting delegates.

Pageantry and ceremony of the various rituals are presented with a pleasing intimate touch.

This illumination of the International Eucharistic Congress is said to represent one of the first great efforts to bring to the screen an epoch of history as it is being lived today. Filming such a huge gathering must undoubtedly have proved a colossal task, yet it has been accomplished with surprising fidelity in even the more minute details.

Of the twenty-eight International Eucharistic congresses in history this was the first to be held in the New World.

The picturization of this event is presented by George Cardinal Mundelein, bishop of Chicago, and sponsored here by Bishop J. J. Cantwell of the Los Angeles and San Diego diocese.

It is interesting to note that twenty-seven different nations sent delegates and thirty-one languages and dialects were spoken during the sessions of the congress.

MAHONEY A WINNER

Comedian Tops Orpheum on Lean Program

BY HERBERT MOULTON

A blizzard back east may have caused it, or it may have been deliberately arranged, but it will be evident to anyone who frequents the Orpheum even at irregular intervals that the new bill, which opened yesterday, looks like the result of a successful diet.

There are eight numbers on the program, but in at least four of them the same persons appear, which leads one to believe that several acts didn't show up. It's one of those informal affairs, with the man who told the funny story in the fourth act just as likely as not breaking in on the Spanish dance number to spring another one.

Meager at is is, it cannot be said that the bill is without merit.

Will Mahoney, for example, stirred up a lot of audible enthusiasm with his songs and dances, particularly the latter. And Herman Timberg, who remains for another week, was very much in evidence with a line of stuff that is vastly amusing.

Mahoney stands out from the rest, not only because of his clever footwork, but for the reason that he keeps aloof from the rest of the acts.

Timberg is perhaps just as talented in this respect, but his talents would be more greatly appreciated if he was not so frequently in the limelight.

Rosita, a bit of dancing sunshine from Spain, shouldn't be overlooked. She is graceful and appealing and charming—even though she drifts through a couple of acts outside of her own.

Harry Delf's domestic comedy, "The Family Upstairs," has been compressed into a one-act play called "Any Family." It is an interesting example of just how much padding the usual play has, for this skit puts over the idea perfectly in one-tenth the time required for the original.

Commendable performances are given by Helen Beresford, Harry Hammill, Dorothy Cox, William Janney and James Payne.

Herman's brother, Sammy Timberg, stages a satire on Jazz which is somewhat diverting, although not very melodic.

"Paying Off the Second Mortgage" is the title of a singing act by James Burke and Eleanor Durkin. Fair.

The first number is called "Innovations," with artists from several of the acts appearing.

The final offering is "Something for Nothing" which also steals from the other acts.

A little more juggling around and the Orpheum this week would be a full-fledged musical comedy.

CLAN WILL GATHER TO HONOR BIG CHIEF

There will be a gathering of the clan of First National players at Loew's State tonight, when special tribute will be paid to Richard A. Rowland, general manager of the studio.

Among those who have agreed to appear, it is said, are Richard Barthelmess, Harry Langdon, Milton Sills, Johnny Hines, Billy Dove, Anna Q. Nilsson, Mary Astor, Lloyd Hughes, Jack Mulhall, Ben Lyon, Arthur Stone and Natalie Kingston.

"Ladies at Play," the feature attraction at Loew's this week, is a First National picture.

THIS WORLD NEEDS MORE APPLESAUCE

True or Not, Gay Comedy at Egan Theater Advocates More of It in Life

BY KATHERINE LIPKE

What the world needs is more applesauce—according to the humorous lines of the play "Applesauce," which opened last evening at the Egan Theater. Whether this is true or not, it apparently satisfied the opening audience for laughter and applause stopped the play at numerous intervals.

An able successor to "White Collars!" The Barry Conners comedy is filled with human humorous characters and clever funny lines.

Neely Edwards is a decided hit in the role of the lad who peddles applesauce and gets enriched thereby. His comedy situations are well handled and he holds the sympathy and interest of the audience throughout. He looks at all times the eager, well-meaning, cheerful fellow and all are satisfied when his brand of "apple sauce" sells well.

As the girl he loves, Rea Martin, is very appealing and attractive. She is well cast, and no one wonders why two men fight for the possession of her. Ross Forrester forms an excellent contrast to Neely Edwards in the character of the other man.

Zellah Covington, the well-loved father of "White Collars" plays another harassed, loving but decidedly grouchy father in "Applesauce." A splendid characterization which brings on much of the laughter. Blanche Douglas plays his wife more than adequately. Their quarrel scenes together are almost too life-like to be comfortable.

Beulah Monroe appears in a small part and Hugh Metcalfe plays a growling uncle of the applesauce boy.

"Applesauce" was presented first in Los Angeles some time ago at the Morosco Theater.

FIRST WEEK OF SAN CARLO CLOSES

"Faust" and "Il Trovatore" Given Pleasing Presentations Saturday

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The first week of the San Carlo season closed Saturday with a matinee of "Faust" and an evening performance of "Il Trovatore."

The familiar music of Gounod's "Faust" was well sung and played by the principals, Saroya as "Marguerite," Onofrei as "Faust," Mongelli as "Mephistopheles," Interrante as "Valentine," Schalker as "Siebel," de Cesare as "Wagner" and Paleo as "Martha."

The fundamental beauty of this gruesome opera lay in the orchestral score to which Carlo Peroni, the conductor, did full justice. Mongelli as the baleful Prince of Darkness was the star of the performance, his diabolical stage business" and masterly style in the famous aria of satiric laughter stirring the audience to enthusiastic applause.

The artfulness of Saroya was not as well displayed in her "Marguerite" as in her colorful version of "Nedda" in "Pagliacci" of the night before.

The long-admired "Il Trovatore" drew a good-sized audience which received the "Anvil Chorus," "Home to My Mountains" and all the rest with every evidence of approval. Stella de Mette, singing "Azucena," was the bright particular star of the evening. Tommasini sang the part of "Manrico" and succeeded in making it interesting. Clara Jacobo sang the part of "Leonora" in excellent style, far surpassing her "Aida" of a few nights ago.

Tonight the opera is Puccini's "La Boheme," with Saroya in the part of "Mimi" and Tafuro singing "Rodolfo."

Argentine farmers are looking forward to luxury with the promised wheat crop of 8,000,000 bushels this season.

George Young Will Display Nautical Power

In a specially constructed glass swimming tank on the stage at the Metropolitan Theater, George Young, hero of the Catalina Channel swim, will make the first of a series of personal appearances at that theater today, demonstrating the stroke which enabled him to win the $25,000 check in Mr. Wrigley's recent aquatic event.

Frank L. Newman, managing director of the Los Angeles Publix Theaters, signed the 17-year-old swimmer the latter part of last week, the contract calling for appearances at each show for the entire week.

DEDICATE HOLLYWOOD PLAYHOUSE

New Theater Will Open With Presentation of "Alias the Deacon"

With a premier performance attended by society folk, stars of the stage and screen, and a number of city officials, the Hollywood Playhouse opens tonight. E. W. Rowland, general manager, has arranged a brief dedicatory program.

Emmett Corrigan will be master of ceremonies. Mayor Cryer, who will occupy a box with I. W. Birnbaum, Police Commissioner, will speak on the development of dramatic interests in California.

Edward Davis, president of the 233 Club, will make the dedicatory address. Lionel Belmore will introduce the celebrities.

FAIR SEX RULES THE BILL

With everyone seemingly set for an enjoyable afternoon, and with such headliners as Sylvia Clark and Jerry and her Baby Granda, the bill at the Hillstreet yesterday afternoon was a success from start to finish, with members of the fairer sex scoring during the entire offering.

The most pretentious offering on the bill was presented by Jerry, and her Baby Granda. The act consisted of a piano quartet, made up of four clever and versatile young ladies. Vocal numbers, dances and novelties made up the greatest part of the offering.

Sharing headline honors with Jerry, was Sylvia Clark in her sketch, "Kavortings Uneek."

Miss Clark's act was composed of songs and dialogues that served to keep the audience constantly amused, as she raced wildly from one side of the stage to the other.

The Hamilton Sisters and Fordyce in "Playtime" pleased with their musical offerings, as well as their wise-cracking. The act was reminiscent of the Duncan Sisters, as it contained both a Topsy and an Eva. The difference lay in the fact that a clever little Irish girl was also added to complete a trio that did some interesting vocal work.

And now to come to the men on the program!

First there were "The Kitaros," two remarkably clever Japanese that accomplish some difficult balancing feats, as well as some breath-taking stunts with the aid of a barrel and a few tea tables.

The other masculine representative on the program was Jack Merlin, billed as "The Ace of Diamonds." Mr Merlin gave some interesting lessons in the art of removing inconvenient spots from cards.

The film offered on the bill was "For Wives Only," starring Marie Prevost and Victor Varconi. Miss Prevost played the part of a wife with a husband to reform, and she went about the task in an unusual but effective manner.

Meet Your Neighbor

By VALERIE WATROUS

THE LONG APPRENTICESHIP

Dorothy Yost grew up in this town. Not far up; something less than five feet two. Along in 1910 when I was dangling on a rope ladder over a ship's side three miles off the coast of Alaska, Dorothy was struggling with past participles in grammar school.

This small person with the gentle eyes and invincible nose ought to have been quite uppish over her new F.B.O. contract when I met her the other day. But she wasn't; we took to each other like a couple of ducks to a pond. I forgot all about her goodly list of achievements.

As she led the way into the great hotel dining-room, I thought of the Leviathan in the wake of a small, but efficient, tug. A good comparison, now that I think of it. She has power, that girl; lots of it. It will drive her on to far ports.

Aside from scenarios, Miss Yost has been working on two books dealing with the religions of the world. In fact, she has been making an intensive study of ancient and modern Scriptural writings. I was so fascinated by her analysis that I said "Thank you" to the waiter. You should have seen his knees buckle!

There are certain errors common to all religions; then she proves it. And if the waiter will only stop bothering you awhile, you will realize that the proof she offers is conclusive. Cafeterias are not without their advantages

This absorbing study of religions has been continued while this demure young person was zipping out scenarios at a speed that leaves you a little breathless. She had nine years' apprenticeship, and insists that it's no trick at all. The continuity of "Mother," suggested by Kathleen Norris's book of that name, but which Miss Yost never read, was completed in ten days.

Her method is simple, she says. "I just tell my characters that each has a life to live and certain experiences to survive, and they'd better not waste any time about it."

That's how you do it. Let's snap out a few scenarios ourselves. Maybe F.B.O. will put us under a big, fat contract as they did Dorothy a little while ago

When this small person was wrestling with plane geometry in old Polytechnic, she stopped a while to become the assistant to a managing editor. That said m.e. was her daddy is a detail; she comes from a newspaper family and there's a taint of printers' ink in her blood.

At 17 she was under the wing of Julian Johnson. She's almost 26 now. Revitalizing sick stories for old Triangle was her job. Some were incurable, she admits; others were galvanized sufficiently to stagger across the screen and into oblivion. Then came free-lancing when she did "Mother," "Wings of the Storm," "Kentucky Pride" and others. And now her new contract with its great opportunity.

Back of all this is her vivid interest in the motives that animate men and women. She wants to know all about the gods they worship, and declares that most of us are "bargaining with God."

And while she talks, she punctuates the tale with a smile that gives you a glimpse of beautiful white teeth. A soft-eyed debutante at a party? Yes; while you watch her finely expressive face.

Glance at her hands. Small, strong, efficient; no debutante would choose that ring, yet its strange greenish hue and quaint setting will linger long after platinum and brilliants would have faded from memory

HEARING FOR SUSPECT IN BURGLARIES

Asserted Member of Bandit Gang Will Appear Before Court Today

Edward W. Xanders, recently apprehended in Salt Lake City as an asserted member of the "straight-eight" bandit gang which perpetrated a number of robberies in the exclusive residential district along Foothill Boulevard and who robbed Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey, of an automobile, will appear today for preliminary examination before Municipal Judge Ballard.

Xanders, who is also known as Bert Best, is held in the County Jail on his failure to make bail in the sum of $7500 set by Judge Ballard at his arraignment Saturday. He faces preliminary hearing today on three counts of grand larceny and burglary.

According to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Heinecke Xanders is jointly charged with Ray E. Vincent, who first used the name of R. G. McCoy, with the burglary of the homes of John Lindley and Fred C. Devendorf on Foothill Boulevard in the latter part of December. A considerable amount of valuable clothing and some money were obtained, Mr. Heinecke charges.

Kearns was held up and robbed on the night of December 29, last, according to Mr. Heinecke.

McCoy, or Vincent, last week was held to answer by Judge Ballard on two separate complaints and six counts charging robbery, burglary and grand larceny. Bail was set by Judge Ballard in the sum of $10,000, which Vincent was unable to make.

Bessie Erwin and Emily Luther, said by officers to be the wives of the two men, also were held to the Superior Court by Judge Ballard on charges of receiving stolen property. Bail for the girls, who are said to have had in their possession much of the property obtained in the Lindley and Devendorf robberies, was set by Judge Ballard at $1000 each.

IDLE-FUND INCOME OF CITY LARGE

Interest Earnings on Cash Surplus Will be More Than $1,300,000 for Year

The income the city of Los Angeles will receive this year in interest on idle city funds loaned to banks will be between $1,300,000 and $1,500,000, City Treasurer Powell has announced, and he said that this sum is almost as great as the interest earnings on State of California surplus funds.

Due to the recent sale of $15,700,000 Los Angeles municipal bonds, the city is now receiving $1400 a day in interest on its idle funds. These loans are called as rapidly as the departments require bond funds for construction work. The interest received is in most cases 3 per cent and in some instances 3½ per cent.

On December 31 the city had on hand $82,000,000, but only a fractional part of this is kept on hand in the City Treasury at the City Hall, the rest being kept at work by the City Treasurer earning interest which is given to the city's general fund and used for general governmental purposes, such as for the salaries of policemen and firemen and other employees and for the purchase of equipment.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

With the winter season well under way on the Riviera, every day is a festival with something doing for every one, racing, polo, tennis, boating, opera, balls, dinners and teas. Racing has been going on at Var, at the end of Nice's four and a half miles of seaside promenade, and the Promenade des Anglais after luncheon looks as though Nice had opened a new motor show, so luxurious and varied are the cars on their way to the racecourse. Of course Berry Wall of New York and A. Kingsley Macomber of California are there. Polo is being played at Cannes and Americans, especially M. C. Adams, who saw service in the French Foreign Legion during the war, are prominent on the teams. Boat racing and tennis also are under way at Cannes.

United States Ambassador Herrick of Ohio has been spending the early part of the year on the Riviera as the guest of R. Livingston Beekman, former Governor of Rhode Island, at his beautiful villa Beau Desert at California near Cannes.

Lloyd George and his party, after a stay of several days in Valescure, have returned to London.

The American fleet in European waters has heaved anchor and sailed from Villefranche-sur-Mer, under command of Admiral Burrage of Vermont, for a tour of the Mediterranean, much to the regret of Gold Coast hostesses who depend on the navy to supply the uniforms at their receptions. They promised to return by Easter, however.

Miss Janet Scudder, originally of Terre Haute, Ind., the well-known sculptress who has been doing much work for Florida churches and cathedrals, has arrived at St. Paul, where other American artists include Florence Lucius and Billy Grim.

Virgil Neal, formerly of Memphis, Tenn., and Senator Watson of Indiana are stopping at the Hotel Negresco in Nice, where they entertained large parties last week.

Noticed during a stroll along the Promenade des Anglais were Bill, chief of the Pickford clan, followed, as Arthur Moss puts it, at about twice a small's pace by the chauffeur with the family road-eater; the Hoyts, of which couple the distaff member, Jean, is a sister of Talulah Bankhead, daughter of the former Governor of Alabama, and whose chief claim to fame on the Riviera is that every night at the Casino she "bancos" all three-louis pots; Mrs. Meyer Harsberg, formerly of Philadelphia, mother of the well-known Paris stage designer, Hiler; Jerome Blum, the painter; Gwendolyn Le Gallienne, the sculptress; Oliver Chaffee, the painter, who is stopping at Vence with Hutchins Hapgood.

Max Horowitz has been passing several days in Berlin as a guest of the Central Hotel.

Rev. and Mrs. Edward M. Bruce of Pasadena, have arrived in Florence, Italy, for a protracted visit.

Col. and Mrs. Spender-Clay, formerly of Los Angeles and Pasadena, are entertaining a house party for their two debutante daughters at Ford Manor, Lingley, Surrey, Eng., which many American officers will remember when, during the war, its owners turned it over as a convalescent home.

Frederick C. Webb, 56 years of age, of San Diego, Cal., died last week at the American Hospital in Neuilly, France, following several weeks' illness. Mr. Webb had been living in Paris for some time at 1 Rue Victor-Cousin. Mrs. Webb is in San Diego.

There were 250 persons present at the reception given by the American Club of Nice last week in honor of Vice-Admiral Burrage and the officers of the United States warships then in Villefranche harbor. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Rene of Los Angeles.

C. F. Ingerson and M. G. Dennison of Alma, Cal., are registered at the Hotel du Parc in Cannes on the French Riviera.

Ralph Mayer of Hollywood, has arrived at the Hotel Scribe in Paris from Amsterdam, Holland.

Mrs. C. R. Craig has arrived on the French Riviera for a winter's visit. She is stopping for the moment in Cannes.

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Armstrong of Pasadena, Cal., have left Paris for Basle, Switzerland.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry Strong Durand held open house in their studio apartment in the Rue Delambre, Paris, last week. Among those who called was Miss M. Barbara Henshall of Los Angeles, who is spending the winter in Paris.

C. G. Wiekin has been stopping at the Hotel Adlon in Berlin where other California guests include Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Briggs, also of Los Angeles, and Frederick Lyon has arrived at the Hotel Esplanade in Berlin, while Mr. and Mrs. William Frederic Kohler are at the Central.

Mrs. Herbert A. Jones is visiting in Lausanne, Switzerland, as a guest of the Beau-Rivage-Palace Hotel.

Mrs. Gertrude Johnson and Miss Gill Johnson of San Diego, who also have been traveling in Switzerland, were recent visitors to Zurich, stopping at the Hotel Victoria.

Mrs. Anna Bissell McCay of Pasadena, who, with her son, William S McCay, has taken an apartment in Paris for the winter, has left for London to pass the remainder of the fortnight. Mr. McCay has left for Italy to be gone for a week.

Mrs. Luther Davis and Miss Lydia Davis, who have had an apartment in Paris for the last year, are passing the early part of the winter season at the Riviera Palace Hotel in Monte Carlo.

H. G. Seis of Pasadena has arrived at the Hotel Adlon in Berlin. Robert E. Power of Los Angeles is stopping at the Hotel Bristol.

The marriage of Dr. Erich Kleiber, musical director of the National Opera of Berlin, to Miss Ruth Goodrich of Los Angeles took place in Berlin last week immediately upon the arrival of the bride from Buenos Aires on the liner Cap Polonia. She was chaperoned by the wife of the German Ambassador in the Argentine capital.

Delightful Affair

Mrs. John J. O'Brien of 206 South Normandie street, entertained with a charmingly appointed luncheon and auction party in one of the private dining-room of the Women's Athletic Club Tuesday. Tall, pastel-toned candles, matching the spring flowers in coloring decorated the luncheon table and the prizes, attractive French novelties, were also in the same spirit.

Mrs. O'Brien's guests were Mrs. John Murphy, Mrs. William Maitland Beamish, Mrs. Denver Ramsey, Mrs. William Chick, Mrs. A. L. Low, Mrs. John C. Skuse, Mrs. Joseph Timmons, Mrs. Phillip Sidney Low, Mrs. Claude Jamison, Mrs. James Farrahar, Miss Catherine Kirk, Mrs. Grover Mellus, Mrs. Erving Dise, Mrs. Paul D. Walch, Mrs. Melvin Ellis, Mrs. Otto Hansen, Mrs. Robert Hardy, Mrs. Romeyn Sammons, Mrs. H. J. Brown, Mrs. William Jones, Mrs. Merrit Salmon, Mrs. Leonard Covert, Mrs. Harry Witwer, Miss Dorothy Schagrin, Mrs. H. F. Barnawalt, Mrs. Myrtle Pollette and Mrs. Frances Browne who left the following day for an extended European trip.

Couldn't Keep Sober With So Much Going On

"It's the holidays and festivities that get me into trouble," said James E. Proffit when he appeared before Municipal Judge Turney on a charge of illegal possession of liquor.

According to the police officers, Proffit was found sound asleep in his automobile which had stopped on the edge of an embankment in Mt. Washington Drive. Officers investigated following a report that a dead man was in an automobile at the location named.

Proffit was not dead, according to Chief Trial Deputy City Prosecutor Thoms, but only dead drunk, and there were several dead soldiers about him in the form of empty bottles from which the spirits had fled.

Pleading guilty to the charge, Proffit explained in a statement to the court:

"I was in jail Thanksgiving for being drunk," he said, "and it was the same thing at Christmas and New Year's. I wouldn't be here now, but my brother got married and of course I was there as a guest. There was a lot of liquor and I drank my share. I started at 2 a.m. to drive the bride and groom home, but they left me when my car started to skid in the mud. Because I wouldn't desert my car, the officers found me there, and here I am."

Proffit then explained to the court that he would like to remain at liberty during his brother's honeymoon. He expressed the fear that it would sadden them if he should be placed

"Well, they are probably safer without you," Judge Turney remarked as he imposed a fine of $300 with an alternative of forty days in jail.

DIET and HEALTH

by Dr. J. Hunt Peters

In one of the official magazines of the United States Public Health Department (December 17, 1926.) is a report of the American Public Health Association regarding communicable disease. The descriptions of the diseases and the recommendations for methods of control are so presented that they will be interesting to you; so I am going to run a series of them, perhaps changing here and there a word which I know you will not understand, and inserting some slight explanations in parenthesis.

Today I will give you the definitions of some terms which will be used; cut the list out and save it for the series which will follow.

(1.) Carrier: A person who, without symptoms of a communicable disease, harbors and disseminates the specific micro-organisms (the cause of the disease.)

(2.) Cleaning: This term signifies the removal by scrubbing and washing, as with hot water, soap, and washing soda, of organic matter on which and in which bacteria may find favorable conditions for prolonging life and virulence; also the removal by the same means of bacteria adherent to surfaces.

(3.) Contact: A "contact" is any person or animal known to have been sufficiently near to an infected person or animal to have been presumably exposed to transfer of infectious material directly, or by articles freshly soiled with such material.

(4.) Delousing: By delousing is meant the process by which a person and his personal apparel are treated so that neither the adults nor the eggs of Pediculus corporis (body louse) or Pediculus capitis (head louse) survive.

(5.) Disinfection: By this is meant the destroying of the vitality of pathogenic (disease producing) micro-organisms by chemical or physical means.

(6.) Disinfesting: By disinfesting is meant any process, such as the use of dry or moist heat, gaseous agents, poisoned food, trapping, etc., by which insects and animals known to be capable of conveying or transmitting infection may be destroyed. (The term fumigation is also used when gaseous agents are employed.)

(7.) Education in personal cleanliness: This phrase is intended to include all the various means available to impress upon all members of the community, young and old, and especially when communicable disease is prevalent or during epidemics, by spoken and printed word, and by illustration and suggestion, the necessity of:

(a) Keeping the body clean by sufficiently frequent soap and water baths.

(b) Washing hands in soap and water after voiding bowels or bladder and always before eating.

(c.) Keeping hands and unclean articles, or articles which have been used for toilet purposes by others, away from mouth, nose, eyes, ears and genitalia.

(d.) Avoiding the use of common or unclean eating, drinking, or toilet articles of any kind, such as towels, handkerchiefs, hair brushes, drinking cups, pipes, etc.

(e.) Avoiding close exposure of persons to spray from the nose and mouth, as in coughing, sneezing, laughing or talking.

(8.) Isolation: By isolation is meant the separating of persons suffering from a communicable disease, or carriers of the infecting organism, from other persons, in such places and under such conditions as will prevent the direct or indirect conveyance of the infectious agent to susceptible persons.

(9.) Quarantine: By quarantine is meant the limitation of freedom or movement of persons or animals who have been exposed to communicable disease for a period of time equal to the longest usual incubation period of the disease to which they have been exposed.

(10.) Renovation: By renovation is meant, in addition to cleansing, such treatment of the walls, floors, and ceilings of rooms or houses as may be necessary to place the premises in a satisfactory sanitary condition.

(11.) Report of a disease: By report of a disease is meant the notification to the health authorities . . . that a case of communicable disease exists in a specified person or animal at a given address.

(12.) Susceptibles: A susceptible is a person or animal who is not known to have become immune to the particular communicable disease in question by natural or artificial process.

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which I offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and guiding is the only one for which you need send 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as you would if of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for us to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you write me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you put will be answered in the column as soon as possible. If there are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you intend to send me the information I have offered.

CHEF WYMAN'S Suggestions for TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST

Apple Sauce with Cream
Omelette with Chipped Beef
Corn Bread Honey
Milk Tea

LUNCHEON

Ham Patties
Onions Au Gratin
Cottage Fried Potatoes
Filled Cookies
Tea Milk

DINNER

Cream of Barley
Green Onions
Sauerkraut with Brisket of Beef
Baked Mashed Potatoes Oyster Plant
Celeraic Salad
Apple Snow Pudding
Tea Coffee

HAM PATTIES

One and one-half pounds of ham, pass through a grinder twice, moisten with one-half cupful milk, one cupful bread crumbs, one onion grated, one tablespoonful chopped parsley, one-eighth teaspoonful of white pepper, one egg well beaten; mix altogether, form into patties, fry brown in butter. When done serve with a cream sauce. Place on platter, surround with green peas and parsley.

SAUERKRAUT WITH BRISKET OF BEEF

One quart sauerkraut, three pounds brisket of beef, two tablespoonfuls flour, two tablespoonfuls vinegar, two tablespoonfuls brown sugar, one raw potato, grated, one onion, one teaspoonful caraway seed.

Place one-half of the kraut in a large saucepan, sprinkle with flour, add meat and a whole onion and cover with the rest of the kraut, and sprinkle over a little more flour and add the potato. Cover with boiling water and cook until tender, about two hours. Remove onion, sprinkle a little flour over gravy to thicken, add sugar and vinegar to make it sweet and sour.

CELERAIC SALAD

Two small heads celery root, two cups stalk celery, diced, one-half cupful vinegar, one-quarter cupful sugar, one-quarter teaspoonful pepper, one teaspoonful salt, one-quarter pound almonds, blanched and chopped, one-half cupful thick sour cream.

Scrub celery root well, and cook several hours until tender in salted water. Peel and slice, then measure and take an equal measure of stalk celery. Mix with the rest of the ingredients, adding the sour cream last. Place in salad bowl, and serve cold.

APPLE SNOW PUDDING

Fill a pudding dish half full of apple sauce, well seasoned with butter, sugar and nutmeg. Pour over it a batter made of one and a half cupfuls of flour mixed with four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and a tablespoonful of butter. Moisten it with about three-quarters of a cupful of milk, or enough to make a thick batter. It should not be as stiff as for biscuits. Cook in a steamer for about three-quarters of an hour, and serve at once with a hard foamy sabayon, or any other sauce. The top will be very light and white. This quantity is enough to serve six people.

CATHOLICS ENROLL FOR NEAR EAST AID

First steps toward the enrolling of approximately 300,000 members in the new Catholic Near East Welfare Association were taken in the Catholic churches of Los Angeles and vicinity yesterday. The occasion was marked by an explanation in each Catholic church of the aims of the association and by the distribution of membership blanks. The movement has the indorsement of eighty-five bishops and archbishops, it was announced. An enrollment of 1,000,000 permanent members in the United States is the goal of the organization.

Unemployed of Blythe, Scotland, to whom recently was donated, by the Blythe Town Council, a hut for their association, demanded a bathroom for the place, but they did not get it.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

Laundering Baby's Dresses

One Mother Says:

I have found that a little stiffness may be given to an infant's dress by using borax instead of starch. This helps to keep the dress clean and dainty longer than if nothing is used and still leaves the garment soft and baby-like.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

MEDICINE STAINS

Medicine stains can be removed from silver spoons if rubbed with a cloth dipped in sulphuric acid. Wash in warm soapsuds and scald in boiling water.

FRESHER CAKE

A layer cake will usually last a few days in the small family. After it has been cut, wrap a piece of fresh bread with the remainder of the cake and then put it away. The bread will dry out, but the cake will remain lovely and fresh.

NEVER FORGOTTEN

When putting away the freshly ironed clothes one thoughtful mother puts a clean handkerchief in the pocket of each of young sonny's suits and one in each of the pockets of daughter's small dresses. Then the latter definitely that a handkerchief accompanies the child to school and that it never is forgotten.

THE OLD PIANO STOOL

It seems everyone has an old piano stool these days, discarded in favor of the more attractive bench. One woman has an attractive cushion and valance of cretonne adorning hers and uses it for a dressing-table chair. It swings around at will, allowing her to see how she looks from the back as well as the front.

BIG TOE IS A TELL-TALE

The story of your life is revealed in an intelligent examination of your big toe, according to an English doctor named Interland. "This new science," he says, "is far sounder and reliable than palmistry, phrenology or psychoanalysis. For instance, the lines that run parallel with the light-colored, half-moon area at the base of the nail can be taken as an almost certain guide to age. For a person of from 1 to 10 years of age, each line accounts for a year. From 10 to 20 the year lines begin to fade, but alternate lines remain distinct; therefore these distinct lines are rated at two years each. From 20 to 30 the lines represent three years each

About this time the lines begin to arrange themselves in groups of five, with the fifth line distinct. Thus from 30 to 50 years, the distinct lines count five years each. From the fiftieth year the distinct lines are worth ten years each.

A large big toe is a sure indication of a hasty and violent temperament.

Betty Davies, a London chorus girl, recently passed the Cambridge senior local examination after having studied in spare time between performances.

Because of many panics in theaters in England a movement to equip playhouses with first-aid outfits has been started.

William Dorset, after living at Epsom Downs, Eng., for eighty-one years without seeing a horse race, died at that place recently.

Women's Lives are relieved of a great hygienic handicap in this way. Positive protection—discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse

THERE is now a new way in woman's hygiene. A way scientific and exquisite that ends the uncertainty of old-time "sanitary pads."

It is called "KOTEX." Eight in every 10 better-class women have adopted it.

You wear sheer frocks and gowns without a second thought, any time, anywhere. You meet every day, every business or social demand unhandicapped.

Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

Five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads, it banishes danger of mishaps.

Deodorizes, too. And thus ends all fear of offending.

You obtain it at drug or department stores simply by saying "KOTEX," without hesitancy. Be sure to get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

PRIVATE HUSBANDS

PRIVATE HUSBANDS

Time was when maidens considered it something of a reproach if they could not commit matrimony. A husband was quite an essential asset in social standing soon after 20 or so.

But there have been one or two significant cases in the news lately. There was, for instance, the motion-picture "Baby Star," who had graduated into that class from the Follies. While she was with the Follies she was insured against falling in love and getting married, for quite a sizable sum. She was about 18 years of age then.

Now, alas, at the age of 20, she has just divorced her husband—and dissolved a marriage that no one suspected existed. It appears she married the fellow when she was 15 and was therefore actually a married lady when the Follies had her insured against any such catastrophe! And the dear child explains that she kept hubby dark because proclaiming him would have jeopardized her career.

A similar case was that of a famous girl comedian. This girl was always being reported engaged to some man and was always laughingly denying it. Now it transpires that she has been married for seven years—and to someone her friends had never met or heard about, although they have lived together all that time. She succeeded in "living her own life" and keeping hubby for strictly private interest to that amazing extent.

Another celebrated young woman I know has just condescended to commit matrimony on the strict understanding that the gentleman will not intrude into her affairs, either business or social, under any circumstances whatever. He is quite a nice chap with good business connections of his own, but she would keep him in pocket, if she apparently be a wife this position of husband without has accepted it.

These are but one dozens I know course. The have all their own. Perhaps I have consoles to course of my quently beg me husbands in the to be interested and of their

One "Miss" was a witness in trial. The again and again but the defense was giving evidence fact that she had divorced and was at the her third husband that she had not bonds so she did they matter of ways retained agreement with

And, of course, it is usual nowadays to Mr-and-Mrs" children at casionally the "Miss Second" is ing in private life."

Obviously, there be any number of are willing to husbands. Obviously has become more of unfortunates in seems all too It is all right was secretly married, claimed, served as for years. Perhaps for there—but I can't Butt so far, he is content about it.

AIR LINE MAKES SERVICE RECORD

Planes Fly 350,000 Miles Without Mishap

Operation of Express During 282 Days Unbroken

Business Backs Western Bid on Chicago Route

Pilots of Western Air Express, Inc., yesterday brought their unbroken performance record to a total of 350,000 miles of flying without mishap, which is said by company officials to be unequaled by any other aerial transport system in the world. In the 282 days of operation, the planes of this company have flown the 600-mile course between Los Angeles and Salt Lake City each way daily with only twice occasioning any delay in dispatch of the transcontinental air mail. Frequently, the local company has been able to make up several hours lost by the government planes east of Salt Lake City and put delayed air mail into Los Angeles on time.

This performance record of just a shade under 100 per cent has been maintained in weather which delayed and even stopped aerial operations in other sections, and has given Southern California an air-mail service on transcontinental dispatch superior to that enjoyed by any other American community, served either by contract carriers or by lines under Federal operation.

It is this phenomenal record, says a statement by the company, and the assurance that if given the opportunity, an identical system will be installed on the trunk line from Chicago to San Francisco that has attracted support of business interests throughout the nation to the local company's bid on that section of the government line. In the last week, leading financial and industrial interests have urged the Postmaster-General, who now has bids under advisement, to accept the Western Air Express proposal as that which will assure the West the best aerial-transport facilities available.

That acceptance of this bid will result in tremendous increase in the use of air-mail service through attraction of public confidence, is pointed out from the local experience. Since inception of the line April 17, last, per-capita use of air mail in Southern California has increased rapidly as the dependability of service has been demonstrated. In December, the per-capita use here was placed at thirteen pounds per 1000 population, whereas the next heaviest per-capita use in the nation was Dallas, Tex., with three pounds per 1000 population.

For the entire period of operation an aggregate of nearly 3,000,000 pieces of air mail weighing a total of more than 78,000 pounds have been flown over the Los Angeles-to-Salt Lake City airway. A total of 267 passengers have made the 600-mile flight and a small volume of local express has been flown. This has been accomplished without loss or damage to any cargo and without injury or inconvenience to a passenger.

The phenomenal volume of air mail produced by Southern California is said to have made possible the revision of air-mail postal rates effective February 1. On that date the present complicated per-ounce-zone system of computing air-mail postage will be discarded for a universal rate of 10 cents per half-ounce on all air-mail matter dispatched between points in the United States and Canada. This will materially increase the value of this service and will simplify its use, it is said.

HUNDREDS THRILLED IN PLANE TEST

Designer of New Craft Puts Machine Through All Tricks Known to Aviation

More than 300 invited guests witnessed the debut of the Brown monoplane when it made its first test flight yesterday afternoon at Burdett Airport. The pilot was Lawrence W. Brown, designer and builder of the plane, and one of the thrills given the spectators was when he demonstrated the nonstalling feature of the craft.

While traveling at high speed, he stood up in the cockpit with both arms extended at full length. Later, while several hundred feet above the earth, he pointed the nose of the plane straight downward with the motor wide open. Many in the crowd gasped, fully expecting to see him crash, but an audible sigh went up as he righted the plane just above their heads and again shot skyward.

The demonstration also included banking, rolling, volplaning and nearly every stunt known to airmen. Brown was given enthusiastic applause after he had made a beautiful landing.

PRAISE FOR COMMUNITY ADVERTISING

Greater Santa Monica Club Head Says Campaign is Paying Priceless Dividend

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
SANTA MONICA, Jan. 23.—Community advertising pays a well-nigh priceless dividend of good will, believes W. W. Bennett, president of the Greater Santa Monica Club. So remarkably well has the story of this region been told by the verbal and visual word that its advantages are known from coast to coast, he maintains.

W. W. BENNETT

"It has put Santa Monica in a class by itself," declared Bennett when asked if community advertising was worth while. "Such advertising has been based upon principles from which the region never deviates. This and its high quality and character have earned it outstanding fame. It is noncommercial, impersonal, unselfish. It is based upon the principle that the greatest good for the whole—acting as one—will also bring about the greatest good for each individual."

By aiming more toward the spiritual than the material, President Bennett declares Santa Monica advertising has proven its constructive character. "It is based upon the simple and well-known law that 'like begets like'—and has proved it by the high character of people and results that have come to Santa Monica," he continued.

"It has been pronounced by professional advertising people, by publishers and by laymen to be the highest type of advertising ever created. A prominent editorial writer has said, 'Without fulsomeness or gush, I want to compliment you on the high quality of your advertising copy. I realize how difficult it is to give a classic, dignified touch, without soaring too high. You keep your feet on the earth and dovetail the literary excellence of the vision part of your advertising into the practical material part.'

"If imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, then Santa Monica has been more highly and profusely flattered than all other cities in the West combined for many cities of importance in the Southwest have looked to Santa Monica as the example and attempted to follow or imitate."

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS IN JUBILEE

Banquet Opens Week of Festivities for Council's Silver Anniversary

More than 500 sons of the Shamrock attended the silver jubilee banquet and entertainment given by Los Angeles Council No. 621, Knights of Columbus, at the clubhouse last evening. The event marked the opening of a week's festivities which will commemorate the founding of the first council in Southern California twenty-five years ago. Thirty-[illegible] of the original charter members were present. Gerald F. H. Delamer is chairman of the committee.

"Old-timers' night will be observed Wednesday evening at the clubhouse when each of the charter members is expected to make a speech. The affair will be in the nature of a reunion and the celebration will close Saturday night with a grand ball. This is expected to be one of the notable events of the year in K. of C. circles.

The forma. program began at 8:30 a.m. yesterday with Thanksgiving mass at St. Vivina's Cathedral, following which a class of approximately 100 candidates was installed in the afternoon.

Among the officers attending are John J. Jones of San Jose, State deputy and chief ranking officer, and James J. Gorman of Seattle, director of relief work for the organization. When the local chapter was launched a quarter-century ago, Mr. Gorman occupied the position of national organizer and he has had an active part in its development to one of the largest councils in the State.

SPANISH GRANT RAIDERS LOSE

was, as we knew, hopeless in its inception." Register Smith declared.

"It is unfortunate that the laws of the American government permit every person the right to contest land titles under homestead entry for, as in this instance, the uninitiated are wont to relieve that a cloud exists against the title. As a matter of fact the Spanish-grant titles of California are as good as the very land in the city of Los Angeles for once it, too, was owned under title vested from the King of Spain.

"It is my opinion after years of observation that these raids are started for material gain to the instigators, all of whom are paid for legal services by gullible investors eager to obtain rich land near the heart of the community for a minimum expenditure of time and money."

Film Bureau Daily Places 710 for Jobs

The supply of motion-picture extras in Hollywood continues to exceed the demands of the motion-picture industry, and the rule of stopping their registration is still in effect, Fred W. Beetson, president of the Central Casting Corporation, said yesterday in connection with his first annual report. The report, Beetson says, shows the Central Casting Corporation to be the largest placement bureau in the world, doubling the work of the ten California State employment bureaus, combined.

The average of daily placements by the corporation, he said, is 710 and the average daily wage received by those placed is $8.46. On actual school days, an average of only twelve children is used by the entire picture industry, and all are under care of teachers furnished by the Board of Education and paid for by the producers, so that their schooling is not interfered with by their work.

CHAPLIN PLANS TO RETURN

New York Attorney Says He Will Start Back at End of Week Prepared to Fight Divorce Action

Charlie Chaplin will return to Los Angeles "at the end of this week" to fight the divorce action brought against him by Lita Grey Chaplin and demand the custody of the two Chaplin children, Attorney Nathan Burkan, announced in New York last night.

Attorney Burkan made the announcement as he departed from New York for Washington to make a direct appeal to the treasury Department for an early ruling on Chaplin's income-tax cases.

Chaplin's attorneys in Los Angeles announced they would today begin gathering legal forces to combat various restraining orders against his estate as result of his wife's divorce action.

Before departure for the Capitol, Attorney Burkan said Chaplin was rapidly recovering from his recent breakdown and, while "well on the mend," is feeling "splendid." The comedian is residing at his attorney's Fifth-avenue apartment.

LIVES WITH MOTHER

Meanwhile, in Los Angeles, Mrs. Chaplin was living at the home of her parents without the benefit of alimony awarded her by the court because of liens the government has instituted against the Chaplin estate for asserted nonpayment of taxes.

If Chaplin settles with the government or posts a bond, Mrs. Chaplin may then receive her alimony unless unforeseen court action intervenes, attorneys said.

"Mr. Chaplin is anxious to have the government cases settled, if possible, before he returns to California at the end of the week," Burkan said.

TRIO HELD IN PLOT TO ROB STORE

Rope, Guns, Plan of Place and Note Discovered on Suspects, Police Report

PASADENA, Jan. 23.—Declared by police to have plotted to hold up the manager of the Kress store at 254 East Colorado street, and obtain the Saturday night receipts, Glenn L. Chadman, 28 years of age, of Huntington Park; Russell Meadows, 22, of 485 East Twenty-ninth street, Los Angeles, and Thomas Womack, 21, of 619 1-2 East Twenty-ninth street, Los Angeles, were locked up today for investigation.

Officers declare Meadows and Womack have prison records and that they found in their possession a coil of rope, a cloth gag, a plan of the Kress store, a pistol and a note reading, "OK if hat off." The latter, according to the officers, is in Chadman's writing.

Chadman was working as a carpenter in the store making repairs and the two others are said to have been lurking near by and were picked up by Officer Stake. The police assert Chadman twice came out of the store with his hat off, looked around and went back in again, before they arrested him.

Canary Show Closes With Prize Awards

Awarding of fifty-three prizes brought to a close last night in the assembly room at the Alexandria, the third annual roller canary show and singing contest, which opened Friday under auspices of the United Roller Breeders of Los Angeles.

John Burrows of Culver City won the silver loving cup for the best bird in the show, and the cup for the best bird in the gold-band class was awarded to M. Louise Blakely of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Eastin of 855 South Ardmore avenue, won the KHJ perpetual cup, donated by The Times for the team of four young birds with 1926 closed bands, in addition to several other prizes.

Peter Greenall of Vancouver, B. C., judged the 200 entries and announced his awards during a short talk illustrated by warbling canaries.

WAMPAS TO GREET BEALL

An entertainment has been arranged for the Wampas meeting to be held in the honor of Harry Hammond Beall, prominent member of the organization, at the Writers' Club, this evening. The affair has been designated the "Ham Beall Homecoming" and will mark his return to the Wampas fold after an illness of six weeks.

CABLE PLANS COMPLETE

Plans have been completed for the installation of telephone cables on Vermont avenue from Clinton to Beverly Boulevard, according to officials of the Southern California Telephone Company. The cable will provide additional facilities for the PRospect exchange.

COYOTE CALLED MAN'S FRIEND

Hawks and Owls Likewise Defended by Teacher of Nature Study

Stating that the superstitions of farmers and fishermen have caused the destruction of many animals benedtial to mankind, Roland Case Ross, assistant supervisor of nature study in the Los Angeles City Schools, expressed regret that many wild animals are fast disappearing, when he spoke yesterday afternoon before an audience of 300 at the Pacific Southwest Museum on the topic "Vanishing Wild Life."

Mr. Ross cited the wholesale destruction of the coyote by hunters and the corresponding increase of jackrabbits, which do inestimable harm to crops, and the shooting of hawks and owls by farmers, who believe that these birds are habitual chicken killers, whereas they are actually important factors in keeping rodents under control.

Speedway Racer Seriously Hurt in Ascot Crash

Harry Jacques, 24-year-old Lankershim automobile racer, was seriously injured yesterday when, on the twenty-seventh lap of the scheduled fifty-mile race at Ascot Speedway, the steering knuckle on his Redlands Special snapped, sending the car crashing through the fence on the home-bound turn to the north of the grand stand. Jacques's machine turned a somersault, pitched him out of the driver's seat and fell on top of him.

He was taken to the General Hospital, where X-ray examinations were to be made to learn the extent of his injuries. Jacques was reported conscious.

Jacques and Francis Quinn, the latter in a Rajo Special, were racing for second place at the turn when the accident occurred.

War Veterans Reported Prey of Loan Sharks

Complaints that Los Angeles former service men have been induced to assign their government insurance policies to private loan sharks in return for the cancellation of a debt or the making of a small loan, have been reported to Asst. U. S. Atty. Peterson, he stated last night.

In several instances it was found that the veterans had been compelled to relinquish all rights to their insurance contracts by signing them over to their creditors. This procedure, Mr. Peterson said, is illegal. The policies that have been taken from the veterans in this manner will have to be returned.

The only way that a loan can be negotiated on a government insurance policy is through the banks named by the government to extend the loans, Mr. Peterson said.

Pair Complete Fifty Years of Life Together

Fifty years of married life have just been completed by Mr. and Mrs. William Lafayette Kimberly, former residents of Montana, now living at 702 North Coronado street.

Mr. Kimberly was born in 1845, in Iowa. He was a Civil War soldier. The Kimberlys were married on January 18, 1877, in Lafayette county, Missouri. Mrs. Kimberly was born in Missouri in 1845.

In 1910, Mr. and Mrs. Kimberly homesteaded on the Flathead Reservation in Western Montana near Missoula. Mr. Kimberly once served as a peace officer in Arizona. He was an intimate friend of Buffalo Bill.

Miss Sara Toll Passes Away at Glendale Home

Miss Sara Eliza Toll, 78 years of age, passed away at her residence in Glendale yesterday afternoon as the result of old age. Miss Toll came to California from Clinton, Iowa, her birthplace, in 1886 and had been a resident of Glendale for the last fifteen years. Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. from the chapel of Kiefer & Eyerick, 208 East Broadway, Glendale. Interment will be at Rosedale Cemetery.

Miss Toll leaves her brother, Charles H. Toll, vice-president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank of this city, and a niece, Grace L. Lainhart of Glendale.

MOTHER AND SON WILL BE BURIED SUNDAY

Double funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Wednesday for Mrs. Mary Marr, 64 years of age, and her son, John B. Marr, 34, who died Saturday at the family home, 1746 Sixty-seventh street within several hours of each other. Both had been ill but a short time from pneumonia. Two brothers and three sisters are left. The rites will be conducted at the Church of the Presentation.

WIDOWS HEAR ADDRESSES

Dr. Marion Tracy Whiting spoke on "Experiences with Folks" at the monthly social meeting of the Widows' Protective League, Branch Council, No. 10, at 246 South Hill street. Berenice Johnson spoke on current events.

CONCERT AT JUVENILE HALL

Faith Chevallier supervised an entertainment Friday night at Juvenile Hall. The principal feature was the orchestra from Belmont school. Miss Chevallier gave a talk.

WAMPAS TO SHOW STARS AS DANCERS

Members of 1927 Choice in Terpsichorean Feats at Frolic, February 17

Among the outstanding numbers programed for the sixth annual Wampas frolic and ball in the Ambassador Auditorium Thursday evening, February 17, is an act titled "Musical Moments from Movieland," staged and directed by Roy Randolph, of a dance studio in Santa Monica. Archie Wallace and his La Monica Ballroom Orchestra of ten pieces will furnish the musical setting for the presentation and Lew Cody will introduce the various persons taking part, a number of whom are Wampas Baby Stars for 1927, who have gained reputations as dancers.

MARY McALISTER

Frances Lee, baby star of 1927, and Billy Dooley, with whom she was on the Orpheum circuit before both quit the stage for comedy work with Christie, will present a dance specialty.

Martha Sleeper, Hal Roach's protege in this year's baby-star rank and one of the youngest girls in the list, will do a solo dance.

Sally Rand, a baby star of this year, together with Charlie Ray and Mary McAlister, the latter also in the baby-star list of 1927, will present a specialty.

Roy Randolph, frequently seen on the screen with Bonnie Dunn, his former Orpheum partner, will present "L'Amour de l'Apache," the Apache dance of love.

Joan Crawford, who asserts claim as the screen's champion "Black-Bottom" dancer, will give this dance as a part of the Randolph presentation. Clyde Cook and Olive Borden also will do specialties.

Owner Prizes Memento of Mad Empress

With the recent death in Belgium of Charlotte, "mad Empress" of Mexico, an ancient document is brought to light by Mrs. Ernest Chase of Beverly Hills, niece of the Countess Eugenia de Bertinatti, a close friend of the Empress and her ill-fated husband, Maximilian.

The document, dated at the palace in Mexico City May 19, 1876, confers on the Countess the cross of the Imperial Order of San Carlos. It bears the signatures of both Maximilian and Charlotte.

The Countess de Bertinatti before her marriage to the Italian Count Alberto de Bertinatti in Washington, D. C., was Mrs. Eugenia Bass. She died in Nashville, Tenn., December 10, 1908, and is buried in Washington, D. C., with three children of the first marriage.

During her travels she crossed the Atlantic Ocean fifty-two times and received from the Sultan of Turkey a diamond brooch for establishing a school in that country. She was awarded the Mexican Order of San Carlos for her educational activities in Mexico, Mrs. Chase said.

DEPARTMENT HEAD AT BROADWAY STORE DIES

Percy W. Jones, a department manager of the Broadway Department Store, passed away at his home, 5153 Highland View avenue, Eagle Rock, Saturday afternoon. The nature of the fatal illness was not determined. Mr. Jones was 41 years of age at the time of his death. He came to Los Angeles from his home in New York City twelve years ago and had lived in Eagle Rock for the past three and one-half years. Mr. Jones leaves his widow, Mrs. Edna Jean Jones, two daughters, Dorothy and Martha, and three sons, John, Frederick and Grant Jones, all of this city.

FUR RABBIT SHOW PLANS MATURING

Arrangements for enlisting three-fourths of the population of Compton in plans for the suburban city's third annual Industrial and Rabbit Fur Show, to be held there March 1 to 7, were disclosed yesterday by Hubert Allen, general chairman of the exposition committee, appointed by the Compton Chamber of Commerce. Virtually every grade and high-school student for miles around will be invited to participate in a parade to the exposition on the opening day, Allen said. More than 5000 persons, he believes, will be in the procession.

FUNERAL RITES FOR DR. SPANGLER TODAY

Funeral services for Dr. John S. Spangler, 73 years of age, pioneer Los Angeles veterinarian, who died early yesterday, will be conducted at 1 o'clock today at the Ruppe mortuary, 943 South Figueroa street. Dr. Spangler resided at 415 East Thirtieth street. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Kittie C. Downer, of Richmond, Cal., and two sons, John J. Spangler of Aurora, Ill., and John F. Spangler of Anaconda, Mont.

TWO MEN END LIVES

Police Assign Ill Health as Cause in Both Cases

Poor health was assigned by police as the motive for the self-destruction of two men yesterday.

Lawrence Heywood, 33 years of age, roomer in a hotel at 720 Ottawa street, hanged himself from a closet door, using clothing for a rope. He was dead when found.

Philip M. Diehl, 30, of 1151 West Fifty-first street, ended his life by turning on the gas.

Neither man left a note. Both bodies were taken to the morgue.

JUSTICE ADDRESSES MASONS

Ira F. Thompson, associate justice, District Court of Appeal, will be the speaker-guest of the Masonic Club at its luncheon Wednesday. His subject will be "Benjamin Franklin." Carl Piere and his Masonic Club orchestra will provide the musical program.

EX-ARMY MAN HELD FOR TRIAL

Veteran Officer Accused of Robbery

Charge Sequel of Party on Main Street

Complaint Says He Held Up Convivial Host

Marking one of the first cases of its kind to come before a preliminary-hearing division of the Municipal Court since its inception a year ago, Frank W. Warren, recently discharged sergeant-major, with a lengthy record of meritorious service in Honolulu, has been held to answer to the Superior Court by Municipal Judge Blake on a charge of larceny from the person.

Stripped of its legal phrasing, the technical charge against Warren is that once-common pastime of pre-Volstead days—"rolling a drunk." While no longer so prominent in legal circles, it still remains a felony.

Warren was arrested on the 16th inst. by Patrolman Moore, following his asserted robbing of Charles J. Regan, a musician, who the previous night had been host to Warren and several others at a party in a Main-street cafe, at which hard liquor, it was asserted, was poured in abundance and all checks paid by Regan.

Regan, who swore to the complaint against Warren, testified under questioning by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Russell that the party was broken up by Officer Moore when it became too noisy. On leaving the cafe, he said, in company with Warren, the later forced him into a near-by doorway and demanded his money.

Breaking away, Regan said, he made a dash for liberty, only to be bowled over from behind by Warren, who then forcibly took away $40 of the complaining witness's cash.

Eyewitness testimony of this occurrence was given by C. C. Miller, guest at the party, who said that he had followed the pair confident that Warren had designs on Regan's badly depleted bankroll.

Warren put up no defense, having made a purported confession to officers following his arrest.

Bail was set by Judge Blake in the sum of $2500.

Banker Wires He'll Attend Dollar Dinner

Herbert Fleishhacker, San Francisco banker, in a telegram to A. G. Arnoll, general manager of the Chamber of Commerce, states he will attend the dinner in honor of Capt. Robert Dollar and Dollar line officials, to be held in the Alexandria on the 31st inst.

The dinner will mark the inauguration of a direct Dollar service between Los Angeles and the Orient and will bring to a close "Foreign Trade" week. Previous to the meeting the President Lincoln will sail as the first ship in the new service.

D. F. McGarry, president of the Chamber; Arthur S. Bent, retiring president, and Capt. Dollar, will be the principal speakers at the affair. Guests of honor will include Mayor Cryer, the Board of Supervisors and Mr. Fleishhacker.

Miss Kelby's Engagement to Count Broken

The engagement of Miss Aulta Kelby, whose father is James E. Kelby, an attorney, and Count Pierre De Ramey, motion-picture actor, is off, it was learned yesterday at Miss Kelby's Beverly Hills home.

AULTA KELBY

"It was broken so long ago I've forgotten all about it," Miss Kelby said. The actor had a better memory. He said there was a difference of opinion between himself and Miss Kelby and that Miss Kelby sided with her mother.

The now-broken troth was plighted last June, four months after the couple's first meeting, and the wedding, it was then announced, was to take place this month. The Count is working at present for Paramount.

Burglars Fail in Raid on Home of Film Actor

Efforts of burglars to enter the Hollywood residence of Noah Beery, the actor, at 6421 Ivarine street, were frustrated last night by Mr. and Mrs. John Kunsell, the gardener and maid, who have been staying at the place during the absence of Beery.

Stthepping to the rear of the home where they heard footsteps, the couple frightened two men, who had been hiding on the porch. In response to a telephone call to Hollywood police headquarters, Officers Bain and Hays conducted a minute search of the premises, but were unable to discover any trace of the pair, other than footprints from tennis slippers in the garden. A side window had been jimmied open.

Police believe the men had learned of the departure of Beery to his ranch and sought to take advantage of his absence.

Art Commission in Protest at Store Canopies

The Municipal Art Commission has registered vigorous protests with the City Council and the Board of Building and Safety Commission against any legislation that would permit the construction of marquise or canopies on the fronts of buildings, including the show windows of retail stores.

The Art Commission asked that before any legislation of this kind is recommended that a public hearing be held to which the art commissioners be invited.
